Slight Progress Seen In Steel Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Slight progress was reported today in emergency White House steel negotiations, with President Johnson pushing the talks toward a critical phase.

A source in the negotiations said the steel industry had raised its money offer "a little," but that the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers Union refused to budge from its last demand.

The last publicly reported industry offer was a 40.6 cent hourly increase in wages and fringe benefits over three years. The last union demand was reportedly 49.8 cents.

Johnson has said both sides must make concessions to reach a settlement.

Union President I. W. Abel did not deny the reported industry offer to raise the ante in the multimillion dollar labor bargaining, but said: "If they have, they haven't told us about it."

The talks resume at 9:30 a.m. in the fourth day since Johnson called the negotiations here from Pittsburgh in an effort to avert a strike that would cripple about 80 per cent of the nations' steel production.

The White House appeared hoping for a major break in the talks well in advance of next Thursday's 12:01 a.m. strike deadline. Johnson won an eight-day strike postponement Monday night.

"Steel negotiations have entered the stage of hard and tough bargaining," said Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary.

There was no word on the amount the industry reportedly boosted its previous offer.

The approximately 450,000 basic steelworkers now earn $4.40 an hour in wages and fringe benefits.

The reported industry hike in its offer was in addition to another slight boost which sources said the 10 major steel companies had made before leaving Pittsburgh.

An informed source said the government estimated the two sides were 12 cents apart for a three-year contract when Johnson called the talks to the White House.

Each cent of added labor costs is estimated to total some $10 million a year.

Lawyer, 34, Newest 'Crisis Coordinator'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph A. Califano, 34, a lawyer from Brooklyn, is President Johnson's newest "crisis coordinator." He is acting as the key link between Johnson and negotiators trying to avert a nationwide steel strike.

Califano has been on Johnson's pay roll less than six weeks, as a special assistant at $28,500 a year. But already he has demonstrated that a relatively unknown young man can cut a lot of mustard when he speaks for the President.

On Monday, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor seemingly encountered firm resistance in trying to win an eight-day postponement of the strike threat.

Califano, already assigned by Johnson to act as the President's eyes and ears in the matter, stepped forward and impressed upon all parties the President's virtual insistence that bargaining continue. The threatened strike was postponed.

A quiet, unassuming man with close-cropped hair and an Ivy League look, Califano easily could get lost in any lunch hour crowd in downtown Washington.

Yet he has risen fast in the biggest crowd in town — the federal bureaucracy.

His current assignment keeps him well behind the scenes. That is where he always has operated since he got his first government job, at the Pentagon, in 1961.

Although a newcomer at the White House, Califano is no stranger in the upper echelons of government. He formerly was principal special assistant to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, a job he got when Adam Yarmolinsky left to help fashion the administration's antipoverty program.

B52s Bomb Suspected Red Position

Rattles Windows In Saigon, 20 Miles From Target Area

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Air Force B52 bombers attacked a suspected Viet Cong area today, a U.S. military spokesman said with a raid that rattled windows in downtown Saigon, 20 miles from the target.

The area hit was north-northwest of Saigon in the Ho Bo woods in Dinh Duong Province, the spokesman said.

The spokesman, under security restrictions, said only that "a number" of the Strategic Air Command bombers carried out the raid, the 17th reported B52 attack of the Viet Nam war.

The Guam-based B52s have stepped up their activity in recent weeks with indications this role will be further increased. B52s made their first double-header attack of the war Tuesday, hitting targets 30 miles north and 320 miles northeast of Saigon.

In other air activity, the second U.S. helicopter to crash in two days went down 260 miles northeast of Saigon, injuring the four American crewmen aboard.

Military authorities said the crash occurred near An Khe, which is on Route 19 between Qui Nhon and Pleiku. The four men were evacuated to a field hospital at Nha Trang. Two were reported in serious condition.

The craft went down in what is considered a secure area. The crash was believed due to mechanical failure.

Another U.S. helicopter, this one apparently under heavy Viet Cong fire, crashed Wednesday 25 miles northwest of Saigon, killing four Americans and one Vietnamese.

In ground action, Vietnamese troops clashed with a Viet Cong company 12 miles south of Quang Ngai city early today. A U.S. military spokesman in Saigon said U.S. air support had been called in to aid the government troops. There was no immediate report on casualties. Quang Ngai is 330 miles north of Saigon.

In another action 12 miles southeast of Quang Ngai, it was reported that three Viet Cong were killed and 15 suspected Viet Cong captured in a one-day operation Wednesday. U.S. advisers confirmed the three Viet Cong killed.

$75 Million Trimmed Off Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $3,285,000,000 foreign aid appropriation bill emerged today from the House Appropriations Committee with the smallest cut in the aid program's 18-year history.

The $75 million trimmed by the committee from the $3.36-billion program authorized by Congress only last week compared with the previous low of $198 million cut from the 1952 program. Last week's bill fixed the limit of new financing for the present fiscal year at a level of about $96 million below what President Johnson requested.

In addition to financing the foreign aid program, the money bill also would provide funds for several other activities, including the Peace Corps, boosting its over-all total to $4,001,453,000.

Betsy Threat To Florida's Coast Eases

Gradual Northward Swing Reported In Hurricane's Winds

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Betsy's winds built up to dangerous 125-mile-an-hour fury today but a gradual northward swing in its forward movement lessened the threat to heavily populated south Florida.

"We're not quite ready yet to take south Florida off the hook," said Gordon Dunn, chief storm forecaster in the Miami Weather Bureau, "but the threat certainly has decreased. The chance that it will affect this area is becoming rather remote."

But he cautioned that south Florida interests should continue to keep in touch with the hurricane advisories for another 24 hours.

Betsy was growing stronger by the hour as it whirled across the Atlantic.

The multimillion-dollar U.S. missile tracking station at Grand Turk Island, on the southern tip of the 750-mile Bahama chain, apparently was spared Betsy's punch.

Although personnel there were placed on alert, forecasters expected nothing worse than an occasional gale.

"Right now, Betsy's a threat to the entire Eastern coast of the United States," said forecaster Raymond Kraft of the Miami Weather Bureau. "But it'll take days before it'll do anything so we can know who to warn."

A new pressure system is pushing across the U.S. midsection and may stall Betsy again in 48 hours or so, Kraft said. "Or it might turn back to the west," he said.

Residents of the thinly populated southeastern Bahamas were warned to prepare for high swells and pounding surf as Bet-

Next Freeway Link Seen At Least 4 Years Away

New Highway Projects Discussed After St. Clair Ave. Ceremonies

Even under favorable circumstances, there will be a lapse of at least four years before construction of the next eastern extension of the Freeway from W. 3rd and Monroe Sts. to State St., city and state officials agreed in a conference here Wednesday afternoon after dedication of the $848,000 St. Clair Ave. improvement.

Earl R. Nelson, head of the Division 11 Highway Department office in New Philadelphia, said it might be possible to include the city project in the program for the 1970-71 biennium. City Engineer George S. Bloomgren said in an offhand estimate the job might total $3½ to $4 million, with a cost of $175,000 to the municipality for the engineering.

THE STATE, city and county officials and Chamber of Commerce representatives discussed area highway improvements for more than an hour after a 10-minute ceremony at City Hall in which the St. Clair Ave. improvement was dedicated.

Atty. Francis H. Lang, chairman of the Chamber highway committee, presided during the dedication. He introduced Nelson and Mayor George E. Willshaw, who spoke briefly to an audience of about 20. The ceremony was moved to City Hall from the St. Clair site because of yesterday's steady rain.

Lang said credit for the St. Clair Ave. improvement belongs to "city officials, present and past, the State Highway Department, county officials who found money to assist in case it was needed" and abutting property owners who signed a petition agreeing to share in the cost through special assessments.

Nelson pointed out that the project has not been accepted officially by the state. "But I talked with our project engineer and it appears that it is all right except for smoothing a few rough spots," he commented. He called the project "a big boon to East Liverpool."

Willshaw said completion of the project pleased present city officials as well as those in previous administrations who helped make it a reality.

IN A CONFERENCE which followed, most of the discussion centered on the eastward extension of the Freeway, which eventually will be built to the Ohio - Pennsylvania state line.

Nelson said the Highway Department's program already has been drafted for the five years ending June 30, 1969. But in 1966, department officials will meet to extend the program through 1970-71 and the city Freeway extension might be added at that time, he said.

Nelson said the first step in the project would be for the city to hire an engineering firm to update the report of the firm of Michael Baker, Inc., of Rochester, completed in 1945, which laid down the general line for the Freeway. When that job is complete, the next step would be for the city to hire a consultant to prepare detailed construction plans, he added.

The city could finance the engineering with its own funds or apply for a loan to the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency, he added. The city's share of such major projects is made up of 5 per cent of the cost, but the expense of the engineering would be deducted from the municipality's share, he said.

BLOOMGREN said local officials were assured by the Highway Department's Columbus office not long ago that the Freeway extension could be built earlier than now anticipated, providing the plans were ready.

But, he said, a year would be required to update the Baker report and two more years would be needed for preparation of detailed plans. Still another year would be required for acquisition of right-of-way, so the project is at least four years away under the best circumstances, he said.

Bloomgren commented that the next stage of the Freeway will be of prime benefit to local motorists because it will provide a quick link between the downtown area and East End.

Councilman Floyd Murray said he feels the entire remainder of the Freeway should be built in the next project, rather than agreeing to a long delay between the second segment and the third stretch—the link between State St. and the state line.

Bloomgren replied he feels the Baker report should be updated for the entire remainder of the project, rather than being limited to the second segment. In response to a query, Nelson said the state generally limits such projects to a range of about $4 million, but he added that if the entire re-

Beaver Youth Loses Life As Auto Wrecks

Paul Bennett Jr. Victim Of Mishap; Companion Injured

An 18-year-old Beaver youth was killed and a companion hospitalized as the result of a one-car accident Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. on Holt Rd., 10 miles south of Monaca.

Paul Vincent Bennett, Jr. of 725 Galey Rd., Beaver, was dead on arrival at Rochester General Hospital. He died of a broken neck and fractured skull, according to Dr. John Colavincenzo, Beaver County coroner.

A companion, Donald Pardue, 17, of Frankfort Rd., Aliquippa, was admitted with possible head injuries and abrasions of the right shoulder. He was listed "satisfactory" today.

The Chippewa Barracks of the Pennsylvania state police said Bennett was traveling east on Holt Rd. when he failed to negotiate a curve, lost control of his sports car hit an embankment and landed upside down on the south-bound lane.

5,744 Await School Bells In City Area

Full-Day Sessions Will Get Under Way Next Wednesday

An estimated 5,744 East Liverpool youngsters will return to public schools for full-day sessions Wednesday, with the possibility that the new term will be the final year for classes in seven elementary buildings scheduled to be abandoned when new consolidated buildings are opened in the East End and LaCroft areas.

The Board of Education has been striving to get construction started so that the new East End building, to be located on the same tract as East Junior High, and the LaCroft building on the former Dawson property will be ready for classes in September 1966.

HOWEVER, construction bids have been delayed until the State Department of Education gives final approval to plans for the new buildings. Since the legal notices must be published for a month, the earliest possible opening date will be in October, allowing only 11 months for completion.

The 25-classroom East End building will replace the Klondyke, Neville, Horace Mann and Garfield buildings, while the one-story LaCroft building with 23-classrooms will eliminate the Pleasant Heights, LaCroft and Glenmoor schools.

Plans for a new senior high school and a North Side elementary building also are being prepared as part of a $4.3 million building program approved last Sept. 15 by voters.

However, they are not expected to be ready for about two years.

If the anticipated enrollment holds up, it will be an increase of 105 students over the 5,639 actually enrolled at the end of last term, Supt. Paul H. Blair said.

MOST OF the increase will come in the already over-crowded high school, where attendance is estimated at 1,384, a gain of 72 over the 1,312 regis-

90 Units Due In Wellsville Event Friday

Ninety units are scheduled to participate in the Wellsville volunteer firemen and Jaycee parade Friday night.

Frank Fusco, parade chairman, said the units will move promptly at 7. They will form on Broadway at 3rd St. and move onto 3rd and then onto the main business district.

Fusco said 50 fire units from Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio are registered. There will be 30 contestants in the Miss Wellsville Jaycee contest riding in open convertibles.

Five organizations have entered floats and the East Liverpool Jaycees and Lisbon Jaycees will have clown units.

Also participating will be Civil Defense units from East Liverpool and St. Clair Township, along with horses and ponies. City officials will ride in convertibles.

For Joyous, But Brief Reunion With Families

Astronauts Fly Home To Houston

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 5 astronauts fly home to Houston, Tex., today for a joyous, but brief, reunion with their families.

L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. are scheduled to leave by plane at 1 p.m. (EDT) for the three-hour flight to Ellington Air Force Base, near Houston.

Their departure will end four days of intensive debriefings here on their record eight-day orbital journey.

Technical and medical experts have wrung everything possible out of the astronauts in general terms. At the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, other specialists will keep them in seclusion another week, probing various aspects of the mission in deeper detail.

But before being spirited away, the astronauts were to be reunited with their wives and children.

Trudy Cooper and the two teen-age Cooper daughters and Jane Conrad and the four rambunctious Conrad boys planned to be at Ellington to greet the astronauts.

The Coopers and Conrads will ride together in automobiles the few miles to the center, where the families will have some time to be alone.

A spokesman said their privacy "will be a matter of minutes, certainly not hours."

Officials originally said Cooper and Conrad would not be able to see their families until the 11-day isolation period ended. But the excellent physical condition of the pilots apparently prompted them to relent a bit.

After the initial meeting, however, Cooper and Conrad will not be able to see their wives for another week.

The seclusion was ordered so the astronauts could discuss the flight while details were still fresh in their minds and without outside interference. Officials said much valuable information was lost after the Gemini 4 flight because astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II were rushed too quickly into welcome-home celebrations.

Ninety units are scheduled to participate in the Wellsville volunteer firemen and Jaycee parade Friday night.

Frank Fusco, parade chairman, said the units will move promptly at 7. They will form on Broadway at 3rd St. and move onto 3rd and then onto the main business district.

Fusco said 50 fire units from Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio are registered. There will be 30 contestants in the Miss Wellsville Jaycee contest riding in open convertibles.

Five organizations have entered floats and the East Liverpool Jaycees and Lisbon Jaycees will have clown units.

Also participating will be Civil Defense units from East Liverpool and St. Clair Township, along with horses and ponies. City officials will ride in convertibles.

$75 Million Trimmed Off Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $3,285,000,000 foreign aid appropriation bill emerged today from the House Appropriations Committee with the smallest cut in the aid program's 18-year history.

The $75 million trimmed by the committee from the $3.36-billion program authorized by Congress only last week compared with the previous low of $198 million cut from the 1952 program. Last week's bill fixed the limit of new financing for the present fiscal year at a level of about $96 million below what President Johnson requested.

In addition to financing the foreign aid program, the money bill also would provide funds for several other activities, including the Peace Corps, boosting its over-all total to $4,001,453,000.

For Joyous, But Brief Reunion With Families

Astronauts Fly Home To Houston

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 5 astronauts fly home to Houston, Tex., today for a joyous, but brief, reunion with their families.

L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. are scheduled to leave by plane at 1 p.m. (EDT) for the three-hour flight to Ellington Air Force Base, near Houston.

Their departure will end four days of intensive debriefings here on their record eight-day orbital journey.

Technical and medical experts have wrung everything possible out of the astronauts in general terms. At the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, other specialists will keep them in seclusion another week, probing various aspects of the mission in deeper detail.

But before being spirited away, the astronauts were to be reunited with their wives and children.

Trudy Cooper and the two teen-age Cooper daughters and Jane Conrad and the four rambunctious Conrad boys planned to be at Ellington to greet the astronauts.

The Coopers and Conrads will ride together in automobiles the few miles to the center, where the families will have some time to be alone.

A spokesman said their privacy "will be a matter of minutes, certainly not hours."

Officials originally said Cooper and Conrad would not be able to see their families until the 11-day isolation period ended. But the excellent physical condition of the pilots apparently prompted them to relent a bit.

After the initial meeting, however, Cooper and Conrad will not be able to see their wives for another week.

The seclusion was ordered so the astronauts could discuss the flight while details were still fresh in their minds and without outside interference. Officials said much valuable information was lost after the Gemini 4 flight because astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II were rushed too quickly into welcome-home celebrations.

Land Owners Help Develop Water Areas

Hancock County land owners are taking an active interest in developing rural water sources, officials of the Northern Panhandle Soil Conservation District report.

They pointed to ponds constructed recently by the National Church Envelope Co. of Chester and Herman Hoover of Pughtown and surveys and designs made for Bobby Conkle, Charles Pugh and W. R. Fischer of Chester and John Porec of Swearingen Hill.

A pond was sealed with sodium tri-polyphosphate and clay by the National Church company. The pond has failed in past years to hold water and it is hoped that, with this treatment, a satisfactory pond may be maintained, conservation aides said.

Land owners recently becoming cooperators with the conservation district are David W. McMillin and W. R. Discher of Chester, Fred Larrimore of New Cumberland and Hudson Heirs of New Cumberland. By becoming district cooperators, the land owners have indicated an interest in establishing conservation on their land, it was explained.

Senior Citizens Set Up Plans On Trip To Canfield

The East Liverpool Senior Citizens met this afternoon in the St. Stephen's Parish Hall to discuss their trip Saturday to the Canfield Fair where they will take part in a convention with several other Senior Citizens groups from eastern Ohio.

An estimated 125 from the city are scheduled to make the trip, departing from the bus terminal at 11 a. m.

The East Liverpool group will be in charge of Saturday afternoon's program, which will include a "kitchen band," an all-men chorus and a mixed chorus that will present the play "School Daze."

Senior Citizens from Youngstown, Columbiana, Salem, Hubbard, Warren, Leetonia and Sebring will take part in the activities.

Jack Barrett, president, will be in charge of the East Liverpool delegation.

Former Ohio Official Is Drowning Victim

LUDINGTON, Mich. (AP) — James F. Merkel, 58, of Columbus, Ohio, former chief of the Ohio Securities Division drowned in Lake Michigan Wednesday when his 22-foot cabin cruiser capsized.

The Oceana County Sheriff's Department said Merkel and brother-in-law, Robert B. Jacoby, 59, of Washington, D.C., were on a trip from Ludington to Whitehall when a big wave upset the boat about a half mile from shore. Jacoby clung to the swamped boat until it drifted to shore.

Hose Purchase Made By Franklin Firemen

SUMMITVILLE — The Franklin Township Volunteer Firemen's trustees Wednesday night authorized purchase of 100 feet of high-pressure booster line hose to replace sections damaged during a grass fire earlier this year.

Parts for repair of a hose nozzle also were ordered. Bills totaling $18 were paid. Ralph Cox presided.

The trustees will meet again Oct. 6.

U.S. Fires Its 18th Underground A-Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission fired Wednesday its 18th announced underground nuclear test blast of the year at its Nevada testing grounds.

The explosion was described as low in yield, which means its force was equivalent to that of less than 20,000 tons of TNT.

4-H News

A health and safety article pertaining to fires was read by Marilyn Meyer during the meeting of the Highland Flingers 4-H Club this week at the home of Kay McKenzie of Highlandtown.

Business was conducted by Kay McKenzie, president. It was decided to hold meetings in the winter as well as in the summer. For devotions, Barbara Hogue read a story, "Cappy."

Lunch was served by Debbie Sando and Marilyn Meyer. The club toured Goddard's Bakery Wednesday afternoon.

Kendra Rose of Highlandtown will entertain at the Sept. 13 meeting. Sherry Wells and Carol Leatherberry will be on the lunch committee and Saundra Grodhaus will lead devotions.

Meets Foreign Crisis

Johnson's Big Problems

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — "We cannot expect to mash a button," President Johnson said soon after he took office, "and have our wishes carried out all over this globe."

Today Johnson could find use for a string of magic buttons which — presto — could wipe out foreign police problems which have risen up to plague him.

To name three: Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic, and United Nations finances. The last two, while still present, are not acute at the moment, but the question of Viet Nam has become more serious since he took office in November 1963.

Johnson came to the White House comparatively untested on foreign issues. On the other hand, he was a recognized master of domestic issues.

But the foreign picture has its brighter spots, too. To name three again:

— The Panama problem, which erupted with Canal Zone riote in January 1964 as Johnson's first full-blown foreign crisis, has receded into negotiations that show promise of curing two long-standing issues: Panama's discontent with the old Canal Zone treaty, and agreement on a new sealevel waterway.

— The former Belgian Congo, giant in the heart of Africa, has survived insurgency and African animosities with a strengthened pro-West regime at Leopoldville.

— Cyprus, threatening to ignite war between North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies Turkey and Greece a year ago, has calmed after extensive U.S. diplomacy in foreign chanceries and the United Nations.

To label any one of these cases as a success or failure entirely attributable to Johnson is to credit him with more power than he commands. As Johnson put it, "We are not the last word" — other forces are at work too, and every crisis has historical antecedents.

The final verdict is in the distant future on Johnson's foremost foreign affairs difficulty — the conflict with communism in Southeast Asia.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara returned from a July inspection trip to South Viet Nam saying the situation had deteriorated. Johnson had ordered the first sustained bombing of North Viet Nam begun in February and sent initial U.S. ground combat forces to South Viet Nam the following month. Now he has increased the U.S. military manpower commitment by 50,000, to 125,000.

Battle reports are producing moderate optimism on defeating the current Viet Cong summer offensive. Yet the Reds still show no sign of wanting to talk peace. Even if there should be clear military gains in the coming months, a long task would lie ahead in strengthening South Viet Nam to the point where it could stand without outside aid.

There persists the grave question of whether the Communist Chinese might move in bodily on the Viet Nam warfare.

In the Dominican chaos last April, Johnson averted what he portrayed as the threat of another Cuba by sending in more than 20,000 troops. Still, there was sharp criticism from many Latin Americans who protested what they called a return to the gunboat diplomacy which preceded the good neighbor policies of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The Organization of American States has been on the scene in the Dominican Republic now, with a force still largely American negotiating for an interim government.

Large-scale U.S. aid for years is in prospect after Dominican government finally is set up.

At the United Nations, Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg announced the administration's formal abandonment of the lengthy U.S. effort to force the Soviet Union and other delinquent members to pay their U.N. dues on peacekeeping operations.

This about-face from the position previously taken by the Johnson and Kennedy administrations indicates a new method of financing the world organization will have to be worked out. The United States has been by far the largest contributor.

The wide and often turbulent field of U.S.-Soviet relations generally has come under the cloud of Viet Nam. Keeping affairs with Moscow on an even keel is Washington's main effort now. U.S.-Soviet negotiators succeeded last year in agreeing on a consular treaty. No breakthrough on disarmament is in sight.

Some progress with Communist bloc countries is in increased trade, travel and relaxing tensions has been reported from Johnson's policy of building bridges to Eastern Europe. This is a slow but continuing process.

Stagnation marks U.S. relations with Western Europe. Johnson has hewed to American policy favoring European unity and closer transatlantic ties. A revival of talk about a multilateral nuclear force is expected after West Germany's elections this fall.

But French President Charles de Gaulle stands firmly athwart moves to integrate the European countries, and France remains in the heart of Europe.

The record is mixed elsewhere. The overthrow of Ahmed Ben Bella seems to have improved the U.S. view of Algiers. Relations with the United Arab Republic's Gamal Abdel Nasser are uneasy but not rock bottom. With Indonesia's Sukarno they are going sharply downhill. U.S. diplomats have found no way to stop the India-Pakistan strife.

In Latin America the Johnson administration has stepped up Alliance for Progress aid. The program still gets complaints from Latin Americans of bureaucratic strictures by Washington, and criticisms from some U.S. officials that the Latin Americans are foot-dragging on reforms.

An election in Chile and a military coup in Brazil last year went in the right direction from Washington's standpoint. Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba, under continued U.S. quarantine, is reported losing some of its charm for hemisphere leftwingers.

Roundtable Plans Are Set

Plans for this month's roundtable were outlined at a Cherokee District commissioner's staff meeting Wednesday night at the home of Wayne Wilson.

It will be held Sept. 10 at 7:30 p. m. at the Longs Run United Presbyterian Church in Calcutta.

Donald Lyle, scoutmaster, will be in charge of the scouters' session and mothers of Pack 36 will be in charge of the den mothers' program.

David O'Hanlon, commissioner, will conduct the Cubbers' session. Neighborhood commissioners will answer questions pertaining to unit problems.

It was announced that leaders seeking summer activities awards for their units must submit a letter to the Council office listing one or more outdoor activities for each summer month.

Units wishing to participate in the Scouter's parade Sept. 23 must contact the Council office by Sept. 14, listing the number of boys expected, O'Hanlon said.

Troop 34, which won first place at the camporee held in May in Wellsville, will lead the line of march and display the trophy it won.

The October roundtable will be held at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, with leaders of Troop and Pack 12 in charge of the sessions.

The next commissioners' staff meeting is scheduled Oct. 6 at 7:30 p. m. at the Council office.

Palestine Park Slates Labor Day Pool Show

EAST PALESTINE — The annual water show at the City Park Pool, marking the closing of the pool for the summer, will begin Monday night at 8:15, Baird Stewart, park director, announced.

The show will include contests, exhibits and a ballet by nine girls. Ribbons will be awarded for the pool events.

The park will be open from 1 to 8 p. m. Monday, he said. The other park facilities will remain in use as long as weather permits, he added.

Palestine Youth Heads County Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y

EAST PALESTINE — Gregg Mollenkopf of East Palestine was elected president of the Columbiana County Hi-Y and Tri-Y Council for 1966 during the annual training session at Camp Fitch near Lake Erie.

David Bevan of Columbiana was named vice president, Laura Sevenich of Leetonia secretary and Judith Anderson of East Palestine re-elected chaplain.

About 30 from East Palestine attended the event, which included 190 young people from Columbiana and Mahoning counties.

Plans were made for a model legislature, "Civic Day" and social events.

Youngstown Man, 46, To Seek Governor Bid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John Paul Powers, a Youngstown insurance man, has announced he will seek the Democratic nomination for governor in the May primary. He made his announcement here Wednesday after obtaining petitions from the Secretary of State's office.

Powers, 46, will be making his third bid for public office.

Hearings Conducted

One Weirton woman forfeited a $207 bond and another was fined in traffic hearings Wednesday by Justice of the Peace John D. Herron of New Cumberland.

Edith Mae Stehro, 24, of Weirton forfeited the bond when she failed to appear for a hearing on a reckless driving charge filed by Police Chief William Webster.

Nedra Jenkins, 23, also of Weirton, was fined $50 and costs on a hit - run charge filed by sheriff's deputies.

Larry J. Mostowski, 18, of New Cumberland was fined $20 and costs on a speeding charge

The wide and often turbulent field of U.S.-Soviet relations generally has come under the cloud of Viet Nam. Keeping affairs with Moscow on an even keel is Washington's main effort now. U.S.-Soviet negotiators succeeded last year in agreeing on a consular treaty. No breakthrough on disarmament is in sight.

Some progress with Communist bloc countries is in increased trade, travel and relaxing tensions has been reported from Johnson's policy of building bridges to Eastern Europe. This is a slow but continuing process.

Stagnation marks U.S. relations with Western Europe. Johnson has hewed to American policy favoring European unity and closer transatlantic ties. A revival of talk about a multilateral nuclear force is expected after West Germany's elections this fall.

But French President Charles de Gaulle stands firmly athwart moves to integrate the European countries, and France remains in the heart of Europe.

The record is mixed elsewhere. The overthrow of Ahmed Ben Bella seems to have improved the U.S. view of Algiers. Relations with the United Arab Republic's Gamal Abdel Nasser are uneasy but not rock bottom. With Indonesia's Sukarno they are going sharply downhill. U.S. diplomats have found no way to stop the India-Pakistan strife.

In Latin America the Johnson administration has stepped up Alliance for Progress aid. The program still gets complaints from Latin Americans of bureaucratic strictures by Washington, and criticisms from some U.S. officials that the Latin Americans are foot-dragging on reforms.

An election in Chile and a military coup in Brazil last year went in the right direction from Washington's standpoint. Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba, under continued U.S. quarantine, is reported losing some of its charm for hemisphere leftwingers.

Roundtable Plans Are Set

Plans for this month's roundtable were outlined at a Cherokee District commissioner's staff meeting Wednesday night at the home of Wayne Wilson.

It will be held Sept. 10 at 7:30 p. m. at the Longs Run United Presbyterian Church in Calcutta.

Donald Lyle, scoutmaster, will be in charge of the scouters' session and mothers of Pack 36 will be in charge of the den mothers' program.

David O'Hanlon, commissioner, will conduct the Cubbers' session. Neighborhood commissioners will answer questions pertaining to unit problems.

It was announced that leaders seeking summer activities awards for their units must submit a letter to the Council office listing one or more outdoor activities for each summer month.

Units wishing to participate in the Scouter's parade Sept. 23 must contact the Council office by Sept. 14, listing the number of boys expected, O'Hanlon said.

Troop 34, which won first place at the camporee held in May in Wellsville, will lead the line of march and display the trophy it won.

The October roundtable will be held at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, with leaders of Troop and Pack 12 in charge of the sessions.

The next commissioners' staff meeting is scheduled Oct. 6 at 7:30 p. m. at the Council office.

Palestine Park Slates Labor Day Pool Show

EAST PALESTINE — The annual water show at the City Park Pool, marking the closing of the pool for the summer, will begin Monday night at 8:15, Baird Stewart, park director, announced.

The show will include contests, exhibits and a ballet by nine girls. Ribbons will be awarded for the pool events.

The park will be open from 1 to 8 p. m. Monday, he said. The other park facilities will remain in use as long as weather permits, he added.

Palestine Youth Heads County Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y

EAST PALESTINE — Gregg Mollenkopf of East Palestine was elected president of the Columbiana County Hi-Y and Tri-Y Council for 1966 during the annual training session at Camp Fitch near Lake Erie.

David Bevan of Columbiana was named vice president, Laura Sevenich of Leetonia secretary and Judith Anderson of East Palestine re-elected chaplain.

About 30 from East Palestine attended the event, which included 190 young people from Columbiana and Mahoning counties.

Plans were made for a model legislature, "Civic Day" and social events.

Youngstown Man, 46, To Seek Governor Bid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John Paul Powers, a Youngstown insurance man, has announced he will seek the Democratic nomination for governor in the May primary. He made his announcement here Wednesday after obtaining petitions from the Secretary of State's office.

Powers, 46, will be making his third bid for public office.

Hearings Conducted

One Weirton woman forfeited a $207 bond and another was fined in traffic hearings Wednesday by Justice of the Peace John D. Herron of New Cumberland.

Edith Mae Stehro, 24, of Weirton forfeited the bond when she failed to appear for a hearing on a reckless driving charge filed by Police Chief William Webster.

Nedra Jenkins, 23, also of Weirton, was fined $50 and costs on a hit - run charge filed by sheriff's deputies.

Larry J. Mostowski, 18, of New Cumberland was fined $20 and costs on a speeding charge

Can Politicians Be Trusted?

We feel about political officeholders and government sometimes the way we feel about young people and their youth—

We wonder if they can be trusted with the responsibility.

Ohio legislators who kicked around the reapportionment issue this year, like the hatchet specialists who chopped it to pieces in the campaign that preceded its defeat in the May primary, have betrayed the trust of Ohio voters.

It is the constitutional responsibility of the Ohio General Assembly to apportion the state's legislative representation equitably and keep it that way.

Regardless of the question raised nationally about the U.S. Supreme Court's right to order both houses of state legislatures to be apportioned according to population, if and when the job is done in Ohio it should be done by lawmakers and ratified by voters.

Yet, because officeholders have a vested interest in hanging on to what they have, in letting sleeping dogs lie and not upsetting any of their own political applecarts, they are not to be trusted to carry out this responsibility of representative government.

In Ohio and every state that has tackled reapportionment, lawmakers have kicked it around like a political football, which is all it represents to lawmakers who put politics ahead of everything else. Not all of them do. But too many of them do.

So what happens?

It looks as if the federal judiciary will have to do what the legislators did not do because, as a group, they could not quit playing politics long enough to perform their constitutional duty.

This is why the U.S. Supreme Court felt called on to order legislative reapportionment in the first place—because many state legislatures have been manhandled by politicians to the point where they were a cynical mockery of representative democracy.

Ohio was not a prime example. The Ohio Senate was and is fairly apportioned. The Ohio House, as prescribed by the Hanna amendment, is out of proportion because of a constitutional provision.

It is not the scandalous misrepresentation contrived by politicians in states where no legal authority existed for misrepresentative government.

But now the Ohio legislature has betrayed the people's trust by hog-tying itself in partisan politics and depending on federal judges to cut it loose.

The plan devised by House Speaker Roger Cloud would have given Ohioans a chance to solve this problem at the polls in November. It was a fair and reasonable proposal.

Politics killed it.

That's why we doubt sometimes that officeholders can be trusted with government.

But who else is there to turn to when the chips are down?

Blow To Tradition

In a decision handed down by the Italian Supreme Court recently, that august body ruled that it's a crime — a "libidinous act" — to kiss the arm of a reluctant lady. The culprit in this case was identified only as D. M. who, court records show, "knelt before a woman and implored a kiss which was not granted, whereupon he kissed the woman's arm."

The news dispatch made no mention of the sentence imposed on the culprit but Italians who believe the only decent way to greet a lady is by kissing her hand fear for the future of the ancient tradition.

As a former cavalry officer remarked: "Things look bad. The connection between the arm and the hand is fairly obvious.

Four Years, No Strike

The punch in the Gulf-East Coast shipping strike settlement is its four-year no-strike guarantee.

The rest of the settlement is vague, dealing with issues peculiar to the shipping industry.

The industry cannot exist without federal subsidy.

The result is that a skeleton maritime industry is being maintained as a semi-official federal operation, for the sake of national security. Every concession wrung out of maritime management is a concession wrung out of the government.

Union bargaining has priced shipping in U.S. vessels out of international competition. This does not mean U.S. shipping should reduce its standards. It does mean U.S. shipping, in order to keep itself in operation, gives away jobs to foreign shipping with lower operating costs.

So who owns the foreign ships?

Many are owned by U.S. interests. The owners merely put up foreign flags.

Many foreign-owned ships, moreover, are subsidized by foreign governments, because foreign enterprise cannot afford to operate them even at low wages.

The only way the United States can hope to compete is through automation, the key issue in the 75-day strike that tied up shipping on the East Coast and the Gulf of Mexico.

The U.S. shipping industry now has a guarantee of four strike-free years to work out its problems—at public expense.

Cotton Corners

Dear Nephew: Thanks for letting us know you came home. Truth is, we hadn't missed you.

Isn't it a letdown when you've been away and someone you were sure would notice your absence reveals he never noticed it at all? We're only kidding. We missed you like an acute case of shingles.

But we will admit that when you called us to let us know you were home we thought you still had another week. We could have stood your absence that much longer.

To get serious, we have some good advice for you about being back at work. Don't think of it as work.

Make a game of it, like poker.

Try to think of how you would feel if you held a royal flush and everybody else was betting high on what you knew were inferior hands.

Persuade yourself that it isn't work but play and that the only reason you do it is because you wouldn't know what to do with your time if you weren't working.

Convince yourself that in actuality you are the heir to a great fortune and would not have to hold down a job if you didn't think of it as a challenge.

This is a dodge that worked wonders for me before my retirement. I used to drag myself out of bed each morning and say to myself as I stumbled around, more dead than alive, "I don't have to do this. I am the heir to a great fortune and could stay in bed. But I do this because I enjoy it."

When things went wrong during the day and so-and-sos were giving me a hard time, I would think, "Little do they know that they are giving the lip to the heir to a great fortune. I do not have to take their insults, but it makes me feel strong and superior to let them rant and rave while I keep control of myself, as befits the heir to a great fortune. Noblesse oblige — that's the idea. I forgive these dumb slobs because they know not what they do or to whom they are doing it to."

I always thought in involved sentence structures, you see. It was the way you would expect the heir to a great fortune to think.

Enough day-dreaming.

You're not the heir to anything.

You have piddled away more than you can spare of your meager cash resources and will be eating macaroni and cheese for months to come, to whittle down the deficit.

We are sure you must have seen things that popped your eyes and rattled your smugness. You came home in a state of shock at the size and beauty of a part of the world you never saw before.

But if you feel insignificant, insecure and unimportant, you are. This is one of the benefits of a vacation.

Welcome home, kiddo, and if you are less offensive than usual for the next month do not get rattled. Your aunt and I will understand. It has happened to better people than you. All it means is, you had a good time and learned things you never knew before.

Regards to your fellow traveler, if you will pardon the expression.

'No-See-Ums'

"No-see-ums" are almost invisible insects, but they make their presence felt—painfully.

The appropriately named pests are biting midges that swarm along the borders of ponds and streams in summertime. Some measure barely a millimeter long. Half a million of them would weigh just an ounce. Giant midges have a wingspan of only a tenth of an inch.

Though midges are small, their bites are ranked among the most painful that insects can inflict on man. A red disk appears around a midge bite, followed by swelling and sometimes a large, clear blister. Scratching makes the blister difficult to heal.

Some species attack in huge swarms. Children often have to be treated for secondary infections brought on by midge bites.

Midges can make life miserable in the northern United States, Canada, parts of Panama and tropical areas of Latin America, the National Georgraphic Society says.

1984 In New York

That police computer that put an electronic pinch on a New York housewife charged with ignoring a traffic ticket shows promise of being the biggest boon to law enforcement since radar began flagging down speeders.

It's geared now for tracking down stolen cars and cars of persons who, like the housewife, become minor-league fugitives from justice by refusing to acknowledge traffic violation tickets. But the potential is virtually unlimited and soon all criminals may find that Big Brother is watching their every move.

It may be 1965 in the rest of the world, but author George Orwell probably would agree that 1984 is dawning in New York.

Hardly A Contact Sport!

Reds Develop Own 'Job Corps'

By Victor Riesel

Nothing on the outside of the shabby, soot-darkened gray building — or in its dingy, barren interior — at 23 W. 26 st., New York City, insinuates that it had a paymaster who can quite easily put his hands on tens of thousands of dollars in cold cash.

Victor Riesel

But it does have a paymaster. This is the national headquarters of the Communist party U.S.A., and in the last 10 weeks he has been providing more than $7,500 in cash weekly to a series of youthful cadres in 11 major cities.

They total some 80 young people. Their assignment—after two weeks of rigid, secret training — has been to disperse, set up special employment clubs and operate under a slogan of "One man, One job."

Now in its final summertime stage, it was a prize project for a party still sensitive over the scolding by Moscow mentors who upbraided the American Communists for aging too fast and developing their youth cadres too slowly.

LIKE ALL dialectic gymnastics, this project had two objectives — major and minor. First, money was made available so the American Communist party could revitalize its operations by recruiting and training new youthful leaders. The second is to set up bases from which to infiltrate school systems, municipal social services, big industrial plants and defense factories — inside all of which the party could begin ultra-sonic "agit-prop" work. This stands for agitation propaganda — meaning an attempt to develop the mind set of millions of workers in the hope that disruptive demonstrations could be launched and slow-downs encouraged in the tense "war" months to come.

Orders for the 1965 Communist party project came down early this year. Swiftly between 75 and 80 young men and women — two of them from Puerto Rico — were recruited, processed and screened to make certain that disruptive Maoists did not infiltrate.

Then they were flown from the island, from the West coast and from the Southern and Midwest cities to points near New Jersey. Then, by car and bus to Camp Midvale, N.J. There they were isolated for two weeks while they got the line from Mikhail Suslov, member of the Soviet praesidium — but not in person, of course.

IN PERSON, there was Hyman Lumer, one of 50 men and women charged by the Subversive Activities Control Board with being dominated by Moscow. After the fortnight, Lumer, who is the Communists' national education director, told a friend that the assembly of these young people from all over the country had created a feeling of strength and power and greater respect for the Communist party.

The mere fact, explained Lumer, that such a group of promising students had been brought together under one roof for two weeks last June "refutes" those who are prone to consider the Communist party in the U.S. as an aging group with little or no future.

After the training session the youths were dispersed to the 11 cities the Communists consider most strategically located for propaganda and infiltration action.

THE FIRST CADRES sped to Detroit and Chicago. Then to Philadelphia and Richmond, Va. Some stayed in New York. Others flew to St. Louis, Portland, Ore. Others drove to Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Boston.

There they set up actual club houses under full time hosts and hostesses or rented small apartments.

Where they could find a store front or cellar club room, they provided coffee, doughnuts, sandwiches, female companionship with or without chaperones, and free dances.

But club house or not, they did well by their pre-summer Communist instructors who had included Gus Hall, an old hand at organizing in the steel areas. They sought out job openings. They found unemployed youth and directed some of them to the shops. They linked their slogan of "One Man, One Job" to "Jobs, Peace and Equality."

NOW THE CADRES are winding up their summertime project. But they are leaving behind the framework of an organization among the industrial youth —especially in Mid-West cities.

From their summer school training at the New Jersey camp, they carried to the 11 cities fresh ideas and organization techniques to revive the local Communist units in old, established areas. The youngsters "sparked up" the older party people whose turbulent days are 30 to 40 years behind them.

All this took large sums of money. But this was not lacking. At least $100,000 in cold cash was supplied. Where did it come from? Some folks thought that Moscow gold had gone out of style.

Is it unreasonable to ask that the Communists explain the source of their funds? The rest of the citizenry has to report. Or are we second-class citizens unequal with the Communists under the law?

More Federal Control

By David Lawrence

Union Funds In Elections Discussed

The federal government is moving more and more into the control of wage settlements as well as price-making in America. This intervention has hitherto been confined by law only to wartime, but it is becoming apparent that restrictive policies may have to be applied even in peacetime. This is, to some extent, being done informally at present and without the sanction of law.

David Lawrence

Though labor union leaders may give the impression outwardly that they are concerned about this, they probably will not worry much about it privately. For the labor unions really control the administration in power as well as a majority in both houses of Congress. They have built up their political strength to a point where they can swing presidential as well as congressional elections, and they have contributed directly or indirectly many millions of dollars for this purpose.

That's why labor unions don't have any fear when the administration intervenes to bring about wage settlements, either when a strike is threatened or when one goes on for 75 days, as did the Maritime Union stoppage. They can hold out to the very last day of negotiation, or even call a strike, knowing full well that in the national interest the administration in Washington must take some steps to end the emergency.

IN NEARLY every dispute which has gone to the final state and in which government "mediation" or intervention has become necessary, the settlement has turned out better for the labor unions than the proposals they previously had rejected. So it becomes profitable for the unions to force the issue to the critical stage, where the government must intervene.

The labor union influence in government is then sufficient to get a last-minute "compromise" which isn't a "compromise" at all but a forced settlement that the managements have to accept.

There used to be talk of guidelines to regulate the amount of the wage or price increases, and it was asserted that some kind of economic formula of equitable proportions was being applied.

Labor unions scorn these guidelines or disregard them. When the management side tries to raise prices, however, so as to absorb the cost of the increased wages, the federal government steps in to threaten antitrust suits.

AS LONG as the employers collaborate to agree on fixing wage levels, they seem to be immune from prosecution. Once they use the same yardstick to fix higher prices, they find themselves being threatened or investigated or coerced by the antitrust prosecutors.

If the federal government does have to intervene to settle labor disputes, it would be much fairer if judges of high rank were designated either to arbitrate the differences or to set forth on their own initiative the terms that each side should accept but to allow persons from the political branches of government to act as mediators merely accentuates the political influence and enables the labor unions to reap the benefits of their political alliances and heavy campaign contributions.

THE PRESENT Congress has been lax in looking at the activities of labor unions which have been furnishing funds to outside organizations. If compulsory unionization is to become the law in all states, then workers will have to pay dues whether or not they like what is done with their money.

Sen. Paul Fannin of Arizona wants to include in the proposed bill to invalidate state right to work laws an amendment which would make sure that the workers' dues could not be used for political purposes. Mr. Fannin points out that the records of the Auto Workers Union, for instance, during the last four years show expenditures of "millions of dollars for political activities" and "financial support for many organizations which by no stretch of the imagination have anything to do with wages, hours and working conditions."

Contributions were made to such groups as the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Americans for Democratic Action, United World Federalists, National Council of Churches, and other groups.

THE ARIZONA SENATOR said that, while some of these may be worthy causes, individual union members should not be compelled to supply funds for the support of church groups or racial groups or any other movement which they do not wish to support.

The biggest single unexposed irregularity in America today is the use of union funds to help win elections for certain candidates. There are laws forbidding such contributions on the part of unions or corporations, but somehow, under a political administration, there is a reluctance to bite the hand that feeds it.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Miss Myra Pomeroy of Pughtown disposed of her stock of merchandise and sold her store building to the Fairview Grange for use as a hall and general meeting place.

The East End Catholic Club was reorganized after a discontinuance of three years, with Frank Duffy named president.

William L. Mautz of Michigan Ave. was named a delegate from the Boyce Methodist Episcopal Church to the annual Northeast Ohio Conference at Lakeside.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — A Glenmoor man suffered severe body burns when his clothing was ignited by a backfire as he worked on the motor of his brother's car.

About 1,580 children enrolled in the Wellsville public schools.

Installation of new brass name plates was completed at the Midland honor roll, which contained 1,047 names of service personnel.

TEN YEARS AGO — Construction was speeded on the new County Jail at Lisbon. The $230,184 project was scheduled for completion about Oct. 31.

They were "racing" 10 years ago, too, with two Chester youths given $100 suspended fines for speeding on Florida Ave. at a hearing before Mayor George Scott.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

This is written to the cowardly driver who hit and killed our beagle dog the other morning and sped off without stopping.

It takes a man to admit his mistakes. Cowards always hit and run.

Mike never harmed anyone. He was a friendly, lovable pet.

But the thought that keeps haunting me and turns my blood to ice is this: If Mike had been a little child, would you have stopped or left it lay in its own lifeblood? Dogs and children are so unpredictable. It's up to the drivers of the murderers on wheels to have their cars under control so that an emergency can be met.

Anyone who is so careless or so inhuman as to drive like they were the only ones on the road should have to bury one of their shattered victims and care for their graves the rest of their lives.

The slaughter on the highways today is the result of too many emotionally unstable people being handed a license to slaughter and do it inside the law.

My husband has had so many close calls caused by the unbelievable stupidity of other drivers that I am almost afraid to be on the road. If he was not a very careful driver, our number would have been up long ago.

So, Mr. Coward, the next time you see a small dog remember it could very well be a child whose blood you leave in the highway.

So what happens?

It looks as if the federal judiciary will have to do what the legislators did not do because, as a group, they could not quit playing politics long enough to perform their constitutional duty.

This is why the U.S. Supreme Court felt called on to order legislative reapportionment in the first place—because many state legislatures have been manhandled by politicians to the point where they were a cynical mockery of representative democracy.

Ohio was not a prime example. The Ohio Senate was and is fairly apportioned. The Ohio House, as prescribed by the Hanna amendment, is out of proportion because of a constitutional provision.

It is not the scandalous misrepresentation contrived by politicians in states where no legal authority existed for misrepresentative government.

But now the Ohio legislature has betrayed the people's trust by hog-tying itself in partisan politics and depending on federal judges to cut it loose.

The plan devised by House Speaker Roger Cloud would have given Ohioans a chance to solve this problem at the polls in November. It was a fair and reasonable proposal.

Politics killed it.

That's why we doubt sometimes that officeholders can be trusted with government.

But who else is there to turn to when the chips are down?

Blow To Tradition

In a decision handed down by the Italian Supreme Court recently, that august body ruled that it's a crime — a "libidinous act" — to kiss the arm of a reluctant lady. The culprit in this case was identified only as D. M. who, court records show, "knelt before a woman and implored a kiss which was not granted, whereupon he kissed the woman's arm."

The news dispatch made no mention of the sentence imposed on the culprit but Italians who believe the only decent way to greet a lady is by kissing her hand fear for the future of the ancient tradition.

As a former cavalry officer remarked: "Things look bad. The connection between the arm and the hand is fairly obvious.

Four Years, No Strike

The punch in the Gulf-East Coast shipping strike settlement is its four-year no-strike guarantee.

The rest of the settlement is vague, dealing with issues peculiar to the shipping industry.

The industry cannot exist without federal subsidy.

The result is that a skeleton maritime industry is being maintained as a semi-official federal operation, for the sake of national security. Every concession wrung out of maritime management is a concession wrung out of the government.

Union bargaining has priced shipping in U.S. vessels out of international competition. This does not mean U.S. shipping should reduce its standards. It does mean U.S. shipping, in order to keep itself in operation, gives away jobs to foreign shipping with lower operating costs.

So who owns the foreign ships?

Many are owned by U.S. interests. The owners merely put up foreign flags.

Many foreign-owned ships, moreover, are subsidized by foreign governments, because foreign enterprise cannot afford to operate them even at low wages.

The only way the United States can hope to compete is through automation, the key issue in the 75-day strike that tied up shipping on the East Coast and the Gulf of Mexico.

The U.S. shipping industry now has a guarantee of four strike-free years to work out its problems—at public expense.

Cotton Corners

Dear Nephew: Thanks for letting us know you came home. Truth is, we hadn't missed you.

Isn't it a letdown when you've been away and someone you were sure would notice your absence reveals he never noticed it at all? We're only kidding. We missed you like an acute case of shingles.

But we will admit that when you called us to let us know you were home we thought you still had another week. We could have stood your absence that much longer.

To get serious, we have some good advice for you about being back at work. Don't think of it as work.

Make a game of it, like poker.

Try to think of how you would feel if you held a royal flush and everybody else was betting high on what you knew were inferior hands.

Persuade yourself that it isn't work but play and that the only reason you do it is because you wouldn't know what to do with your time if you weren't working.

Convince yourself that in actuality you are the heir to a great fortune and would not have to hold down a job if you didn't think of it as a challenge.

This is a dodge that worked wonders for me before my retirement. I used to drag myself out of bed each morning and say to myself as I stumbled around, more dead than alive, "I don't have to do this. I am the heir to a great fortune and could stay in bed. But I do this because I enjoy it."

When things went wrong during the day and so-and-sos were giving me a hard time, I would think, "Little do they know that they are giving the lip to the heir to a great fortune. I do not have to take their insults, but it makes me feel strong and superior to let them rant and rave while I keep control of myself, as befits the heir to a great fortune. Noblesse oblige — that's the idea. I forgive these dumb slobs because they know not what they do or to whom they are doing it to."

I always thought in involved sentence structures, you see. It was the way you would expect the heir to a great fortune to think.

Enough day-dreaming.

You're not the heir to anything.

You have piddled away more than you can spare of your meager cash resources and will be eating macaroni and cheese for months to come, to whittle down the deficit.

We are sure you must have seen things that popped your eyes and rattled your smugness. You came home in a state of shock at the size and beauty of a part of the world you never saw before.

But if you feel insignificant, insecure and unimportant, you are. This is one of the benefits of a vacation.

Welcome home, kiddo, and if you are less offensive than usual for the next month do not get rattled. Your aunt and I will understand. It has happened to better people than you. All it means is, you had a good time and learned things you never knew before.

Regards to your fellow traveler, if you will pardon the expression.

'No-See-Ums'

"No-see-ums" are almost invisible insects, but they make their presence felt—painfully.

The appropriately named pests are biting midges that swarm along the borders of ponds and streams in summertime. Some measure barely a millimeter long. Half a million of them would weigh just an ounce. Giant midges have a wingspan of only a tenth of an inch.

Though midges are small, their bites are ranked among the most painful that insects can inflict on man. A red disk appears around a midge bite, followed by swelling and sometimes a large, clear blister. Scratching makes the blister difficult to heal.

Some species attack in huge swarms. Children often have to be treated for secondary infections brought on by midge bites.

Midges can make life miserable in the northern United States, Canada, parts of Panama and tropical areas of Latin America, the National Georgraphic Society says.

1984 In New York

That police computer that put an electronic pinch on a New York housewife charged with ignoring a traffic ticket shows promise of being the biggest boon to law enforcement since radar began flagging down speeders.

It's geared now for tracking down stolen cars and cars of persons who, like the housewife, become minor-league fugitives from justice by refusing to acknowledge traffic violation tickets. But the potential is virtually unlimited and soon all criminals may find that Big Brother is watching their every move.

It may be 1965 in the rest of the world, but author George Orwell probably would agree that 1984 is dawning in New York.

Reds Develop Own 'Job Corps'

By Victor Riesel

Nothing on the outside of the shabby, soot-darkened gray building — or in its dingy, barren interior — at 23 W. 26 st., New York City, insinuates that it had a paymaster who can quite easily put his hands on tens of thousands of dollars in cold cash.

Victor Riesel

But it does have a paymaster. This is the national headquarters of the Communist party U.S.A., and in the last 10 weeks he has been providing more than $7,500 in cash weekly to a series of youthful cadres in 11 major cities.

They total some 80 young people. Their assignment—after two weeks of rigid, secret training — has been to disperse, set up special employment clubs and operate under a slogan of "One man, One job."

Now in its final summertime stage, it was a prize project for a party still sensitive over the scolding by Moscow mentors who upbraided the American Communists for aging too fast and developing their youth cadres too slowly.

LIKE ALL dialectic gymnastics, this project had two objectives — major and minor. First, money was made available so the American Communist party could revitalize its operations by recruiting and training new youthful leaders. The second is to set up bases from which to infiltrate school systems, municipal social services, big industrial plants and defense factories — inside all of which the party could begin ultra-sonic "agit-prop" work. This stands for agitation propaganda — meaning an attempt to develop the mind set of millions of workers in the hope that disruptive demonstrations could be launched and slow-downs encouraged in the tense "war" months to come.

Orders for the 1965 Communist party project came down early this year. Swiftly between 75 and 80 young men and women — two of them from Puerto Rico — were recruited, processed and screened to make certain that disruptive Maoists did not infiltrate.

Then they were flown from the island, from the West coast and from the Southern and Midwest cities to points near New Jersey. Then, by car and bus to Camp Midvale, N.J. There they were isolated for two weeks while they got the line from Mikhail Suslov, member of the Soviet praesidium — but not in person, of course.

IN PERSON, there was Hyman Lumer, one of 50 men and women charged by the Subversive Activities Control Board with being dominated by Moscow. After the fortnight, Lumer, who is the Communists' national education director, told a friend that the assembly of these young people from all over the country had created a feeling of strength and power and greater respect for the Communist party.

The mere fact, explained Lumer, that such a group of promising students had been brought together under one roof for two weeks last June "refutes" those who are prone to consider the Communist party in the U.S. as an aging group with little or no future.

After the training session the youths were dispersed to the 11 cities the Communists consider most strategically located for propaganda and infiltration action.

THE FIRST CADRES sped to Detroit and Chicago. Then to Philadelphia and Richmond, Va. Some stayed in New York. Others flew to St. Louis, Portland, Ore. Others drove to Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Boston.

There they set up actual club houses under full time hosts and hostesses or rented small apartments.

Where they could find a store front or cellar club room, they provided coffee, doughnuts, sandwiches, female companionship with or without chaperones, and free dances.

But club house or not, they did well by their pre-summer Communist instructors who had included Gus Hall, an old hand at organizing in the steel areas. They sought out job openings. They found unemployed youth and directed some of them to the shops. They linked their slogan of "One Man, One Job" to "Jobs, Peace and Equality."

NOW THE CADRES are winding up their summertime project. But they are leaving behind the framework of an organization among the industrial youth —especially in Mid-West cities.

From their summer school training at the New Jersey camp, they carried to the 11 cities fresh ideas and organization techniques to revive the local Communist units in old, established areas. The youngsters "sparked up" the older party people whose turbulent days are 30 to 40 years behind them.

All this took large sums of money. But this was not lacking. At least $100,000 in cold cash was supplied. Where did it come from? Some folks thought that Moscow gold had gone out of style.

Is it unreasonable to ask that the Communists explain the source of their funds? The rest of the citizenry has to report. Or are we second-class citizens unequal with the Communists under the law?

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Ginger Rogers has been named in two civil suits seeking more than $64,000. The suits were filed by a lawyer and a public relations man in connection with fees and expenses for a proposed film operation in Jamaica, West Indies.

Named with Miss Rogers were her husband, G. William Marshall, and the William Marshall Productions of Jamaica Ltd.

Lawyer Edward A. Martin of Princeton, N.J., sought $49,000 he claimed was owed for legal services. David M. Polland of Washington, a public relations man, asked $15,036.

Union Funds In Elections Discussed

The federal government is moving more and more into the control of wage settlements as well as price-making in America. This intervention has hitherto been confined by law only to wartime, but it is becoming apparent that restrictive policies may have to be applied even in peacetime. This is, to some extent, being done informally at present and without the sanction of law.

David Lawrence

Though labor union leaders may give the impression outwardly that they are concerned about this, they probably will not worry much about it privately. For the labor unions really control the administration in power as well as a majority in both houses of Congress. They have built up their political strength to a point where they can swing presidential as well as congressional elections, and they have contributed directly or indirectly many millions of dollars for this purpose.

That's why labor unions don't have any fear when the administration intervenes to bring about wage settlements, either when a strike is threatened or when one goes on for 75 days, as did the Maritime Union stoppage. They can hold out to the very last day of negotiation, or even call a strike, knowing full well that in the national interest the administration in Washington must take some steps to end the emergency.

IN NEARLY every dispute which has gone to the final state and in which government "mediation" or intervention has become necessary, the settlement has turned out better for the labor unions than the proposals they previously had rejected. So it becomes profitable for the unions to force the issue to the critical stage, where the government must intervene.

The labor union influence in government is then sufficient to get a last-minute "compromise" which isn't a "compromise" at all but a forced settlement that the managements have to accept.

There used to be talk of guidelines to regulate the amount of the wage or price increases, and it was asserted that some kind of economic formula of equitable proportions was being applied.

Labor unions scorn these guidelines or disregard them. When the management side tries to raise prices, however, so as to absorb the cost of the increased wages, the federal government steps in to threaten antitrust suits.

AS LONG as the employers collaborate to agree on fixing wage levels, they seem to be immune from prosecution. Once they use the same yardstick to fix higher prices, they find themselves being threatened or investigated or coerced by the antitrust prosecutors.

If the federal government does have to intervene to settle labor disputes, it would be much fairer if judges of high rank were designated either to arbitrate the differences or to set forth on their own initiative the terms that each side should accept but to allow persons from the political branches of government to act as mediators merely accentuates the political influence and enables the labor unions to reap the benefits of their political alliances and heavy campaign contributions.

THE PRESENT Congress has been lax in looking at the activities of labor unions which have been furnishing funds to outside organizations. If compulsory unionization is to become the law in all states, then workers will have to pay dues whether or not they like what is done with their money.

Sen. Paul Fannin of Arizona wants to include in the proposed bill to invalidate state right to work laws an amendment which would make sure that the workers' dues could not be used for political purposes. Mr. Fannin points out that the records of the Auto Workers Union, for instance, during the last four years show expenditures of "millions of dollars for political activities" and "financial support for many organizations which by no stretch of the imagination have anything to do with wages, hours and working conditions."

Contributions were made to such groups as the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Americans for Democratic Action, United World Federalists, National Council of Churches, and other groups.

THE ARIZONA SENATOR said that, while some of these may be worthy causes, individual union members should not be compelled to supply funds for the support of church groups or racial groups or any other movement which they do not wish to support.

The biggest single unexposed irregularity in America today is the use of union funds to help win elections for certain candidates. There are laws forbidding such contributions on the part of unions or corporations, but somehow, under a political administration, there is a reluctance to bite the hand that feeds it.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Miss Myra Pomeroy of Pughtown disposed of her stock of merchandise and sold her store building to the Fairview Grange for use as a hall and general meeting place.

The East End Catholic Club was reorganized after a discontinuance of three years, with Frank Duffy named president.

William L. Mautz of Michigan Ave. was named a delegate from the Boyce Methodist Episcopal Church to the annual Northeast Ohio Conference at Lakeside.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — A Glenmoor man suffered severe body burns when his clothing was ignited by a backfire as he worked on the motor of his brother's car.

About 1,580 children enrolled in the Wellsville public schools.

Installation of new brass name plates was completed at the Midland honor roll, which contained 1,047 names of service personnel.

TEN YEARS AGO — Construction was speeded on the new County Jail at Lisbon. The $230,184 project was scheduled for completion about Oct. 31.

They were "racing" 10 years ago, too, with two Chester youths given $100 suspended fines for speeding on Florida Ave. at a hearing before Mayor George Scott.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

This is written to the cowardly driver who hit and killed our beagle dog the other morning and sped off without stopping.

It takes a man to admit his mistakes. Cowards always hit and run.

Mike never harmed anyone. He was a friendly, lovable pet.

But the thought that keeps haunting me and turns my blood to ice is this: If Mike had been a little child, would you have stopped or left it lay in its own lifeblood? Dogs and children are so unpredictable. It's up to the drivers of the murderers on wheels to have their cars under control so that an emergency can be met.

Anyone who is so careless or so inhuman as to drive like they were the only ones on the road should have to bury one of their shattered victims and care for their graves the rest of their lives.

The slaughter on the highways today is the result of too many emotionally unstable people being handed a license to slaughter and do it inside the law.

My husband has had so many close calls caused by the unbelievable stupidity of other drivers that I am almost afraid to be on the road. If he was not a very careful driver, our number would have been up long ago.

So, Mr. Coward, the next time you see a small dog remember it could very well be a child whose blood you leave in the highway.

Nelson and Bloomgren estimated a survey to update the Baker report would cost about $22,000 if it covered only the second segment. Updating the report on the entire balance of the project might cost $35,000, they estimated.

—:—

NELSON ALSO discussed proposed resurfacing of State Route 267 (Lisbon St.) from W. 8th St. to the city limits. He noted that Council has approved consent legislation for the state improvement. He said the next step will be for the city to authorize an engineer to draw plans.

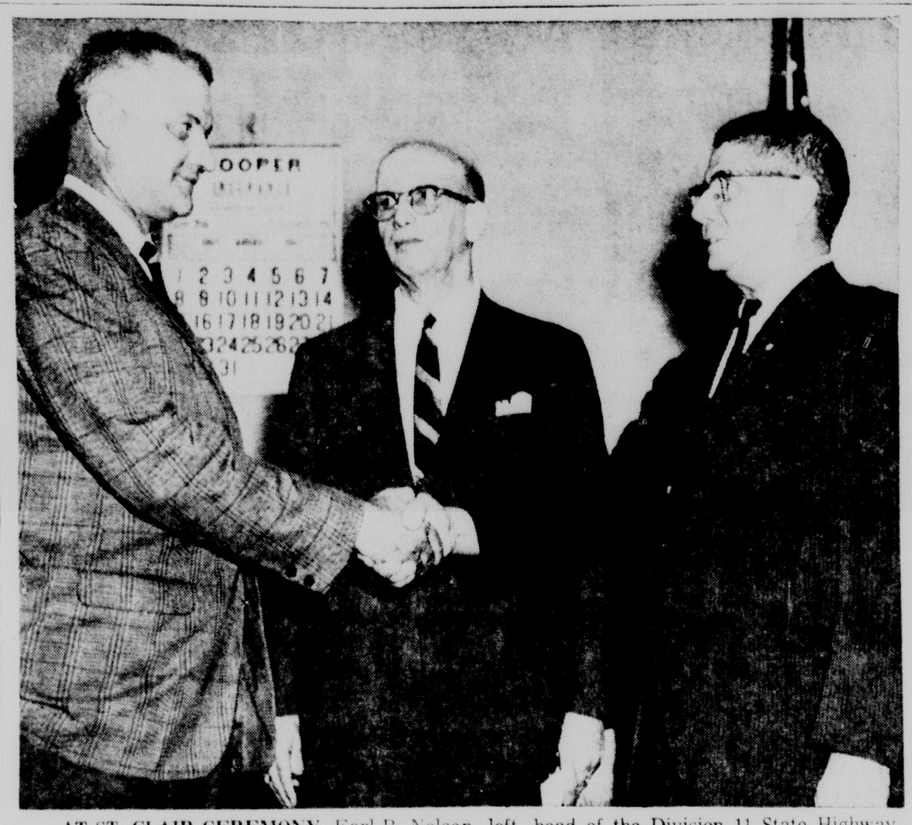
Discussing the W. 9th St. auto-pedestrian ramp to tie together the dead-end sections of W. 9th St., he said plans already are being prepared. A New Philadelphia engineering firm is drawing the plans under contract with the city.

Nelson noted that the Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of East Liverpool and Martins Ferry submitted the low bid Tuesday on resurfacing of Pennsylvania Ave., Elizabeth St. and Harvey Ave. The project is linked with others in Jefferson and Columbiana Counties. Nelson said Tri-State expects to begin work "in a week or so," but he said he does not know if the East Liverpool phase of the work will be undertaken first.

There also was discussion of the need to resurface St. Clair Ave. from the end of the three-lane pavement to Calcutta and also into the downtown area, but no decision was reached.

Asked about a four - lane highway bypass around Wellsville as part of the general rebuilding of Route 7 along the Ohio River, Nelson said it is on the program for 1967-68 at an estimated cost of $4½ million. He said a consultant is preparing plans.

Other officials who attended the dedication were: County Commissioners James Boyd and Frank Wilson, Councilmen James Cunningham and Donald Smith, Solicitor Joseph Cooper, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, Auditor Lawrence Zollinger and Richard Mattern of the St. Clair Township Improvement Association.



AT ST. CLAIR CEREMONY. Earl R. Nelson, left, head of the Division 11 State Highway Department office in New Philadelphia, was greeted with a handshake by Mayor George E. Willshaw during a ceremony Wednesday afternoon at City Hall dedicating the $848,000 St. Clair Ave. project. Looking on is Atty. Francis H. Lang, chairman of the highway committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which helped arrange the program in cooperation with city officials.

Schools

tered at the end of the last term.

The high school enrollment is expected to show 447 sophomores, 473 juniors and 464 seniors. At the end of the last term, the enrollment was 466 sophomores, 438 juniors and 408 seniors.

The two junior high schools are expected to show a net increase of 24, with a total enrollment of 1,342 against 1,318 last year.

Westgate Junior High anticipates an enrollment of 987, a gain of 48 over the 939 actually enrolled last year, while East Junior High attendance is expected to drop to 355 from the 379 registered in the last term.

Only nine more elementary students are anticipated when classes resume than were registered last year. The estimated enrollment is 2,984 against 2,975 enrolled at the end of the 1964-65 term.

HERE'S A breakdown by elementary buildings showing the estimated attendance and the actual enrollment last year in parentheses:

Garfield 247 (250); Glenmoor 183 (283); Horace Mann 303 (299); Klondyke 101 (99); LaCroft 232 (233); Lincoln 309 (304); McKinley 228 (234); Neville 148 (155); Pleasant Heights 178 (169); Taft 210 (219), and Westgate elementary 745 (730).

In addition, there will be 17 special education students at Garfield and 17 more at Westgate, the same number that were enrolled at the end of the last term.

If a second biology teacher can be obtained for the high school, the schools again will have 233 certificated people, the same number as last year. In addition, there will be approximately 50 non-certificated employes, including secretaries, custodians, bus drivers and cafeteria workers.

The biology vacancy was created by the last-minute resignation of Kenneth Myers, who accepted a position in the Flint (Mich.) schools.

Twenty - two new teachers have been employed this year in contrast to 38 new instructors last year. The chief reason for the smaller turnover, Supt. Blair said, is that there was a complete change in varsity coaching staffs a year ago.

ALTHOUGH classes do not begin until Wednesday, teachers will report Tuesday to begin their year. A general teachers' meeting will be held at 9:45 a.m. Tuesday in Westgate auditorium, after which Asst. Supt. Hargraves will meet with each department, such as all first-grade teachers, all history teachers, etc.

The principals of each school will meet with their respective faculties at 11:15 a. m. at Westgate and the teachers will report to their respective buildings at 2 p.m.

Preceding the general meeting, principals will meet with Blair and Hargraves at 9 a.m. in the Westgate library during the time when the East Liverpool Teachers Association and the Chamber of Commerce's education committee headed by C. V. Hughes will co-sponsor a coffee hour for all instructors. The coffee hour will be from 8:30 to 9:30 a. m. in the Westgate cafeteria.

All school employes will receive increases this year as the result of the Ohio legislature's action in approving additional funds under the state foundation program.

All certificated personnel are expected to receive $200 above their present schedules with varying increases for non-certificated employes.

How and when the money will be distributed still hasn't been determined, the superintendent said, explaining he still is awaiting notice from state education officials.

—:—

THERE IS also a possibility for two other salary boosts for school employes.

The Board of Education will submit a 3.5-mill levy at the Nov. 2 general election to provide funds for salary increases for all school employes. The amounts of the boosts haven't been determined.

The ELTA pressed the board for salary increases, declaring it would make the district more competitive with other school districts in Ohio and surrounding states.

Voters also will be asked to approve a state amendment at the same time, increasing the state sales tax from 3 to 4 cents on the dollar to provide additional funds for education. Turned down by the legislature in its attempts to have the proposition placed on the ballot, the Ohio Council for Education obtained sufficient signatures on an initial petition to place the proposition on the ballot.

No major changes have been made in the curriculum. Hargraves said, with the exception of the new mathematics program being extended to the fifth grades. The new math first was introduced in the first grade in 1961-62 and has been advanced a grade a year.

Twelve new texts have been adopted and later editions of some of the present textbooks will be used, the assistant superintendent said.

The new texts include fourth- and sixth-grade English, literature for juniors and seniors enrolled in the college prep program; Algebra II for juniors; the new math texts in the fifth grade; junior high shop; sociology, civics, bookkeeping I and II, and home economics in eighth grade.

Plans now are being made for an all-day visual education workshop for city teachers on Oct. 16, Hargraves said.

Officers Cite Man In Crash On 2 Charges

A 30-year-old East Liverpool man was cited on two charges after a collision that damaged his pickup truck and a Wellsville man's auto late Wednesday afternoon on the Pennsylvania Ave. Hill Rd., police reported.

Edward L. Bishop, 255 Drain St., was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and operating a motor vehicle at a speed too great for existing road and weather conditions.

Police said the pickup truck hit the rear of a 1959 sedan driven by Clarence R. Allmon, 37, of 728 Main St., Wellsville. Both were westbound. The crash was timed at 4:54 p. m.

Patrolman Paul C. Blevins investigated. Allmon told the officer he was traveling west about 35 miles an hour when he slowed for traffic ahead, then his car was hit from the rear. Bishop said the auto came to almost a complete halt and he was unable to stop in time.

There was damage to the rear bumper, gravel pan and backup lights of Allmon's car and the left headlight, bumper and grill of the truck, owned by East Liverpool Central Service, Inc., of W. 7th St.

Pleading guilty to the drunken driving charge today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, Bishop was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to five days in City Jail and his operator's permit suspended for 90 days.

Queried by the court, Bishop said he did not think he was under the influence of alcohol at the time of the crash, although he conceded he had consumed a bottle of beer with his lunch.

Father of six, Bishop also was fined $15 and costs on the speeding charge.

Two hit - skip collisions also were reported Wednesday.

Jack C. Pitts, 39, of Wellsville R. D. 1 told officers his westbound 1965 two - door sedan was struck by an eastbound vehicle Wednesday at 10:30 p.m. on Pennsylvania Ave. at Boyce St. He gave officers a partial description of the other auto. Pitts said the left side of his car was damaged.

Carter Tucker, 2260 Harvey Ave., reported his 1960 model truck was struck by a hit-skip vehicle sometime after midnight Wednesday while parked on Harvey Ave. The collision damaged the left rear corner of the truck bed and a tail light, he said.

The sport of tennis was introduced into the U. S. in the 1870's by a citizen who had seen the game played in Bermuda by some British officers. For quite some time it was considered a "game for girls," mostly because of the use of the word "love" as one of the scoring points.

The popular name of the insecticide "DDT" is an abbreviation of "Dichlorodiphenyl - trichloroethane." Although this important product was discovered as early as the 1870's, it was not used in practical form until 1949 when, as a dusting powder, it saved the Swiss potato crop from destruction by the Colorado beetle.

Nelson and Bloomgren estimated a survey to update the Baker report would cost about $22,000 if it covered only the second segment. Updating the report on the entire balance of the project might cost $35,000, they estimated.

NELSON ALSO discussed proposed resurfacing of State Route 267 (Lisbon St.) from W. 8th St. to the city limits. He noted that Council has approved consent legislation for the state improvement. He said the next step will be for the city to authorize an engineer to draw plans.

Discussing the W. 9th St. auto-pedestrian ramp to tie together the dead-end sections of W. 9th St., he said plans already are being prepared. A New Philadelphia engineering firm is drawing the plans under contract with the city.

Nelson noted that the Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of East Liverpool and Martins Ferry submitted the low bid Tuesday on resurfacing of Pennsylvania Ave., Elizabeth St. and Harvey Ave. The project is linked with others in Jefferson and Columbiana Counties. Nelson said Tri-State expects to begin work "in a week or so," but he said he does not know if the East Liverpool phase of the work will be undertaken first.

There also was discussion of the need to resurface St. Clair Ave. from the end of the three-lane pavement to Calcutta and also into the downtown area, but no decision was reached.

Asked about a four - lane highway bypass around Wellsville as part of the general rebuilding of Route 7 along the Ohio River, Nelson said it is on the program for 1967-68 at an estimated cost of $4½ million. He said a consultant is preparing plans.

Other officials who attended the dedication were: County Commissioners James Boyd and Frank Wilson, Councilmen James Cunningham and Donald Smith, Solicitor Joseph Cooper, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, Auditor Lawrence Zollinger and Richard Mattern of the St. Clair Township Improvement Association.

AT ST. CLAIR CEREMONY. Earl R. Nelson, left, head of the Division 11 State Highway Department office in New Philadelphia, was greeted with a handshake by Mayor George E. Willshaw during a ceremony Wednesday afternoon at City Hall dedicating the $848,000 St. Clair Ave. project. Looking on is Atty. Francis H. Lang, chairman of the highway committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which helped arrange the program in cooperation with city officials.

Schools

tered at the end of the last term.

The high school enrollment is expected to show 447 sophomores, 473 juniors and 464 seniors. At the end of the last term, the enrollment was 466 sophomores, 438 juniors and 408 seniors.

The two junior high schools are expected to show a net increase of 24, with a total enrollment of 1,342 against 1,318 last year.

Westgate Junior High anticipates an enrollment of 987, a gain of 48 over the 939 actually enrolled last year, while East Junior High attendance is expected to drop to 355 from the 379 registered in the last term.

Only nine more elementary students are anticipated when classes resume than were registered last year. The estimated enrollment is 2,984 against 2,975 enrolled at the end of the 1964-65 term.

HERE'S A breakdown by elementary buildings showing the estimated attendance and the actual enrollment last year in parentheses:

Garfield 247 (250); Glenmoor 183 (283); Horace Mann 303 (299); Klondyke 101 (99); LaCroft 232 (233); Lincoln 309 (304); McKinley 228 (234); Neville 148 (155); Pleasant Heights 178 (169); Taft 210 (219), and Westgate elementary 745 (730).

In addition, there will be 17 special education students at Garfield and 17 more at Westgate, the same number that were enrolled at the end of the last term.

If a second biology teacher can be obtained for the high school, the schools again will have 233 certificated people, the same number as last year. In addition, there will be approximately 50 non-certificated employes, including secretaries, custodians, bus drivers and cafeteria workers.

The biology vacancy was created by the last-minute resignation of Kenneth Myers, who accepted a position in the Flint (Mich.) schools.

Twenty - two new teachers have been employed this year in contrast to 38 new instructors last year. The chief reason for the smaller turnover, Supt. Blair said, is that there was a complete change in varsity coaching staffs a year ago.

ALTHOUGH classes do not begin until Wednesday, teachers will report Tuesday to begin their year. A general teachers' meeting will be held at 9:45 a.m. Tuesday in Westgate auditorium, after which Asst. Supt. Hargraves will meet with each department, such as all first-grade teachers, all history teachers, etc.

The principals of each school will meet with their respective faculties at 11:15 a. m. at Westgate and the teachers will report to their respective buildings at 2 p.m.

Preceding the general meeting, principals will meet with Blair and Hargraves at 9 a.m. in the Westgate library during the time when the East Liverpool Teachers Association and the Chamber of Commerce's education committee headed by C. V. Hughes will co-sponsor a coffee hour for all instructors. The coffee hour will be from 8:30 to 9:30 a. m. in the Westgate cafeteria.

All school employes will receive increases this year as the result of the Ohio legislature's action in approving additional funds under the state foundation program.

All certificated personnel are expected to receive $200 above their present schedules with varying increases for non-certificated employes.

How and when the money will be distributed still hasn't been determined, the superintendent said, explaining he still is awaiting notice from state education officials.

—:—

THERE IS also a possibility for two other salary boosts for school employes.

The Board of Education will submit a 3.5-mill levy at the Nov. 2 general election to provide funds for salary increases for all school employes. The amounts of the boosts haven't been determined.

The ELTA pressed the board for salary increases, declaring it would make the district more competitive with other school districts in Ohio and surrounding states.

Voters also will be asked to approve a state amendment at the same time, increasing the state sales tax from 3 to 4 cents on the dollar to provide additional funds for education. Turned down by the legislature in its attempts to have the proposition placed on the ballot, the Ohio Council for Education obtained sufficient signatures on an initial petition to place the proposition on the ballot.

No major changes have been made in the curriculum. Hargraves said, with the exception of the new mathematics program being extended to the fifth grades. The new math first was introduced in the first grade in 1961-62 and has been advanced a grade a year.

Twelve new texts have been adopted and later editions of some of the present textbooks will be used, the assistant superintendent said.

The new texts include fourth- and sixth-grade English, literature for juniors and seniors enrolled in the college prep program; Algebra II for juniors; the new math texts in the fifth grade; junior high shop; sociology, civics, bookkeeping I and II, and home economics in eighth grade.

Plans now are being made for an all-day visual education workshop for city teachers on Oct. 16, Hargraves said.

Officers Cite Man In Crash On 2 Charges

A 30-year-old East Liverpool man was cited on two charges after a collision that damaged his pickup truck and a Wellsville man's auto late Wednesday afternoon on the Pennsylvania Ave. Hill Rd., police reported.

Edward L. Bishop, 255 Drain St., was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and operating a motor vehicle at a speed too great for existing road and weather conditions.

Police said the pickup truck hit the rear of a 1959 sedan driven by Clarence R. Allmon, 37, of 728 Main St., Wellsville. Both were westbound. The crash was timed at 4:54 p. m.

Patrolman Paul C. Blevins investigated. Allmon told the officer he was traveling west about 35 miles an hour when he slowed for traffic ahead, then his car was hit from the rear. Bishop said the auto came to almost a complete halt and he was unable to stop in time.

There was damage to the rear bumper, gravel pan and backup lights of Allmon's car and the left headlight, bumper and grill of the truck, owned by East Liverpool Central Service, Inc., of W. 7th St.

Pleading guilty to the drunken driving charge today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, Bishop was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to five days in City Jail and his operator's permit suspended for 90 days.

Queried by the court, Bishop said he did not think he was under the influence of alcohol at the time of the crash, although he conceded he had consumed a bottle of beer with his lunch.

Father of six, Bishop also was fined $15 and costs on the speeding charge.

Two hit - skip collisions also were reported Wednesday.

Jack C. Pitts, 39, of Wellsville R. D. 1 told officers his westbound 1965 two - door sedan was struck by an eastbound vehicle Wednesday at 10:30 p.m. on Pennsylvania Ave. at Boyce St. He gave officers a partial description of the other auto. Pitts said the left side of his car was damaged.

Carter Tucker, 2260 Harvey Ave., reported his 1960 model truck was struck by a hit-skip vehicle sometime after midnight Wednesday while parked on Harvey Ave. The collision damaged the left rear corner of the truck bed and a tail light, he said.

The sport of tennis was introduced into the U. S. in the 1870's by a citizen who had seen the game played in Bermuda by some British officers. For quite some time it was considered a "game for girls," mostly because of the use of the word "love" as one of the scoring points.

The popular name of the insecticide "DDT" is an abbreviation of "Dichlorodiphenyl - trichloroethane." Although this important product was discovered as early as the 1870's, it was not used in practical form until 1949 when, as a dusting powder, it saved the Swiss potato crop from destruction by the Colorado beetle.

Ohio Power Sets Major Expansion At Beverly Plant

COLUMBUS, Ohio — A major expansion that will increase by 70 per cent the generating capacity of Ohio Power Co.'s Muskingum River plant at Beverly was announced jointly today by Gov. James A. Rhodes and A. N. Prentice of Canton, vice president and general manager of Ohio Power.

Construction of the 615,000 - kilowatt steam-electric generating unit will begin immediately, with completion scheduled for late 1968. The plant's present capacity is 880,000 kilwatts.

TOTAL COST of the project is expected to be $108 million. This includes expansion of the plant and its adjacent Muskingum mine and the construction of related transmission facilities.

The expansion will raise Muskingum River's generating capacity to 1,495,000 kilowatts and make it not only the largest power station in Ohio but also the largest on the seven - state American Electric Power System, of which Ohio Power is a part. It also will boost the total capability of the AEP System past the 10 - million - kilowatt mark, making it the first investor-owned utility system in the world to surpass this milestone.

In New York, Donald C. Cook, president of Ohio Power and its parent American Electric Power Co., disclosed that the Muskingum River expansion is the first of four major power developments that the AEP System plans to undertake in the coming months. The others will be located in other states.

THE FOUR projects plus their related transmission facilities will represent an estimated investment of almost $370 million and provide close to 2.3 million kilowatts of new capacity. All are scheduled for operation during the period 1968-70.

Cook noted that the $370 million does not include additional hundreds of millions being spent by the AEP System on construction work already under way. He included in this category the $125-million Cardinal plant at Brilliant, Ohio—a joint project of Ohio Power and Buckeye Power, Inc.

Gov. Rhodes congratulated Ohio Power for its expansion program.

"This $108 million investment is a wonderful expression of confidence in Ohio's future," he said. "Obviously, electric power facilities are among the very important factors in industrial growth and plant location. Ohio Power's new facilities add measurably to our efforts to bring industry and jobs to Ohio."

PRENTICE provided some of the details of the Muskingum River plant expansion, including the disclosure of an unusual arrangement of the site for the new unit.

It will be built in Washington County approximately 3 10ths of a mile from the existing four-unit plant which is in adjacent Morgan County. The entire site lies in a bend of the river for which the power station was named.

He also revealed that the new Unit 5, unlike the present generating units, will utilize a giant natural-draft cooling tower to provide the huge volume of cool water needed for steam condensing purposes.

The tower — unique in Ohio and one of the three largest in the United States — will stand 370 feet high, be of hyperbolic design and have a cooling capacity of 220,000 gallons of water per minute. The tower will be 395 feet in diameter at its base, taper to a minimum diameter of 160 feet, then flare out to 180 feet across the top.

The new unit alone will cost an estimated $71 million. It will be similar in design to two units of the same size now under construction at the aforementioned Cardinal plant.

School Bus Inspection Scheduled In County

Inspection of school buses throughout Columbiana County will be launched Sept. 20 by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Patrolmen R. D. Delagrange and J. W. VanHorne will conduct the bus checks, Sgt. R. J. Rizzo, post commander, said today.

Both officers recently attended a course of instruction held by the patrol and the Ohio Department of Education at Warren district headquarters.

Schedules were worked out by Sgt. Rizzo and County School Supt. James McBride.

Sgt. Rizzo said the officers, as part of the patrol's program to enforce the standards of equipment and operation of school buses, will be checking 32 safety items, including brakes, steering, wiring, exhaust, frames, emergency exits, tires, lights and seats.

If buses pass inspection, a certificate is affixed to the bus. If not, repairs are ordered or the bus is removed from service.

School bus drivers also will be checked. They are required to present their special operator's license and the annual physical reports.

An addition to the list this year is a bus for the Retarded School at Elkton. It will be inspected Sept. 29 at 1 p. m. in Lisbon Stadium.

Southern Local buses will launch the schedule with inspection at 8 a.m. Sept. 20 at Southern Local High School.

Other inspection dates and places follow:

Sept. 21, United Local, 8 a.m., United High School.

Sept. 22 and 23, Beaver Local, 8 a.m., Beaver bus garage.

Sept. 24, East Liverpool Public, 8 a.m.; East Liverpool parochial, 1 p.m.; East Liverpool board, 1 p.m.; Wellsville public, 1 p.m., and Wellsville parochial, 1 p.m.; all at Snyder's bus garage.

Sept. 27, East Palestine public and parochial, both 8 a.m. at East Palestine High School; Columbiana public, 1 p.m., at Columbiana bus garage.

Sept. 28, Leetonia public and Leetonia parochial, both 8 a.m. at Orchard High School; Salem public, Salem parochial and Salem Bible, all at 1 p.m., Salem High School.

Sept. 29, Fairfield - Waterford Local, 8 a.m., at Crestview High School; Lisbon, 1 p.m., at Lisbon stadium.

Re-inspections will take place as follows:

Sept. 30, United Local and Beaver Local, 8 a.m.; Southern Local, East Liverpool public and parochial and Wellsville public and parochial, 10 a.m.; Columbiana and East Palestine public and parochial, 1 p.m.; Leetonia public and parochial and Fairfield-Waterford, 2 p.m.

Oct. 1, Salem public, parochial and Bible, 9 a.m.; Lisbon public and Elkton Retarded, 10 a.m.

All re-inspections will take place at the same locations listed for first inspections.

Grandmother, 77, To Attend Ohio College On Scholarship

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A 77-year-old grandmother will attend Cuyahoga Community College this fall on a senior citizen scholarship.

"I want to go to college so I can improve myself and gain a better understanding of what is going on in these changing times," Rosa Jane Davis said in an interview. "In so doing, maybe I can help someone else."

Mrs. Davis, a Negro, is the oldest of 34 persons in Greater Cleveland recently awarded senior citizen scholarships. The senior citizen scholarship idea was announced last spring and drew about 70 applicants, all required to be 60 years or older. Tuition, fees and books are provided by the college and a private firm (Revco Drug Co.).

Born on a farm in Madison County, Ga., Mrs. Davis came to Cleveland in 1923 after "my four sisters and three brothers were married."

"My main purpose in coming to Cleveland was to attend night school and further my education, but my work here was harder than I had been accustomed to and I found I couldn't work and go to school, too," she said.

She retired when she was 65 after jobs in school cafeterias. She now devotes most of her time to work in the St. John's African Methodist Church and her six grandchildren. A widow since 1937, she has lived with her daughter.

The schools she attended in her native Georgia "were not graded in my day," Mrs. Davis said, but she estimated her formal education was about equivalent to 9th grade.

Firemen Find Water Can Also Cause Blaze

There was too much water everywhere Wednesday!

Firemen were called at 12:08 p. m. to a home at 724 St. Clair Ave. owned by Martin Silverman when water running down the outside of the building penetrated a switchbox and caused a short circuit.

The Ohio Power Co. was notified and turned off the electricity, firemen said.

It was just the opposite for Joseph E. Kenney of 725 Cadmus St. Firemen were called to his home at 10:02 p. m. when a water pipe bursted.

Planes Strafe Village

KUCHING, Malaysia (AP) — Two Indonesian warplanes strafed a Malaysian Borneo village Wednesday but caused no casualties and little damage, a military spokesman reported.

Driver Jailed After Mishap

James H. Corbett, 38, of 840 Fairview St., was jailed on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol as the result of a collision with a parked car today at 9:07 a. m. on Walnut St. 40 feet north of E. 5th St., police reported.

Corbett was arrested by Patrolman William A. Devon after his 1958 two-door sedan collided with a parked 1964 station wagon owned by Paul L. Schleiter, 48, of 727 Minerva St. His Municipal Court hearing probably will be held Friday morning.

Devon reported that Corbett made a left turn off E. 5th St. onto Walnut, narrowly missing a city street department truck moving south on Walnut St., and then collided with Schleiter's vehicle, which was parked on the north side of Walnut St.

John L. Wolf, 640 Azalea Ave., assistant street department, superintendent, was listed as a witness to the mishap. He was operating the city truck.

Corbett's auto was listed as a total loss. There was damage to the left side of Schleiter's station wagon.

Corbett told the patrolman he was making a turn off E. 5th onto Walnut when he cut his wheels too sharply, then swerved to right and hit the parked auto. Schleiter told police he left his auto to eat breakfast in a nearby restaurant and when he returned he found it had been damaged.

Mishaps Hurt 10 In District

A Newell area woman cut on a tin can and a football player injured at practice were among 10 area residents treated at City Hospital Wednesday.

Mrs. Inez Camerlin of near Newell suffered lacerations of the thumb and two fingers from a meat can.

Rick Dieringer, 17, son of Ray Dieringer of Calcutta, received a sprain of the right arm while practicing with the Beaver Local High School team.

Mrs. Alma Kelly of 3234 St. Clair Ave. was treated for a scalp cut after a chair fell against her while she was cleaning.

Mark Owens, son of Edwin Owens of Chester R.D. 1, suffered a cut on the head after he fell on a marble.

John Wise of 926 Myler Rd. received a cut on the right thumb from a piece of chrome.

Everett Waite, son of Paul Waite of 1394 Hillcrest Rd., Wellsville, suffered a cut on the left ankle from a beverage bottle.

While playing at home, Daniel Duke, son of Robert Duke of 243 W. 7th St., bumped against a bed post, receiving a cut on the forehead.

Kenneth Durbin of Phoenix Ave., Chester, an employe of the National Church Supply Co., was treated for a fingernail injury received on a machine while at work.

Mrs. Joanne Carrato of 1054 Rubicon St. suffered a fractured toe when she bumped it in the basement at home.

James Volk of Waterford Park, a groom, received a fractured toe when a horse stepped on his foot.

Three Longshoremen Cited In Cargo Thefts

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three longshoremen have been charged with thefts from cargoes on Cleveland docks, the second theft in five days.

Customs agents arrested Lott P. Westmoreland, 44, Jesse Wilks, 28, and David B. Tuttle, 25, all of Cleveland, as they left the dock Wednesday, each with a sweater allegedly from a foreign ship, authorities said.

Three other longshoremen were arrested last Friday on charges of taking four women's coats from a Norwegian vessel.

Girl Killed, 3 Hurt When Car Hits Pole

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 2-year-old Columbus girl was killed Wednesday night when the car in which her family was riding crashed into a utility pole along Ohio 161 northwest of here.

Dead is Lorie Godbey. Her mother, Louanne, 20, and two other children were in fair condition at a hospital.

Man Gets Life Term For Fatal Shooting

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gordon Anderson, 33, Cincinnati, was sentenced Wednesday to life imprisonment as the result of a shooting Oct. 2, 1964, at a delicatessen.

Anderson maintained throughout his trial on charges of first degree murder that he shot Lloyd Sanders, 25, Cincinnati, in self defense during a quarrel.

President Of Colombia Reshuffles His Cabinet

BOGOTA, Columbia (AP) — Colombian President Guillermo Leon Valencia has reshuffled his cabinet for the fourth time since he took office.

Government sources said, meanwhile, that the Congress had denied him extraordinary powers to rule the country.

School Bus Inspection Scheduled In County

Inspection of school buses throughout Columbiana County will be launched Sept. 20 by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Patrolmen R. D. Delagrange and J. W. VanHorne will conduct the bus checks, Sgt. R. J. Rizzo, post commander, said today.

Both officers recently attended a course of instruction held by the patrol and the Ohio Department of Education at Warren district headquarters.

Schedules were worked out by Sgt. Rizzo and County School Supt. James McBride.

Sgt. Rizzo said the officers, as part of the patrol's program to enforce the standards of equipment and operation of school buses, will be checking 32 safety items, including brakes, steering, wiring, exhaust, frames, emergency exits, tires, lights and seats.

If buses pass inspection, a certificate is affixed to the bus. If not, repairs are ordered or the bus is removed from service.

School bus drivers also will be checked. They are required to present their special operator's license and the annual physical reports.

An addition to the list this year is a bus for the Retarded School at Elkton. It will be inspected Sept. 29 at 1 p. m. in Lisbon Stadium.

Southern Local buses will launch the schedule with inspection at 8 a.m. Sept. 20 at Southern Local High School.

Other inspection dates and places follow:

Sept. 21, United Local, 8 a.m., United High School.

Sept. 22 and 23, Beaver Local, 8 a.m., Beaver bus garage.

Sept. 24, East Liverpool Public, 8 a.m.; East Liverpool parochial, 1 p.m.; East Liverpool board, 1 p.m.; Wellsville public, 1 p.m., and Wellsville parochial, 1 p.m.; all at Snyder's bus garage.

Sept. 27, East Palestine public and parochial, both 8 a.m. at East Palestine High School; Columbiana public, 1 p.m., at Columbiana bus garage.

Sept. 28, Leetonia public and Leetonia parochial, both 8 a.m. at Orchard High School; Salem public, Salem parochial and Salem Bible, all at 1 p.m., Salem High School.

Sept. 29, Fairfield - Waterford Local, 8 a.m., at Crestview High School; Lisbon, 1 p.m., at Lisbon stadium.

Re-inspections will take place as follows:

Sept. 30, United Local and Beaver Local, 8 a.m.; Southern Local, East Liverpool public and parochial and Wellsville public and parochial, 10 a.m.; Columbiana and East Palestine public and parochial, 1 p.m.; Leetonia public and parochial and Fairfield-Waterford, 2 p.m.

Oct. 1, Salem public, parochial and Bible, 9 a.m.; Lisbon public and Elkton Retarded, 10 a.m.

All re-inspections will take place at the same locations listed for first inspections.

Grandmother, 77, To Attend Ohio College On Scholarship

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A 77-year-old grandmother will attend Cuyahoga Community College this fall on a senior citizen scholarship.

"I want to go to college so I can improve myself and gain a better understanding of what is going on in these changing times," Rosa Jane Davis said in an interview. "In so doing, maybe I can help someone else."

Mrs. Davis, a Negro, is the oldest of 34 persons in Greater Cleveland recently awarded senior citizen scholarships. The senior citizen scholarship idea was announced last spring and drew about 70 applicants, all required to be 60 years or older. Tuition, fees and books are provided by the college and a private firm (Revco Drug Co.).

Born on a farm in Madison County, Ga., Mrs. Davis came to Cleveland in 1923 after "my four sisters and three brothers were married."

"My main purpose in coming to Cleveland was to attend night school and further my education, but my work here was harder than I had been accustomed to and I found I couldn't work and go to school, too," she said.

She retired when she was 65 after jobs in school cafeterias. She now devotes most of her time to work in the St. John's African Methodist Church and her six grandchildren. A widow since 1937, she has lived with her daughter.

The schools she attended in her native Georgia "were not graded in my day," Mrs. Davis said, but she estimated her formal education was about equivalent to 9th grade.

Firemen Find Water Can Also Cause Blaze

There was too much water everywhere Wednesday!

Firemen were called at 12:08 p. m. to a home at 724 St. Clair Ave. owned by Martin Silverman when water running down the outside of the building penetrated a switchbox and caused a short circuit.

The Ohio Power Co. was notified and turned off the electricity, firemen said.

It was just the opposite for Joseph E. Kenney of 725 Cadmus St. Firemen were called to his home at 10:02 p. m. when a water pipe bursted.

Planes Strafe Village

KUCHING, Malaysia (AP) — Two Indonesian warplanes strafed a Malaysian Borneo village Wednesday but caused no casualties and little damage, a military spokesman reported.

Driver Jailed After Mishap

James H. Corbett, 38, of 840 Fairview St., was jailed on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol as the result of a collision with a parked car today at 9:07 a. m. on Walnut St. 40 feet north of E. 5th St., police reported.

Corbett was arrested by Patrolman William A. Devon after his 1958 two-door sedan collided with a parked 1964 station wagon owned by Paul L. Schleiter, 48, of 727 Minerva St. His Municipal Court hearing probably will be held Friday morning.

Devon reported that Corbett made a left turn off E. 5th St. onto Walnut, narrowly missing a city street department truck moving south on Walnut St., and then collided with Schleiter's vehicle, which was parked on the north side of Walnut St.

John L. Wolf, 640 Azalea Ave., assistant street department superintendent, was listed as a witness to the mishap. He was operating the city truck.

Corbett's auto was listed as a total loss. There was damage to the left side of Schleiter's station wagon.

Corbett told the patrolman he was making a turn off E. 5th onto Walnut when he cut his wheels too sharply, then swerved to right and hit the parked auto. Schleiter told police he left his auto to eat breakfast in a nearby restaurant and when he returned he found it had been damaged.

Goal, Details Set In Midland Drive

The goal, campaign dates and divisional chairmen for the Midland Area United Fund drive have been announced by Robert C. Gilroy of Brighton Township, general chairman.

Gilroy, who is general superintendent of production services at Crucible's Midland Works, announced plans at a meeting of the fund's board of directors Tuesday night at Lincoln High School.

THE GOAL will be $63,975, or $1,421 greater than the $62,554 raised in last year's drive when Midland achieved 106.6 per cent of its goal and received a United Fund Progress Award Banner. Midland was awarded the top banner in Beaver County for greatest achievement of goals in 1960, 1962 and 1963.

The campaign will begin Wednesday, Sept. 15, with an orientation and kickoff dinner at 6:30 p. m. at the Management Dining Room of the Midland Works of Crucible. Divisional chairmen, captains and other volunteer workers will attend and receive campaign supplies. Solicitations will begin Sept. 20.

The drive will end Monday, Nov. 1, with a final report meeting. Other report meetings have been set for Oct. 4 and Oct. 18, all at 7:30 p. m. at Lincoln High School.

ASSISTING Gilroy as campaign co-chairmen are Joseph D'Alesio of Midland, who is president of Local 1212, United Steelworkers of America, and Charles Kurcina of Ohioville Borough, who was general campaign chairman last year.

Mayor Eli G. Corak will serve as Fair Share chairman and James H. Morris of Midland as public relations chairman.

Divisional chairmen and goals are: C. R. Schmitt of Midland, manufacturing, $56,420; School Supt. E. E. Richards of Midland, education, $1,180; P. K. O'Hara of Industry and C. A. Whittacre of Midland, building trades and transportation, $1,065; Miss Margaret LaValle of Ohioville Borough, clubs and organizations, $80.

Earl Rankin of Industry, retail trade, $950; Dr. E. H. North Jr. of Industry, medical and dental, $370; the Rev. Fr. John Sabovik of Midland, special gifts, $135; Atty. Robert Masters of Midland, attorneys and funeral homes, $110; Donald Craik of Midland, government, $320.

C. L. FINLEY of Midland, public service, $495, and Paul McGeehan of Midland, real estate and insurance, $115.

Residential divisional chairmen are: Mrs. Dorothy Richards, Midland, $260; William Wentz and Jack Gill, Industry, $265; Frank Rudman, Ohioville Borough, $60, and Mrs. Charles Kurcina, Meadowbrook Estates in Ohioville Borough, $85.

The divisional goals plus $2,065 in county credit amount to the $63,975 goal. County credit represents funds donated by large firms or business which have branches in various towns in the county.

During the meeting Tuesday night, Richard Fusco, executive director of the United Funds of Beaver County, screened a new United Fund movie, the first on Beaver County's own United Fund agencies.

He said "open house" will be held at several agencies Sept. 17-19 so Beaver Countians may see the agencies in operation. Plans for the open house will be announced.

The goal for the United Funds of Beaver County will be $864,490, which is 4 per cent greater than last year's. Funds raised by the various area drives will make up the county fund, which will aid 43 health and welfare agencies.

Pledges of non-Beaver County residents are sent to the charity organizations in their own areas.

Janitor Takes Pay Cut To Become Teacher

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — At a $350 annual cut in pay, Clarence Bradshaw, 33, is giving up his job as a school janitor to become a school teacher.

Bradshaw will begin teaching sixth grade at Highland Park Elementary School next week for $5,650 a year. He has been working as a custodian for $6,000 a year while attending night classes at Akron University. He received his degree in elementary education last June.

Bradshaw worked as a school janitor for nine years after flunking out of Akron U. in 1956. In 1960, he decided to have another go at a bachelor's degree.

Mild Winter Forecast By 'Weather Prophet'

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — British Columbia residents who believe in Dominic Charlie can breathe easier.

Last year, the elderly weather prophet of the Squamish Indian tribe looked at the leaves and decided from their color it would be a bad winter.

British Columbia was buried in snow which tied up traffic and vital services and drove some suburbanites to move into downtown hotels last winter.

Charlie looked at the leaves again Wednesday.

"It's gonna be mild," he said.

Hancock Group Elects, Plans Future Projects

Officers were elected and coming events discussed when the Hancock County 4-H Leaders Association met Tuesday night at the extension office in New Cumberland.

Named to serve for the coming year were: Mrs. Earl Priest of Pughtown, president; Miss Marcella Ewing of New Cumberland, vice president; Mrs. Ray P. Baker of Weirton, secretary, and Mrs. John Bryan of New Cumberland, treasurer.

Mrs. James Rhoades, reporting on the Weirton area 4-H exhibit Aug. 19 at Liberty School, said that demonstrations and a style review of clothing, made by members, were presented.

A REPORT also was given by Martha Troop on the 4-H exhibit held at the Christian Church in Chester on Aug. 24. Talent acts and a style review were presented by club members.

Theodore Kokochak announced that the Oakland area 4-H exhibit will be held Saturday at Brice Memorial Hall on Swearingen Hill. The exhibit will be open to the public from 6 to 8:30 p. m., with a program being planned by 4-H club members.

It also was announced that the Pughtown area exhibit will be held Sept. 15-16 at the Fairview Grange Hall in Pughtown. Mrs. Priest is committee chairman.

The Achievement Banquet committee reported that the banquet, for club members who have completed project work, will be held Sept. 27 at the Weirton Community Center. Ralph Cox moved that the committee buy place mats, table favors and other items needed.

The association asked Mrs. Ruth McPherson, county extension 4-H agent, to purchase ribbons for the completed 4-H projects and have them available with the certificates of merit at the banquet.

MISS TROOP, reporting for the committee in charge of national 4-H Club Week Sept. 26-Oct. 2, recommended that the leaders' association purchase 4-H place mats for distribution among restaurant owners in the county. She also suggested that badges be purchased for 4-H club members to wear during the week and that window displays be put up in various locations in the county explaining 4-H club work.

Mrs. McPherson reminded leaders that the 4-H clubs should reorganize in September or October and that organization materials are available at the county extension office. She announced that the regional 4-H leaders' conference will be held in Wheeling Nov. 13.

Mrs. Stewart Hobbs was appointed to make arrangements for a county 4-H skating party in November.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hobbs and Miss Ewing. Mrs. Hobbs led devotions.

Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Harry Light will be hostesses for the next meeting of the association Sept. 28.

Cub Pack Members Visit Leetonia Plant

Cub Pack 7 of St. Aloysius School visited the Dan Dee pretzel and potato chip plant at Leetonia Tuesday.

The group was accompanied by Mrs. Emma Rogers, Mrs. Ann Waite, Mrs. Betty Cataldo, Mrs. Jean Stoy, Miss Mary Jo Biela and Mrs. Pat Morris.

School Funds Distributed

The East Liverpool school district and others in the area are sharing in the distribution of $67,797,695 in school foundation money — the first of the new fiscal year—announced by State Auditor Chester W. Goble.

Of the total, $21,616,122 went to the 159 city school districts; $21,973,867 to the 483 local school districts; $3,183,761 to the 61 exempted village school districts, and $1,460,190 to the 88 county school boards.

In addition, $16,625,660 went to the Teachers Retirement System and $2,938,093 to the School Employes Retirement System.

The East Liverpool city school district received $185,719, Wellsville $76,174, Salem $75,896 and East Palestine $73,920.

In the exempted village school districts, Lisbon received $58,511 and Leetonia $46,980.

In local school districts by counties, Columbiana received $224,799. The Columbiana County board got $11,902.

Mild Winter Forecast By 'Weather Prophet'

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — British Columbia residents who believe in Dominic Charlie can breathe easier.

Last year, the elderly weather prophet of the Squamish Indian tribe looked at the leaves and decided from their color it would be a bad winter.

British Columbia was buried in snow which tied up traffic and vital services and drove some suburbanites to move into downtown hotels last winter.

Charlie looked at the leaves again Wednesday.

"It's gonna be mild," he said.

Hancock Group Elects, Plans Future Projects

Officers were elected and coming events discussed when the Hancock County 4-H Leaders Association met Tuesday night at the extension office in New Cumberland.

Named to serve for the coming year were: Mrs. Earl Priest of Pughtown, president; Miss Marcella Ewing of New Cumberland, vice president; Mrs. Ray P. Baker of Weirton, secretary, and Mrs. John Bryan of New Cumberland, treasurer.

Mrs. James Rhoades, reporting on the Weirton area 4-H exhibit Aug. 19 at Liberty School, said that demonstrations and a style review of clothing, made by members, were presented.

A REPORT also was given by Martha Troop on the 4-H exhibit held at the Christian Church in Chester on Aug. 24. Talent acts and a style review were presented by club members.

Theodore Kokochak announced that the Oakland area 4-H exhibit will be held Saturday at Brice Memorial Hall on Swearingen Hill. The exhibit will be open to the public from 6 to 8:30 p. m., with a program being planned by 4-H club members.

It also was announced that the Pughtown area exhibit will be held Sept. 15-16 at the Fairview Grange Hall in Pughtown. Mrs. Priest is committee chairman.

The Achievement Banquet committee reported that the banquet, for club members who have completed project work, will be held Sept. 27 at the Weirton Community Center. Ralph Cox moved that the committee buy place mats, table favors and other items needed.

The association asked Mrs. Ruth McPherson, county extension 4-H agent, to purchase ribbons for the completed 4-H projects and have them available with the certificates of merit at the banquet.

MISS TROOP, reporting for the committee in charge of national 4-H Club Week Sept. 26-Oct. 2, recommended that the leaders' association purchase 4-H place mats for distribution among restaurant owners in the county. She also suggested that badges be purchased for 4-H club members to wear during the week and that window displays be put up in various locations in the county explaining 4-H club work.

Mrs. McPherson reminded leaders that the 4-H clubs should reorganize in September or October and that organization materials are available at the county extension office. She announced that the regional 4-H leaders' conference will be held in Wheeling Nov. 13.

Mrs. Stewart Hobbs was appointed to make arrangements for a county 4-H skating party in November.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hobbs and Miss Ewing. Mrs. Hobbs led devotions.

Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Harry Light will be hostesses for the next meeting of the association Sept. 28.

Films Again Offered Schools Through Crucible Program

This week marks the beginning of the sixth consecutive year that schools in the Midland area will receive for classroom showing monthly Screen News Digest films donated by the Crucible Steel Co.

First films for the new school year are being distributed this week.

The films are available to all schools, public and parochial, in the Midland, East Liverpool and Beaver areas and may be obtained for showing by contacting Supt. Paul Blair of the East Liverpool school system or the Beaver County Instructional Materials Center at Monaca.

Next month, the Screen News Digest will present "Summer in Space," featuring the walk in space by American Astronaut Edward White.

Released in 10 monthly issues during the school year, the aim of the film program is to provide students with an awareness of significant current events and an understanding of their impact on the lives of all. The program reviews the background of today's happenings to provide a guide to the developments that can be expected in the future.

Accompanying the films are pamphlets containing a discussion outline and a synopsis of contents. The outline is prepared and edited to help teachers and students make the most intelligent use of the films.

Canadian Man, 97, Still 'Grinds Axes'

HULL, Quebec (AP) — At 97, Morley P. Walters watches one of his machines punch out 300 ax heads an hour, and recalls:

"When I was a boy I used a 14-pound sledgehammer to pound out ax heads, and 15 a day was considered good."

He designed the machine.

Walters owns the Walters Axe Co., founded by his father and now described as the biggest manufacturer of axes in the British Commonwealth. It has a subsidiary, Walters Axe Inc., at Ogdensburg, N. Y., and he gets hickory handles from Arkansas and Mississippi.

Walters, still muscular and solid - looking, looks in on the plant every day but leaves its supervision to a 49-year-old general manager, John Hammell.

Films Again Offered Schools Through Crucible Program

This week marks the beginning of the sixth consecutive year that schools in the Midland area will receive for classroom showing monthly Screen News Digest films donated by the Crucible Steel Co.

First films for the new school year are being distributed this week.

The films are available to all schools, public and parochial, in the Midland, East Liverpool and Beaver areas and may be obtained for showing by contacting Supt. Paul Blair of the East Liverpool school system or the Beaver County Instructional Materials Center at Monaca.

Next month, the Screen News Digest will present "Summer in Space," featuring the walk in space by American Astronaut Edward White.

Released in 10 monthly issues during the school year, the aim of the film program is to provide students with an awareness of significant current events and an understanding of their impact on the lives of all. The program reviews the background of today's happenings to provide a guide to the developments that can be expected in the future.

Accompanying the films are pamphlets containing a discussion outline and a synopsis of contents. The outline is prepared and edited to help teachers and students make the most intelligent use of the films.

Canadian Man, 97, Still 'Grinds Axes'

HULL, Quebec (AP) — At 97, Morley P. Walters watches one of his machines punch out 300 ax heads an hour, and recalls:

"When I was a boy I used a 14-pound sledgehammer to pound out ax heads, and 15 a day was considered good."

He designed the machine.

Walters owns the Walters Axe Co., founded by his father and now described as the biggest manufacturer of axes in the British Commonwealth. It has a subsidiary, Walters Axe Inc., at Ogdensburg, N. Y., and he gets hickory handles from Arkansas and Mississippi.

Walters, still muscular and solid - looking, looks in on the plant every day but leaves its supervision to a 49-year-old general manager, John Hammell.

Dear Heloise: I want to tell you of a novel tea a friend of mine just gave.

For several months, they had a serious illness in their home. During this time many friends, relatives and acquaintances had brought flowers, prepared foods etc.

Can you imagine the frustration when they tried to return a host of vases, casseroles, trays, plates, etc.?

At the "You Claim It" tea, the owners were able to identify their possessions and be properly thanked for their kindnesses.

It was a big success. And, incidentally, I learned how to help more thoughtfully when such an occasion arises.

If possible, I use disposable containers, and if not, the dishes, etc., are marked with my name.

ELIZABETH M. BALLEW

DEAR HELOISE: I have some flowers in vases on high mantles and shelves—which I cannot see into unless I get up on a stool—so, as I water these flowers, I place my finger right inside the top of the vase. When the water level in the vase reaches my finger, I know the vase is full.

I never run the water over, and can stand on the floor to water them.

MRS. T.S.

DEAR HELOISE: How do you press garlic so that most of it doesn't stay in the presser?

A READER

DEAR FRIEND: When I press a garlic bud, I never take off the outside (peel?) before pressing it.

The hard, outside peel will prevent the soft meat of the garlic from getting into the garlic press pores.

I find it best to take a knife and cut off each end of the bud first. Here is the reason for this:

The juice will come out each end of the bud. (I find some garlic buds have more outside crust than others.)

Don't break your press. If you have an inexpensive one, try cutting off both ends of the bud first, then using your presser.

DEAR HELOISE: An empty facial tissue box serves as a handy "hamper" for soiled hosiery.

ROSE L. KOROTKIN

DEAR HELOISE: When we bought a new car, we had regulation seat belts put in the back seat for our youngsters.

As the belts were too large for them, we bought two of those padded seats that restaurants use for children. The boys sit in those and then put the belts on. (If they are still a little too loose, you can put a pillow behind the child, and all is well.)

We also use these seats for the boys when they are eating their meals at home as they are too big (or too grown-up) for high chairs, and are too small for regular ones.

MRS. R. D. KOVANDA

DEAR HELOISE: To give the effect of the popular button-down collar style on standard collared shirts, just sew a shirt button to each of the collar tips, and then sew on through the shirt.

The collar would open and be easier to iron if you would put half a snap on the back of it and the other half on the corresponding place on the shirt before sewing on the button. Don't you think so?

Boy Injured In Car Crash

A Lisbon boy was injured in one of three area highway mishaps Wednesday, including a rock slide in the East Liverpool-Wellsville highway in which a truck was damaged.

Michael Bortz, 8, was treated at Salem City Hospital after the car in which he was riding struck an embankment on Route 45, about four miles north of Lisbon, at 3:30 p.m.

The Highway Patrol said the youth was a passenger in a station wagon driven by his father, Antonio Bortz, 34, of 429 N. Jefferson St., Lisbon, who was headed south, passing a line of traffic.

When a car operated by Russell Long, 47, of 509 N. Market St., Lisbon, pulled out of the line of traffic, also to pass, Bortz swerved off the left side of the road and struck an embankment.

The boy suffered lacerations of the cheek.

The southbound lanes of the highway were partially blocked by the rock slide which occurred at 1:25 p.m., about three-fourths of a mile south of East Liverpool.

The rocks struck a moving tractor - trailer rig operated by William McGary, 49, of Cameron, W. Va., damaging the trailer, officers said.

George Rizer, 18, of R. D. 1 was cited for failure to yield the right of way after his car and another collided on Route 170 between Route 30 and Calcutta.

The patrol said Rizer drove from a private drive into the path of an auto operated by John Wise, 36, of 926 Myler Rd. There was light damage to both autos, officers said.

Police Given Statement

Shaker Heights Mother Says Son, 9, Shot Boy

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Shaker Heights housewife, described by Coroner Samuel R. Gerber as "interested in protecting her son above all else," has given police a signed statement that her son fired the shot that killed 8-year-old John Cremer Young Jr. 10 days ago.

Investigators found an old five-shot revolver where she told them they would—wrapped in a package of ground meat in the refrigerator of her home.

Mrs. Mariann K. Colby, 40, dark-haired wife of a space engineer, made her statement to police Wednesday afternoon after 5½ hours of questioning and after what she described as "eight crazed nights" of worry and sleeplessness.

"I choose to believe that Mrs. Colby told the truth when she said her son did it," the Cuyahoga County coroner said.

Police Chief Carl R. Longstreet of Shaker Heights said he was convinced the shooting was accidental, and that the investigation was continuing.

Weeping and distraught, Mrs. Colby and her only child, Dane, 9, were escorted by her husband, Robert, and police to their home two doors away from the Young house Wednesday night.

Dr. Gerber said no ruling on the young boy's death would be made until all details are clarified. Because of Dane's age, he said there is little likelihood of prosecution.

A massive police search was touched off Aug. 24 with the finding of the Young boy's body in a wooded area of Gates Mills about 10 miles from his home. A single bullet hole was in the back of the head.

In her statement, Dr. Gerber said, Mrs. Colby said she had taken the body in a station wagon after the shooting, drove around aimlessly for a while, and then left it where it was found.

Gerber said Mrs. Colby told him she had left Cremer and Dane playing on a landing at the side door of her home and was in the dining room at the telephone when she heard a shot. She found Cremer lying on the floor and Dane standing over him holding the gun, the coroner quoted her as saying.

Chief Longstreet said Dane "rambled a lot" when detectives talked with him. Detectives said he appeared to be "living in a fantasy land."

Wellsville Reservoir Filled By Heavy Rains

The heavy rains the last two days have refilled Wellsville's low water reservoir.

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare said 48 feet are needed to cause the water to flow over the spillway. The water reached 47½ feet this morning and probably will be running over by evening, he said.

The level had been down to 42 feet. When it reaches 41 feet, it presents a serious problem for the community.

Rites Conducted For Serviceman In Plane Crash

Services have been held for Marine Pfc. John S. Michel, son of a former East Liverpool man, who was among 58 servicemen killed when a U.S. transport plane crashed into the harbor at Hong Kong Aug. 24.

Son of Mrs. Dorothy Michel of Minneapolis, Minn., and the late William R. Michel of East Liverpool, the 18 - year - old Marine had been in Viet Nam since May.

He and the other 71 men aboard the plane were returning to duty after a rest period in Hong Kong.

He had joined the Marines after graduation from high school in 1964 and had been stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif., and in Hawaii and Okinawa before his assignment in Viet Nam.

Expeditions Exhibited In Edge Of Tomorrow

NEW YORK (AP) — Pieces-of-eight from a Spanish shipwreck, film clips, maps, historic photographs and voice recordings are among the rare treasures in a current National Geographic Society exhibit.

The exhibition is entitled "To the Edge of Tomorrow" and covers 77 years of the Society's expeditions from Adm. Robert Peary's discovery of the North Pole to the most recent Ranger moon shots.

The exhibit is the first of its kind ever shown outside the Society's hall in Washington. It is mounted at the Hallmark Gallery on Fifth Avenue and will remain through Oct. 1.

New Rhodesian Word Has A Political Ring

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP) — A new word has been added to Lozi, the language of Barotseland.

Chief of Barotseland, Sir Mwanawina Lewanika, said the new word, now in daily use, is "Ku-Makmirana."

It means "To Discuss at Great Length and to Appear to get Nowhere."

Future Activities Are Outlined By Club At Midland

Future events were discussed during a meeting of the executive board of the Midland Junior Women's Club Wednesday night with Mrs. Paul Susich of Meadowbrook.

Planned activities include a rummage sale in October, the sale of Christmas candles, ribbon, candy and note paper and the participation by members in the MS drive on Sept. 14 and the United Fund Drive in October.

It was announced that the annual Yuletide Ball will be held Dec. 11 at the Willows Motel in Industry.

New yearbooks were distributed and Mrs. Joe Yee reported on the club's annual picnic Aug. 31 for children of the Beaver County Children's Home.

Mrs. Kathryn Lutz of Harmony, Pa., a handwriting analyst, will present the program at the next regular meeting Wednesday at American Legion Post 481. All prospective members are invited to the session.

Mrs. Arthur Bloor was cohostess. Mrs. Edward Richards, president, presided.

Ohio Water Projects Included In Bill OKd

WASHINGTON (AP)— Five Ohio water projects are included in a bill approved by the House Public Works Committee Wednesday to authorize future planning and construction by the Army Engineers.

They are Rocky River Harbor $235,000; West Harbor, $544,000; Chagrin River, $2,200,000; Maumee River at Findlay $9,317,000; Ashbaulta Harbor, $1,840,000.

Police Given Statement

Shaker Heights Mother Says Son, 9, Shot Boy

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Shaker Heights housewife, described by Coroner Samuel R. Gerber as "interested in protecting her son above all else," has given police a signed statement that her son fired the shot that killed 8-year-old John Cremer Young Jr. 16 days ago.

Investigators found an old five-shot revolver where she told them they would—wrapped in a package of ground meat in the refrigerator of her home.

Mrs. Mariann K. Colby, 40, dark-haired wife of a space engineer, made her statement to police Wednesday afternoon after 5½ hours of questioning and after what she described as "eight crazed nights" of worry and sleeplessness.

"I choose to believe that Mrs. Colby told the truth when she said her son did it," the Cuyahoga County coroner said.

Police Chief Carl R. Longstreet of Shaker Heights said he was convinced the shooting was accidental, and that the investigation was continuing.

Weeping and distraught, Mrs. Colby and her only child, Dane, 9, were escorted by her husband, Robert, and police to their home two doors away from the Young house Wednesday night.

Dr. Gerber said no ruling on the young boy's death would be made until all details are clarified. Because of Dane's age, he said there is little likelihood of prosecution.

A massive police search was touched off Aug. 24 with the finding of the Young boy's body in a wooded area of Gates Mills about 10 miles from his home. A single bullet hole was in the back of the head.

In her statement, Dr. Gerber said, Mrs. Colby said she had taken the body in a station wagon after the shooting, drove around aimlessly for a while, and then left it where it was found.

Gerber said Mrs. Colby told him she had left Cremer and Dane playing on a landing at the side door of her home and was in the dining room at the telephone when she heard a shot. She found Cremer lying on the floor and Dane standing over him holding the gun, the coroner quoted her as saying.

Chief Longstreet said Dane "rambled a lot" when detectives talked with him. Detectives said he appeared to be "living in a fantasy land."

Wellsville Reservoir Filled By Heavy Rains

The heavy rains the last two days have refilled Wellsville's low water reservoir.

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare said 48 feet are needed to cause the water to flow over the spillway. The water reached 47½ feet this morning and probably will be running over by evening, he said.

The level had been down to 42 feet. When it reaches 41 feet, it presents a serious problem for the community.

Rites Conducted For Serviceman In Plane Crash

Services have been held for Marine Pfc. John S. Michel, son of a former East Liverpool man, who was among 58 servicemen killed when a U.S. transport plane crashed into the harbor at Hong Kong Aug. 24.

Son of Mrs. Dorothy Michel of Minneapolis, Minn., and the late William R. Michel of East Liverpool, the 18 - year - old Marine had been in Viet Nam since May.

He and the other 71 men aboard the plane were returning to duty after a rest period in Hong Kong.

He had joined the Marines after graduation from high school in 1964 and had been stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif., and in Hawaii and Okinawa before his assignment in Viet Nam.

Expeditions Exhibited In Edge Of Tomorrow

NEW YORK (AP) — Pieces-of-eight from a Spanish shipwreck, film clips, maps, historic photographs and voice recordings are among the rare treasures in a current National Geographic Society exhibit.

The exhibition is entitled "To the Edge of Tomorrow" and covers 77 years of the Society's expeditions from Adm. Robert Peary's discovery of the North Pole to the most recent Ranger moon shots.

The exhibit is the first of its kind ever shown outside the Society's hall in Washington. It is mounted at the Hallmark Gallery on Fifth Avenue and will remain through Oct. 1.

New Rhodesian Word Has A Political Ring

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP) — A new word has been added to Lozi, the language of Barotseland.

Chief of Barotseland, Sir Mwanawina Lewanika, said the new word, now in daily use, is "Ku-Makmirana."

It means "To Discuss at Great Length and to Appear to get Nowhere."

Future Activities Are Outlined By Club At Midland

Future events were discussed during a meeting of the executive board of the Midland Junior Women's Club Wednesday night with Mrs. Paul Susich of Meadowbrook.

Planned activities include a rummage sale in October, the sale of Christmas candles, ribbon, candy and note paper and the participation by members in the MS drive on Sept. 14 and the United Fund Drive in October.

It was announced that the annual Yuletide Ball will be held Dec. 11 at the Willows Motel in Industry.

New yearbooks were distributed and Mrs. Joe Yee reported on the club's annual picnic Aug. 31 for children of the Beaver County Children's Home.

Mrs. Kathryn Lutz of Harmony, Pa., a handwriting analyst, will present the program at the next regular meeting Wednesday at American Legion Post 481. All prospective members are invited to the session.

Mrs. Arthur Bloor was co-hostess. Mrs. Edward Richards, president, presided.

Ohio Water Projects Included In Bill Okd

WASHINGTON (AP)— Five Ohio water projects are included in a bill approved by the House Public Works Committee Wednesday to authorize future planning and construction by the Army Engineers.

They are Rocky River Harbor $235,000; West Harbor, $544,000; Chagrin River, $2,200,000; Maumee River at Findlay $9,317,000; Ashbaulta Harbor, $1,840,000.

Democratic Leaders Eye September Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders have decided to jettison minimum wage, congressional redistricting and unemployment compensation legislation in their drive for a late September adjournment.

This decision, reflected in Senate Democratic Policy Committee action, apparently has at least the tacit approval of President Johnson. The three major measures to be pigeonholed will remain alive for action in 1966.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said in an interview the party policy committee has called for Senate action on a half dozen major measures before the current session ends. These include the $4.7-billion higher education aid bill on which Senate debate begins today.

Other measures the committee wants pushed to a vote, Mansfield said, include bills to repeal state union shop bans, revise the farm subsidy system, abolish the national origin quotas on immigration, step up vocational rehabilitation and beautify highways. Included also are the regular money bills, with the always controversial foreign aid bill among them.

A proposed pay increase for federal civilian employes was not on the priority list. Action on it seems to depend on whether sponsors lower their sights to levels acceptable to Johnson.

The minimum wage measure, which would expand coverage to 7.2 million more workers, is jammed up because Johnson has taken no position on House committee action to raise the federal minimum from $1.25 to $1.75 an hour. Some legislators think its passage in the 1966 election year would leave its benefits fresh in the minds of low-income voters.

The congressional redistricting bill, passed by the House, has had scant Senate attention. Neither house has shown any inclination to act on Johnson's proposal for standardization of state unemployment benefits.

The Senate policy group added the highway beautification bill to its list of priority legislation largely because Johnson repeatedly reported to congressional leaders that Mrs. Johnson keeps after him to get it passed.

The farm bill has had heavy going in the Senate Agriculture Committee but Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D-La., said he believes the group is near an agreement on it.

The House-passed immigration measure temporarily is snarled in a dispute over whether the Senate Judiciary Committee is going to send to the calendar a proposed constitutional amendment on state legislative reapportionment.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, sponsor of the amendment, has blocked committee action on the immigration measure until he can get assurances that this reapportionment proposal will go to the calendar for action next year.

Taylor Picked By President As Consultant

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has named Maxwell D. Taylor a special consultant and said he will have "a continuing role in support of the people and government" of South Viet Nam.

This role was not spelled out as the President—Taylor beside him — made his announcement Wednesday night. Nor did Johnson amplify other special assignments he said he will give the former U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam.

Johnson said Taylor, a former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, will be charged with reviewing all government programs aimed at countering Communist advances abroad. And, he said, Taylor will operate when in Washington from the executive office building, across the street from the White House.

Taylor said he thinks Johnson has in mind "a king of task force assignment."

Henry Cabot Lodge, who succeeded Taylor in Saigon, also served as a special presidential consultant.

Tree Limb Pins Palestine Man At Club's Camp Site

EAST PALESTINE — A 64-year-old East Palestine man, pinned beneath a tree limb for two hours Wednesday afternoon, was in "serious" condition at a Youngstown hospital today with a fractured neck.

Arch Gorby, a retired jiggerman in area potteries, was cutting a tree at the Potters Camp south of Peace Valley yesterday when a limb of the tree which had blown down Tuesday night apparently swung and pinned him to the ground.

Gorby, president of the Potters Camp, a social organization, was found about 4 p. m. by Edward McMillen of New Waterford. He was taken first to Salem City Hospital, then to Youngstown South Side Hospital.

He received fractures of the neck and left leg.

Pakistani Forces Drive Inside Indian Positions

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A Pakistani attack spearheaded by tanks penetrated five miles inside Indian positions in southwest Kashmir as fighting raged on for a second consecutive day, India announced today.

Defense Minister Y. B. Chavan told Parliament a massive attack by at least 3,000 Pakistani troops and 70 tanks across the international frontier had "seriously escalated" the fighting, and that the situation was still "developing."

Chavan claimed 13 tanks were destroyed.

He acknowledged India lost four of its planes that attacked the tanks — two planes missing and two damaged.

It appeared that despite an Indian counterattack at dawn today, Pakistani tanks were able to burst through the Indian lines and roam about in southwest Kashmirs' flatlands.

No new major action was reported in three salients the Indians pushed into Pakistani territory in recent attacks, but there was ominous talk of a wider conflict.

Speaker Hukam Singh of the lower house of Parliament refused to let members ask Chavan questions, saying that it was not possible when there is "actual war between us and Pakistan."

Chavan said India was responding to Pakistan's "escalation" with all necessary "counter measures" and that "we have to take an over-all view of defense."

That was an obvious reference to other sectors on India's long and tense frontier with Pakistan.

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri was reliably reported to have said in a briefing for Indian political leaders that India expects "very big clashes," and that India's strategy must be considered in a "much wider context."

Abductor Of Two Killed By Police In Gun Battle

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A gun-toting "gentleman" abductor and his wife took a Cincinnati cab driver and a Dayton woman on a wild ride through Ohio Wednesday that ended near here in a gun battle with police.

The abductor, James William Lewis, 34, of Inkster, Mich., was killed by police bullets after he opened fire on an Ohio Highway Patrol roadblock on Interstate 75 south of Perrysburg from a car he had commandeered.

Lewis' wife, Clarice, 34, and their victims, Dunn Larkin, 34, and Mrs. William Ross, 50, escaped injury in the shooting. Mrs. Ross was treated for shock.

Highway patrolmen Neil Statton and V. L. Stambaugh and Wood County sheriff's deputy George Ginter received minor wounds in the three-minute gun battle.

Authorities said the wild ride began Wednesday afternoon when Lewis approached Larkin's cab in the Cincinnati suburb of Lincoln Heights and forced Larkin to drive his wife and him to Dayton.

In Dayton, Lewis then jumped Mrs. Ross as she let off her maid and forced her at gunpoint to turn the car over to him, officers said.

The Lewis couple, Larkin and Mrs. Ross then continued north on Interstate 75 with Mrs. Lewis driving.

The patrol set up the roadblock after a cruiser reported spotting Mrs. Ross' car headed in that direction.

Lewis opened fire on the officers as the car came to a halt at the roadblock.

Larkin said his captor was a "gentleman" all the way, and tried to calm the frightened cabby.

"He wanted me to radio and tell police not to follow him," Larkin said. "He told me that the federals were after him."

Highway Patrol officers said they had no record of Lewis being wanted prior to Wednesday's abductions.

Titanium Heart Valve Seen As Life-Saver For Girl, 16

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Crucible titanium has given a Pittsburgh girl a new lease on life.

The Crucible Steel Co. reports that for 16-year-old Eileen Melvin a still rare operation and substitute heart valves made of titanium have spelled the difference between life and death.

This operation almost came too late. For 10 illness-plagued years, Eileen had drifted steadily downhill in the wake of an attack of chorea, one of the rheumatic fever group of diseases.

In 1955 when she was six, this illness hospitalized her for eight weeks and scarred her heart valves. Four years later she was admitted to Heart House for 15 months for rebuilding by diet, treatment and rest.

Her weight, which doctors had sought to build up, dropped steadily from 108 to 69. Frequently she was flat on her back for three-week rest periods. Since then she had to drop out of school and her voice went down to a whisper.

Surgeons at Pittsburgh's Allegheny General Hospital operated to replace the badly damaged aortic and mitral valves last spring. They inserted a Magovern-Cromie heart valve for the aortic replacement, and a Starr valve for the mitral.

The Magovern-Cromie valve of Crucible titanium was designed at Surgitool, Inc., by Dr. George J. Magovern and Harry W. Cromie, president of the company.

Released from the hospital last November, the girl has regained her health and more than 40 pounds since the operation. The short walks of last fall have turned into longer ones as she prepares for the coming fall school term. Today she plays miniature golf and is on the way to compiling a creditable bowling average.

Council Takes Varied Action

Routine business featured a meeting of Industry Council Wednesday night at the borough building.

The Western Beaver Boosters Club was granted permission to use the borough grader for a day for the preparation of a proposed football field at the rear of the Ray Snyder School and the Midwestern Athletic Association was granted a requested $115 for the purchase of accident and liability insurance for the local Pop Warner Midget Football League. The league will be comprised of teams of boys from the Western Beaver and Midland School districts.

Ross Strohm, roads chairmen, reported that road crews have blacktopped some areas in Ohioview and have cut brush on Russell Hill and Willowbrook Roads.

Mayor W. B. McBride reported that the police answered 15 complaints, investigated three accidents and made two arrests in August. He said 1,586 miles were counted on the police car during the month.

McBride said four signs indicating 25-mile-an-hour speed limits will be erected in Sunrise Hills, as requested by the residents.

GOP Club Makes Plans To Set Up Election Offices

Plans to establish a GOP headquarters for the fall election were made at a meeting of the East Liverpool Area Men's Republican Club Wednesday night at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex.

Arrangements also were discussed for a joint meeting with the women's organization on Oct. 6.

David Sakol reported 50 new members have been enrolled since the last meeting.

Talks were given by Mayor George Willshaw, County Commissioner James Boyd and Robert Bell of Steubenville, 18th District state committeeman.

Other guests included Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey and Councilman Robert W. Sample. Richard Allison, president, presided.

'Operation Second Chance' Set For Potential Dropouts

BOSTON (AP) — "If I was banished, I would live in the wood because I don't have to were (worry) about light bill and gass bill and I could cauth (catch) my own food."

So begins a composition by a seventh grader in Boston's Operation Second Chance, a special English class for potential dropouts, many of them from poor families.

A student teacher, Gail Donovan, reports in the summer issue of the Harvard Graduate School of Education bulletin that the youngsters learned best when talking about their dreams.

The first essay she assigned was "What I did on my vacation" and it produced the "I didn't do anything, Miss Donovan" kind of response.

But the topic "If I were banished, I would live in." inspired imaginary flights written, despite grammar deficiencies, with dash and enthusiasm:

"If I were banished I would live in Australia I would go to the jungles and live with the navtive. I would learn how to use a boomrang and help the navtive get their food."

"If I were banished, I would live in a house that I will never forget it will be the best house on the street. The color will be fire red I will have flowers in front of it."

"If I were banished, I would live in New York on 42nd streets were you meet all kind of pepol the night come I would go in the show for all night."

"If I were banish, I would go fare away I woin'd go to particular place I travel from town to town from city to city state to state to contry to contry to world to world."

The kiwi, the widely known bird of New Zealand, is not so large as one of our domestic hens, yet it lays eggs that are frequently five inches and more in length.

Lewis opened fire on the officers as the car came to a halt at the roadblock.

Larkin said his captor was a "gentleman" all the way, and tried to calm the frightened cabby.

"He wanted me to radio and tell police not to follow him," Larkin said. "He told me that the federals were after him."

Highway Patrol officers said they had no record of Lewis being wanted prior to Wednesday's abductions.

Titanium Heart Valve Seen As Life-Saver For Girl, 16

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Crucible titanium has given a Pittsburgh girl a new lease on life.

The Crucible Steel Co. reports that for 16-year-old Eileen Melvin a still rare operation and substitute heart valves made of titanium have spelled the difference between life and death.

This operation almost came too late. For 10 illness-plagued years, Eileen had drifted steadily downhill in the wake of an attack of chorea, one of the rheumatic fever group of diseases.

In 1955 when she was six, this illness hospitalized her for eight weeks and scarred her heart valves. Four years later she was admitted to Heart House for 15 months for rebuilding by diet, treatment and rest.

Her weight, which doctors had sought to build up, dropped steadily from 103 to 69. Frequently she was flat on her back for three-week rest periods. Since then she had to drop out of school and her voice went down to a whisper.

Surgeons at Pittsburgh's Allegheny General Hospital operated to replace the badly damaged aortic and mitral valves last spring. They inserted a Magovern-Cromie heart valve for the aortic replacement, and a Starr valve for the mitral.

The Magovern-Cromie valve of Crucible titanium was designed at Surgitool, Inc., by Dr. George J. Magovern and Harry W. Cromie, president of the company.

Released from the hospital last November, the girl has regained her health and more than 40 pounds since the operation. The short walks of last fall have turned into longer ones as she prepares for the coming fall school term. Today she plays miniature golf and is on the way to compiling a creditable bowling average.

Financier Claimed

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Financier and philanthropist Leonard Felix Fuld died Tuesday in Helene Fuld Hospital, an institution renamed in honor of his mother in gratitude for his contributions. He was 82.

The greatest wild animal and bird preserve in the world is the United States' Yellowstone National Park.

Council Takes Varied Action

Routine business featured a meeting of Industry Council Wednesday night at the borough building.

The Western Beaver Boosters Club was granted permission to use the borough grader for a day for the preparation of a proposed football field at the rear of the Ray Snyder School and the Midwestern Athletic Association was granted a requested $115 for the purchase of accident and liability insurance for the local Pop Warner Midget Football League. The league will be comprised of teams of boys from the Western Beaver and Midland School districts.

Ross Strohm, roads chairmen, reported that road crews have blacktopped some areas in Ohioview and have cut brush on Russell Hill and Willowbrook Roads.

Mayor W. B. McBride reported that the police answered 15 complaints, investigated three accidents and made two arrests in August. He said 1,586 miles were counted on the police car during the month.

McBride said four signs indicating 25-mile-an-hour speed limits will be erected in Sunrise Hills, as requested by the residents.

GOP Club Makes Plans To Set Up Election Offices

Plans to establish a GOP headquarters for the fall election were made at a meeting of the East Liverpool Area Men's Republican Club Wednesday night at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex.

Arrangements also were discussed for a joint meeting with the women's organization on Oct. 6.

David Sakol reported 50 new members have been enrolled since the last meeting.

Talks were given by Mayor George Willshaw, County Commissioner James Boyd and Robert Bell of Steubenville, 18th District state committeeman.

Other guests included Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey and Councilman Robert W. Sample. Richard Allison, president, presided.

'Operation Second Chance' Set For Potential Dropouts

BOSTON (AP) — "If I was banished, I would live in the wood because I don't have to were (worry) about light bill and gass bill and I could cauth (catch) my own food."

So begins a composition by a seventh grader in Boston's Operation Second Chance, a special English class for potential dropouts, many of them from poor families.

A student teacher, Gail Donovan, reports in the summer issue of the Harvard Graduate School of Education bulletin that the youngsters learned best when talking about their dreams.

The first essay she assigned was "What I did on my vacation" and it produced the "I didn't do anything, Miss Donovan" kind of response.

But the topic "If I were banished, I would live in." inspired imaginary flights written, despite grammar deficiencies, with dash and enthusiasm:

"If I were banished I would live in Australia I would go to the jungles and live with the navtive. I would learn how to use a boomrang and help the navtive get their food."

"If I were banished, I would live in a house that I will never forget it will be the best house on the street. The color will be fire red I will have flowers in front of it."

"If I were banished, I would live in New York on 42nd streets were you meet all kind of pepol the night come I would go in the show for all night."

"If I were banish, I would go fare away I woin'd go to particular place I travel from town to town from city to city state to state to contry to contry to world to world."

The kiwi, the widely known bird of New Zealand, is not so large as one of our domestic hens, yet it lays eggs that are frequently five inches and more in length.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: If I read another article which describes the American wife as a pampered, spoiled, pleasure-seeking parasite I'll throw up.

Who started this preposterous lie anyway? Why do magazine writers get away with mass-produced garbage? I'll bet the "Spoiled Wife" articles are written by cigar-smoking men — and bachelors at that.

You'd think the invention of the washing machine and the vacuum sweeper liberated women from housework for all time. Just because a wife doesn't make her own soap and cook on a wood stove any more doesn't mean she's sitting around the house reading novels and nibbling on bon bons.

Women don't have to work as hard as they once did but neither do men.

The myth that the little woman is head of the house is the loudest laugh yet. Show me a wife who can watch the TV show of her choice when a ball game or a Western is on!

The American husband is the most spoiled, pampered indulged male on the face of the earth. His mom begins the job and his wife inherits it. — TEED OFF.

Dear Teed: Oliver Wendell Holmes said, "No generalization is worth a damn — including this one." And he was so right.

Early Preparation

Dear Ann: I'm a girl who is only 10 years old and I don't have the problem yet, but I want to know how to solve it when it happens. A person who has the advice all ready is better off than the person who has to start hunting for advice after things happen.

My question is when a boy comes over to your house how do you get him to go home? Thank you ahead of time— MISS MUFFET WRITING FROM HER TUFFET.

Dear Miss Muffet: You are looking forward to some high-class worries. Most girls worry about how to get fellows to come over and you already are worried about how to get them to go home.

When you think a boy has stayed long enough say, "We will have to continue this interesting visit another time because you have to go now."

Pest Back In Town

Dear Ann: I have a serious problem and I pray you will help me.

For two years I dated a boy I will call Steve. He was very possessive and suspicious and checked every move I made. At first I was flattered, then he began to get on my nerves. Finally we broke up.

(I should tell you that while we were going together we did some things we had no right to do. I'm lucky I didn't end up in a home for unwed mothers.)

Now, three years later, I'm happily married to a man who knows all about Steve and me. Never once has he thrown it up to me, so this is not my problem. What I'm worried about is this: Steve has moved back to town and is seeing the same friends we used to know together. I'm scared to death he will tell them about us.

Should I call Steve and beg him to keep quiet? — REGRETS.

Dear Regrets: Don't call him or he'll have one more thing to say. A gentleman never tells and a heel never keeps quiet because a girl asks him to. Your best bet is to forget the past and hope Steve does the same.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Child Should Be Prepared For School

Earlier in this column we discussed the child about to enter the first grade at school. Today let us consider the child who will return to school next week. It may not be too late to have the doctor check on his physical well - being and for you to look into his health habits at home. How well is he eating of the balanced diet you provide for him? Does he get sleep enough? During summer, he may have slept later in the morning than he will be able to sleep after school begins. His bedtime schedule may have to be revised accordingly.

Dr. Garry Myers

HOW READY is he to conform to the family routines? They may need to be more rigid than during the summer. How ready is he to be home on nights before school and to go at homework if such be assigned at school? Is he ready to conform to desirable regulations of time spent ar viewing TV?

How well has he acquired responsibility for his own things and his self-care? Has he practiced in responsibilities for sharing in the family's need and drudgeries? Has he had good practice in wise use of money? Often children who receive a regular budgeted allowance during the school year have no such allowance during summer or have only the semblance of one.

How hopefully he will look forward to school will depend not only on his degree of school success last year but also on how you, his parents, have felt and acted toward him as a pupil or student. If he did well at school last year, aim to cause him to want to do as well or even better this year.

IF HE lagged at school last year, don't remind him that he did. Don't warn him he must do better this year. Instead, let him know you will try to help him find better ways to succeed at books. If he did well last year in any area or direction remind him of it. After school resumes be sure to seize upon the smallest evidence of success.

You might consider hiring a tutor to work with him half an hour or so during the early weeks of school, even longer.

Take stock of yourselves as parents. How much interest do you express in his school successes and experiences? Will he feel that which he does at school will be very important? When you help him with his schoolwork, how patient will you be?

My bulletins "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School," "Helping Child With Lessons at Home," and "Parents and the Child's Homework" may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Thousands Of Pencils But Not One To Use

CANTON, Mo. (AP) — Registration at the American Society of Pencil Collectors annual convention at Culver - Stockton College was temporarily delayed, when it was discovered no one had anything to write with.

Thousands of pencils were on exhibit at the women's dormitory where registration was scheduled but there was nothing to "sign in" with.

A. N. Allen, Culver - Stockton professor and official host, explained that the thousands of pencils on exhibit, and the dozens of "trading pencils" of the exhibitors, were in "mint" condition — that is unsharpened.

A pocket knife was brought to the rescue, and the convention and its informal program proceeded.

'Manry Day' Slated Today At Ohio Fair

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A record crowd was expected today as the Ohio State Fair pays tribute to Robert Manry, Cleveland newsman who gained international fame by sailing his 13 ½-foot boat, Tinkerbelle, across the Atlantic Ocean.

Gov. James A. Rhodes has declared today "Robert Manry Day" at the fair, and across the state, as well.

Manry was to be the guest of Gov. Rhodes on a tour of the fair.

Sen. and former Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche and families of former governors, including Myers Y. Cooper and George White, planned to attend dedication ceremonies for the Frank J. Lausche Youth Exhibits Building and the Myers Y. Cooper Judging Arena.

Other dedications today included the Ohio Highway Patrol Academy and the Herbert F. Christian Youth Camp.

A new queen reigned over the fair today.

Patti Moodie, 17 - year - old hazel-eyed brunette from West Alexandria (Preble County) was named the 1965 Miss Ohio State Fair in ceremonies Wednesday night.

Miss Moodi, who was selected Junior Fair Queen earlier, won the "Queen-of-Queens" pageant.

Runners-up included Sharon Ann Martin of Fremont, JoAnn Duerr, Bolivar, May Sigg, Maineville, and Carolyn Jelley of Sidney.

Fair attendance Wednesday was 62,744, bringing the 1965 attendance to 536,731, about 137,000 ahead of last year's pace, officials said.

Airman Receives Pilot's License In 'Spare' Time

Airman 1C Daniel A. Orlando Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Orlando of 1104 Virginia Ave., Midland, has received his commercial pilot's license from the Federal Aviation Agency.

Assigned to base supply in the aircraft NORS controller - priority branch at McConnell Air Force Base, Kan., where he is stationed, Orlando received his license through private enterprise, training during off-duty hours and on weekends.

He now has more than 220 hours in single engine aircraft and has flown approximately 22,000 miles of local and cross-country flights.

A 1961 graduate of Lincoln High School, Orlando joined the service in 1962 and has been assigned to McConnell for more than three years.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. Emma Weaver

Mrs. Emma Weaver of Riverside, Calif., a former East Liverpool resident, died Monday at 10 p. m. at her home following a several months illness. She was 85.

She was born in East Liverpool, a daughter of the late William James and Phoebe Williams James and moved from here in 1957.

She was a member of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. Her husband, Louis E. Weaver, died Nov. 1, 1959.

She leaves two sons, Robert Weaver of Riverside and Richard Weaver of St. Petersburg, Fla.; a sister, Mrs. Frank Guyton of Chester; six grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Services will be held at 11 a. m. Saturday at the Riverview Cemetery Chapel, with the Rev. Rudolph Miller of the Trinity Church officiating. Burial will be at Riverview Cemetery.

There will be no calling hours.

The Dawson Funeral Home is in charge of local arrangements.

O. B. Thompson

Services were held Tuesday for O. B. Thompson, a former East Liverpool resident, who died suddenly last Friday following a heart attack at his home in Orange, Calif., near Los Angeles. He was 70.

The son of the late Jack Thompson and Katherine Thompson, he was a retired magazine publisher. He was a graduate of East Liverpool High School.

Mr. Thompson is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alma Thompson; a daughter, Miss Olive Thompson, and a son, David Thompson, all at home; two sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Berger of Cleveland and Thelma Thompson of Canton.

Mrs. Frank Vescio

Friends may call at the Haugh Funeral Home in Wellsville tonight from 6 to 10 and Friday from 1 to 5 and 6 to 10 p. m.

Rosary will be said Friday at 8 p. m.

Miss Mary A. Early

Miss Mary Ann Early, 37, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Early of Wadsworth, former East Palestine residents, died Wednesday after a two-day illness.

Besides her parents, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. John Fejes of Wadsworth, and a brother, Dr. Lloyd S. Early Jr. of Wadsworth.

Private services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 at the Heights Christian Church at Shaker Heights.

Robert E. Cusick

LISBON — Robert E. Cusick, 57, of Lisbon R. D. 2 died at Wade Park Hospital in Cleveland at 3:30 a. m. Wednesday after a five-month illness. He had been a patient in the hospital three weeks.

He was born in Mingo Junction Dec. 20, 1907, the son of William H. Cusick and Emily Hill Cusick. A resident of this vicinity since 1911, he was a shovel operator for the R. and R. Coal Co. He was a veteran of World War II. He married Hazel Randolph in 1931.

In addition to his widow, at home, he is survived by his father, William H. Cusick of Lisbon; three daughters, Mrs. Alberta Tousel, Mrs. Elsie Markovitch and Miss Rose Mary Cusick, all of Cleveland; five sons, Robert Jr. of Marion, Richard of London, Clifford of Lisbon and Arnold and Stanley at home; a sister, Mrs. Viola McLaughlin of Rogers; four brothers, Paul of Lisbon, Cecil of New Springfield, Roy of West Point, and Lloyd of Brownsville, Pa., and 18 grandchildren.

Services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday at the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home, with the Rev. L. D. Smith of the West Point Nazarene Church officiating. Burial will be at West Beaver Cemetery in Wayne Township.

Friends may call from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 Friday.

Clarence D. Wright

Services for Clarence D. Wright, 412 Blakeley St., will be held Saturday at 11 a. m. at the Martin Funeral Home.

The Rev. E. C. Traylor, pastor of the First Church of Christ, will officiate. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call Friday afternoon and night at the funeral home.

Mr. Wright, an East Liverpool barber for 38 years and longtime president of the Ohio State Association of Journeymen Barbers and Employers, died suddenly early Wednesday at his home. He was 58.

Hurricane

s. whirled about 100 miles north of the Caicos Islands today.

Gales whipped 200 miles in all directions in front of Betsy's calm eye except the southwest, where they blew 100 miles. That would spare the 2,000 people on the Caicos.

A caretaker space team on Mayaguana, north of Caicos, was placed on alert by a hurricane command post at Cape Kennedy. Most of the island's equipment was wiped out by Hurricane Donna in 1960.

Other stations farther north were told to get ready for 55-mile winds within 48 hours just in case.

Late Wednesday night Betsy was whipping west-northwest at 7 m.p.h., from latitude 22.6 north, 68.8 west, which is about 170 miles east-northeast of Grand Turk Island and 750 miles east-southeast of Miami.

The Olmecs

As barbarians swarmed over Europe and sacked ancient Rome, a tribe of American Indians was creating, elaborate monuments, developing a system of mathematics and using a surprisingly accurate calendar.

These mysterious people, the Olmecs, reigned and then vanished from the rain forests of southern Mexico eight centuries before Columbus opened up the New World.

The Olmecs left colossal stone heads carved from massive blocks of basalt. One such head, nine feet high and weighing 16 tons, has been on display at the Mexican Pavilion of the New York World's Fair.

The only other such Olmec head in the United States stares inscrutably from a jungle setting in a corner of the National Geographic Society's Explorers Hall in Washington, D.C. This head is a cast of a 25-ton original unearthed during a series of joint archeological expeditions made by the Society and the Smithsonian Institution from 1939 to 1946. The original head is at Mexico's La Venta Park in Villahermosa.

Excavations of the heads and other objects in southern Mexico shed the first light on early American intellectual and artistic achievements formerly attributed to the Maya.

Engineers as well as sculptors, the Olmecs transported the colossal stones across rugged terrain from basalt mines 50 miles distant. No one knows how.

Lisbon Board Names Six To School Posts

LISBON — Six teachers were hired Wednesday during a special meeting of the Lisbon school board.

They are: Miss Lois Goff, who will teach the fourth grade at Lincoln elementary. From New Middleton, Miss Goff has taught in Canton and Poland.

Mrs. Barbara Davis, who will teach fifth-sixth-grade English at McKinley elementary. A Salem resident, she attended Ohio University.

Mrs. Nancy Budensiek, a special education instructor. She resides at Lisbon R. D. 5 and has taught in the Culver (Ind.) school system.

Clarence Keyser, a math teacher at David Anderson High School. Formerly of Beaver Falls, Pa., Keyser has taught in the Burgettstown and Aliquippa (Pa.) school systems.

Steven Frew of Lisbon, who will be junior varsity basketball coach.

James Morgan, also of Lisbon, freshman basketball coach.

Also approved were two changes in the present teaching staff. Miss Merle Moore, librarian, will be in charge of audio-visual aids in addition to her current position. Miss Leanne Gurney will be employed half time at Lisbon and half time at Leetonia, with the two systems splitting payment of her salary. She is a speech and hearing therapist.

In other actions, the board passed a resolution authorizing participation in a cooperative county plan to employ a person to coordinate federal aid programs for schools.

The board also approved a plan to cooperate in an exchange program sponsored by Rotary. It would permit an incoming student free tuition and grant future students from Lisbon to attend school elsewhere as exchange students and grant one year of educational credit.

Also approved was a renewal of school bus insurance for the coming term with Nationwide Insurance.

The next meeting of the board will be Sept. 14 at 7:30 p.m. in the superintendent's office.

Canton Walkout Ends, Steel Strike Averted

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A 46-day strike of 250 paper mill workers ended here Wednesday and a threatened strike by 800 Canton steel workers has been averted through agreements reached between the companies and unions involved.

Local 460 of the International Brotherhood of Pulp Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers voted 97-87 to accept a two-year contract and end their walkout at the Canton Corrugated Box Division of the St. Regis Paper Co. The new contract provides hourly pay raises of 7.8 cents this year and 9.1 cents next year, plus fringe improvements.

At E.W. Bliss Co., United Steelworkers agreed to extend a three-year contract that would have expired Tuesday midnight until at least Sept. 11.

Drive On 'Home Rule' Bill For D.C. Fails

WASHINGTON (AP) — A drive to bring the District of Columbia "home rule" bill to the House floor Sept. 13 has failed despite persistent appeals from President Johnson.

But the measure still can be wrenched from the district committee before Congress adjourns and Johnson still believes it will be passed this year, Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary said Wednesday.

The petition to discharge the committee has 185 signatures. To take effect at least 218 members, a majority of the House, must sign.

'Voice Of America' Director Takes Oath

WASHINGTON (AP) — "It is my intent that we 'swing' a little," John Chancellor said after taking the oath as new director of the Voice of America.

"Under my stewardship," the former NBC White House correspondent said Wednesday, "the Voice of America will not drift into arcane intellectualism or academic pedantry.

"We will be vigorous, amusing, avant garde; we will be the first with the latest, we will be current and contemporary."

Rhodes Decision Due On Filling Brown Seat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes will announce Saturday whether he will call a special election to fill the congressional vacancy created by the death of U.S. Rep. Clarence J. Brown.

The governor could call an election or leave the seat empty. The earliest a primary election could be held would be Sept. 13.

Ghana President Controls Army, Fearing Ouster

ACCRA, Ghana (AP)—President Kwame Nkrumah has taken direct command of Ghana's army following widespread rumors that some generals wanted to depose him.

Sources said two generals, ousted from their posts and retired in a surprise move last month, suggested Ghana would be better off without Nkrumah.

There was no indication, however, the general actually plotted against the Ghanian president.

Nkrumah took over command of the army Tuesday.

By taking direct command of the 10,000-man army, Nkrumah left Defense Minister Kofi Baako with only the jobs of civil defense, the veterans organization and administrative work.

Nkrumah previously had taken direct command of his personal security battalion which acts as his household guard.

Ghana's special security police are Russian-advised. All other police have been disarmed since a young constable attempted to shoot Nkrumah in January 1964.

Poppy Sales Set At Wellsville By VFW Post Friday

Wellsville's Pvt. Tommy Mackall VFW Post 5647 will hold its annual Poppy Day sale Friday.

Dohrman Rosenlieb, commander, urged residents to wear a Buddy Poppy, pointing out "it gives one that good feeling which comes from a small contribution to a worthy cause."

One cent from the sale of each poppy goes to help support the VFW National Home for Orphans and Widows of Veterans at Eaton Rapids, Mich. More than 200 orphans are housed at the home.

Rosenlieb said the manner in which the poppy funds may be spent is regulated by national bylaws. More than half the receipts are used for local veteran welfare work.

The flowers are made by disabled veterans in hospitals, with the work having a therapeutic value, he explained.

Each veteran receives a nominal amount for each flower he makes.

Possibly the oldest city in South America is Cuzco, Peru. It is believed to have been founded in the 11th century and was the seat of the mighty empire of the Incas.

Executive Posts Filled At Meeting Of Newell Legion

Three at-large members of the executive committee were selected during a meeting of Newell American Legion Post 114 Wednesday night.

Named to the committee were Edward Hupp, Harry Lytton and James Carl Durham.

Other executive committee members by virtue of their office are Dewaine Staley, commander; Tony LaNeve, adjutant; George LaNeve, first vice commander, and Arthur DeLong, finance officer.

Harold F. Vaughn Jr. of East Liverpool and George M. Steineman of Newell were accepted as new members.

DeLong presented a report on Little League activities during the summer and George LaNeve reported on the fraternal bowling league, which is comprised of 14 area groups.

Following the meeting, the executive committee met and named as an auditing committee George LaNeve, Durham, Herman Cameron and Charles Marrelli.

The next regular meeting will be Oct. 6.

Man Killed By Police In Street Gun Battle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— A Columbus man was fatally wounded in a street gun battle with police Wednesday night after he allegedly shot his wife.

Clyde Conrad, 25, hit by several bullets, died early today. His wife, Carolyn Sue, 23, was in fair condition with a stomach wound.

No policemen were wounded.

Police said Mrs. Conrad told them her husband shot her during an argument in their home. He then left the house and she made it to a friend's home and called police, who spotted Conrad shortly after.

Schweitzer, Noted Doctor, 'Gravely Ill'

LIBREVILLE, Gabon (AP)—Dr. Albert Schweitzer, 90, lies gravely ill today in his jungle hospital, in which he has treated thousands of Africans.

The old doctor, whose name is legend throughout the world, was stricken by fatigue Sunday and has not left his bed since.

Reports reaching the capital from the 100-mile distant jungle hospital were sketchy. Close associates refused to say anything or speculate on Dr. Schweitzer's chances of recovery.

"He is ill, very ill. We are all praying," a member of Dr. Schweizer's staff told an acquaintance over the telephone linking the island of Lambarene with the capital.

The hospital itself, located across the muddy Ogooue River from Lambarene Island, has no telephone. Dr. Schweitzer refused to install one.

Reports of his illness trickled from the hospital to Lambarene by staff members traveling across the river in dugout canoes.

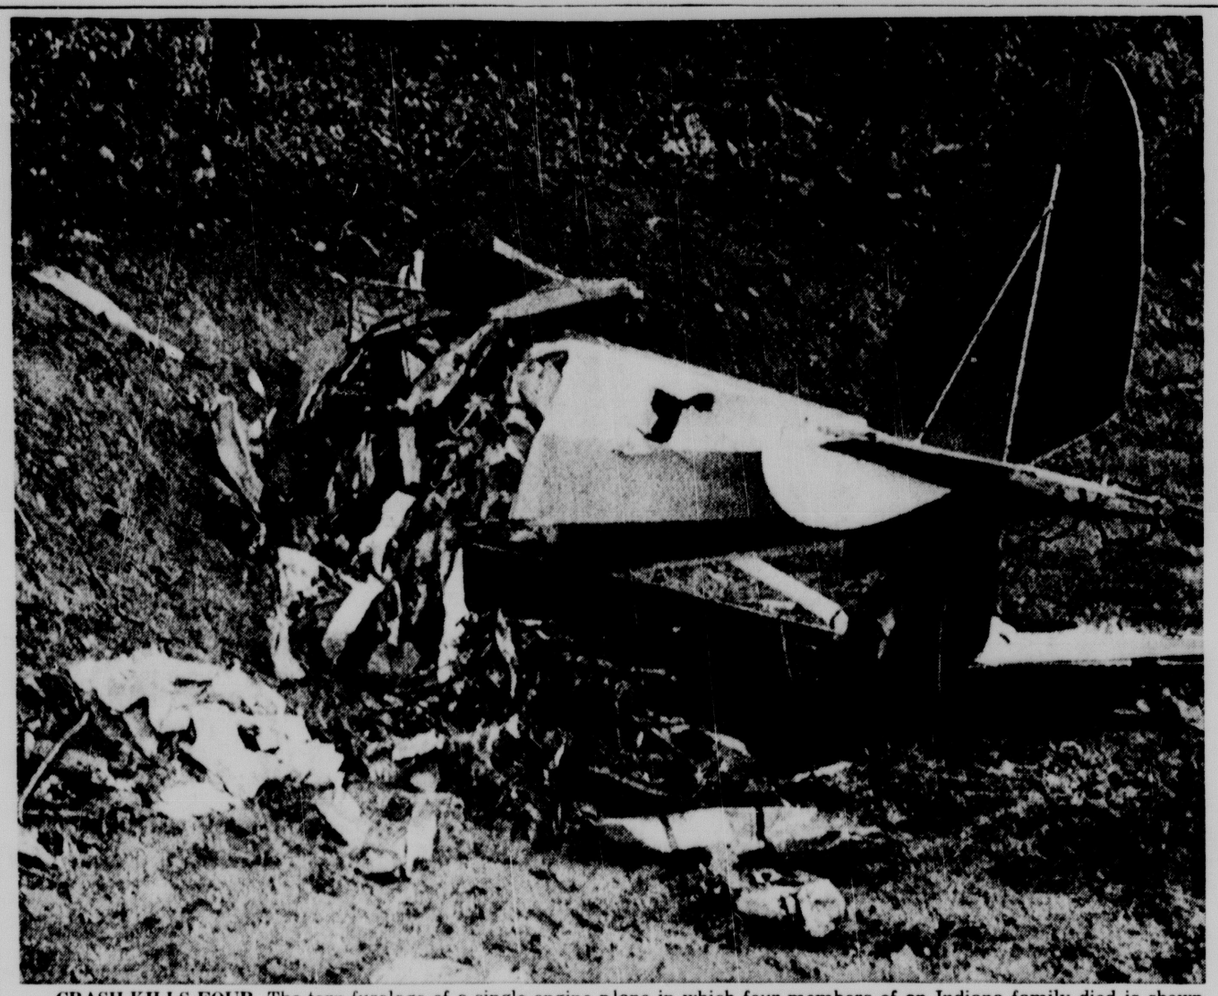
But he sat every day at his battered desk in the hut housing the hospital's central pharmacy, where drugs were given out to ailing Africans.

"I feel admirably well," he told this reporter last Jan. 14 on his 90th birthday.

According to reports available here, Dr. Schweitzer had kept up his daily routine, dictating answers to numerous letters, studying plans for new construction at the hospital and receiving visitors.

A report said the doctor had lost consciousness Wednesday, but recovered slightly toward evening.



CRASH KILLS FOUR. The torn fuselage of a single-engine plane in which four members of an Indiana family died is shown where it crashed Wednesday during heavy rain on the side of a 3,000-foot ski slope near Somerset, Pa. The dead were identified as Ralph E. Ward, 34, Greenfield, R. D. 5, Ind., his wife, Doris, 35, daughter, Tina, 10, and son, Eugene, 12. (UPI Telephoto)

Manry Given Keys To City Of Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert Manry is making up fast for not seeing or talking to many people for 78 days.

The 47-year-old copy editor for the Cleveland Plain Dealer talked to a handful of seamen who stopped to look when Manry sailed his 13½-foot Tinkerbelle across the Atlantic Ocean. The trip took 78 days.

Since then, Manry has seen thousands of people in England, New York and—last but not least—in Cleveland and suburban Willowick, where he lives.

The moustached, tanned Manry will see more people today at the Ohio State Fair in Columbus, which he will attend as a personal guest of Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Thousands of well-wishers lined the streets Wednesday along a parade route from Cleveland Hopkins International Airport to Public Square, where Mayor Ralph S. Locher presented Manry the keys to the city.

He was guest at a civic luncheon, then got a hearty welcome from his neighbors in Willowick.

The television antenna on the Manry home was decorated with red sails (the Tinkerbelle had a red sail) and American flags. A huge "Welcome Home Manrys" sign was in the front yard.

Boatswain Mate Tells About Hauling Kennedy Out Of Sea

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Boatswain Mate 1.C. Sam E. Harris, 26, described today hauling Sen. Robert F. Kennedy aboard a small Coast Guard cutter in 20-foot seas and 40-mile-an-hour winds off the Massachusetts coast.

Harris had received word at the Castle Hill Coast Guard station that the New York Democratic senator's daughter, Kathleen, 14, was injured—perhaps critically—when her horse fell on her Sunday during a Cape Cod horse show.

The Coast Guard said all efforts to reach Kennedy, seven of his children and friends aboard a yacht, Neris, in Rhode Island Sound failed because the yacht radio had been turned off.

Harris said he and his crew aboard a 30-foot craft finally reached them several miles off shore but the waves were so high he was unable to pull along side.

Kennedy, 39, then decided he would attempt to swim to the cutter despite the waves, occasionally reaching heights of 30 feet. That he was forced to dive from the yacht and make the swim was learned Wednesday night by the Washington Post, and confirmed today by Harris.

He said Kennedy took off his shirt, put on an orange floater vest, and swam for 32 seconds toward the cutter, which was then able to close in on him and pull him aboard.

Girl Killed, 3 Injured As Train Strikes Car

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A 15-year-old Akron girl was killed and three other persons, including her father, were injured when a freight train struck their auto and spun it into two other cars Wednesday night.

Dead is Joyce Murphy, daughter of Joseph P. Murphy, 43, the driver. Murphy was listed in serious condition and his 18-year-old daughter Jeanette, in fair condition at City Hospital. A fourth passenger in the car, 13-year-old Elesa Schley of Tallmadge, was reported in critical condition at Children's Hospital.

Two Cars Sideswipe Along Glendale Rd.

No one was injured or cited in a sideswiping collision Wednesday afternoon on Glendale Rd., the Hancock County sheriff's office reported.

The mishap on the narrow road involved a northbound car operated by Theodore T. Morgan, 57, of Newell and a southbound auto driven by John Bevington, 37, of Monaca St.

Deputies estimated $250 damage to Bevington's auto and $100 to Morgan's.

Shipping Crews Return, Ending Maritime Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Crews return today to ships that had been strikebound for 78 days, signaling the end of one of America's longest and costliest maritime walkouts.

Deck and radio officers, who had removed their picket lines Monday, voted Wednesday to ratify four-year contracts hammered out in long Washington sessions.

The 13,000-ton freighter American Crusader, owned by the United States Line, cast off from her Hudson River pier Wednesday night. More of the approximately 100 idled ships in Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports were to follow today.

Incomplete results showed members of the International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots, AFL-CIO, voting heavily for the new contract.

Officials of the other striking AFL-CIO union, the American Radio Association, said their members also voted overwhelmingly to end the strike.

$48 Million Slated For Ohio Beneficiaries

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Social Security Administration says Ohioans will receive $48 million as their share of the $885 million it is paying out to beneficiaries this month in retroactive benefits.

The increase voted by Congress effective Jan. 1, 1965, is 7 per cent, or a minimum of $4 a month.

MORE LIVING, LEARNING, EARNING POWER FOR OHIOANS

615,000 KILOWATT ADDITION TO OHIO POWER'S MUSKINGUM RIVER PLANT

Construction has begun on a 615,000 kilowatt steam-electric generating unit at our big Muskingum River plant south of Zanesville. To be completed in 1968, this new addition will boost Muskingum's capacity to 1,495,000 kilowatts, making it one of the largest investor-owned steam generating plants in the United States. The plant construction and allied projects, including new major transmission lines and expansion of our coal mining facilities, will result in a total investment of $108 million.

AREA GROWTH STIMULATES NEED — Ohio's increasing industrial expansion and the growing popularity of the total electric concept among our residential, commercial and institutional customers clearly forecast the need for this large block of electric power by 1968. Included in the project is a new 345,000-volt transmission line 194 miles long and costing $11 million which will help carry this additional power throughout Ohio Power's territory.

FIRST IN OHIO — The new "Unit 5" will utilize a giant hyperbolic, natural-draft cooling tower standing 370 feet high to cool 220,000 gallons of water per minute. This unique tower is the first such structure in Ohio and the largest in the United States.

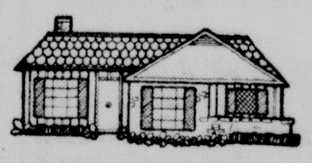
NEW "UNIT NO. 5" IS ATTRACTIVE FROM ALL SIDES!

MORE POWER FOR MORE JOBS

Availability of abundant, low-cost electric power is a major plant location requirement for most modern industries. Our new Unit 5 will continue to make communities we serve attractive areas for industrial expansion and economic growth.

ADDITIONAL TAX SUPPORT

Unit 5 is completely investor financed in the sound tradition of business/civic responsibility. Unlike "public" power projects, the new facility will not impose a new tax burden. Quite the reverse. It will, instead, generate additional tax dollars to help all area citizens support the increasing needs for schools, highways and other essential government services.



MORE LOW-COST POWER

Unit 5, though a major improvement, is only one part of a continuing program aimed at one mutually profitable goal: to serve our customers with abundant, dependable electric power at the lowest possible cost. Your ever-increasing preference for modern, total electric homes and our increased power production and distribution efficiencies have resulted in four rate reductions in the past four years.

BIG BET ON YOUR FUTURE

Unit 5 will stand as a physical symbol of $108 million worth of carefully business managed investment in the future economy of Ohio. When plenty of low-cost electric power is added to rich natural resources, improved industrial sites, new transportation facilities and educational/recreational enticement — well, $108 million is a heap of confidence and we aren't about to be wrong.

Schweitzer, Noted Doctor, 'Gravely Ill'

LIBREVILLE, Gabon (AP)—Dr. Albert Schweitzer, 90, lies gravely ill today in his jungle hospital, in which he has treated thousands of Africans.

The old doctor, whose name is legend throughout the world, was stricken by fatigue Sunday and has not left his bed since.

Reports reaching the capital from the 100-mile distant jungle hospital were sketchy. Close associates refused to say anything or speculate on Dr. Schweitzer's chances of recovery.

"He is ill, very ill. We are all praying," a member of Dr. Schweizer's staff told an acquaintance over the telephone linking the island of Lambarene with the capital.

The hospital itself, located across the muddy Ogooue River from Lambarene Island, has no telephone. Dr. Schweitzer refused to install one.

Reports of his illness trickled from the hospital to Lambarene by staff members traveling across the river in dugout canoes.

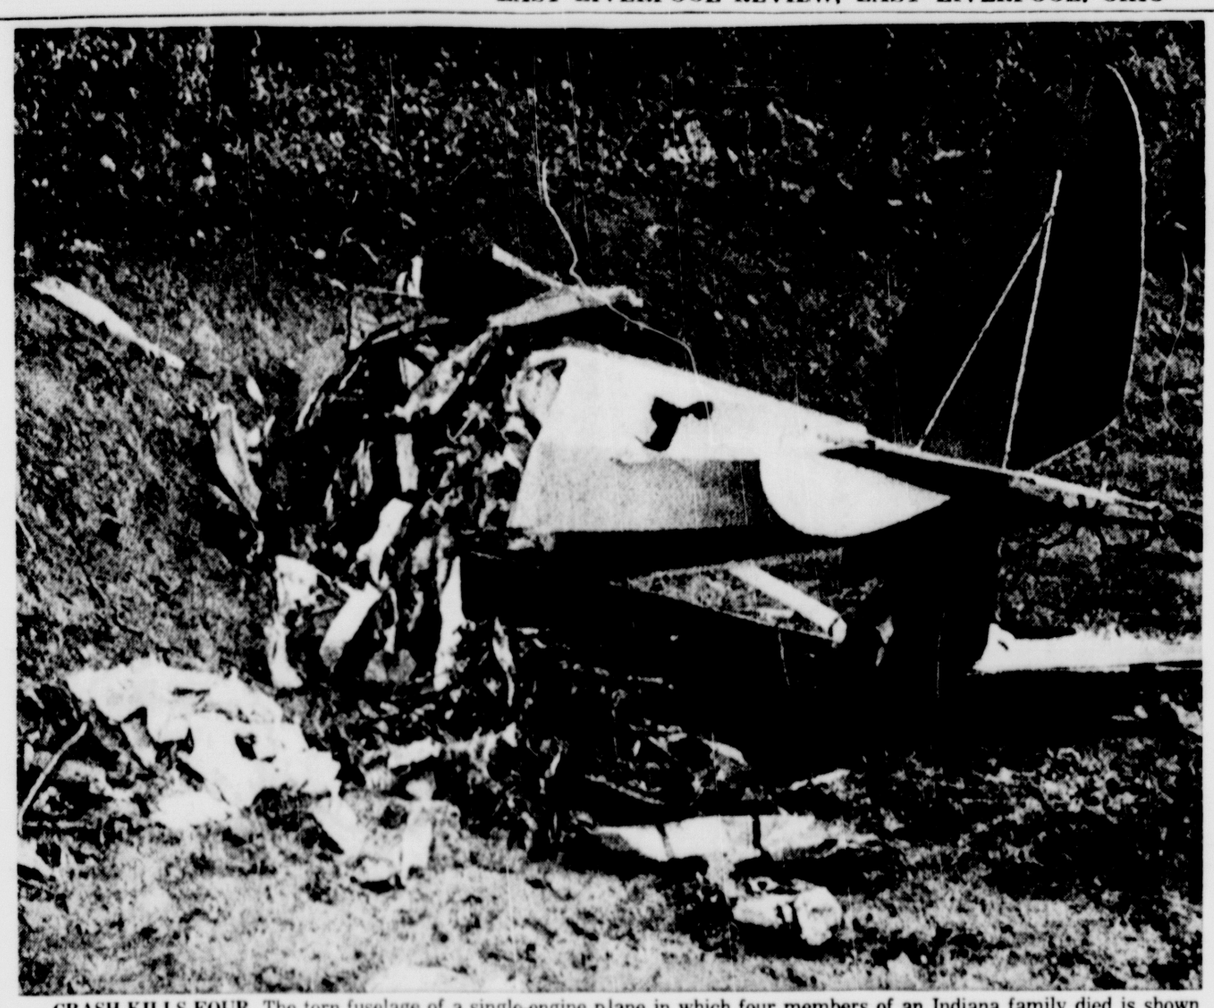
But he sat every day at his battered desk in the hut housing the hospital's central pharmacy, where drugs were given out to ailing Africans.

"I feel admirably well," he told this reporter last Jan. 14 on his 90th birthday.

According to reports available here, Dr. Schweitzer had kept up his daily routine, dictating answers to numerous letters, studying plans for new construction at the hospital and receiving visitors.

A report said the doctor had lost consciousness Wednesday, but recovered slightly toward evening.



CRASH KILLS FOUR. The torn fuselage of a single-engine plane in which four members of an Indiana family died is shown where it crashed Wednesday during heavy rain on the side of a 3,000-foot ski slope near Somerset, Pa. The dead were identified as Ralph E. Ward, 34, Greenfield, R. D. 5, Ind., his wife, Doris, 35, daughter, Tina, 10, and son, Eugene, 12. (UPI Telephoto)

Manry Given Keys To City Of Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert Manry is making up fast for not seeing or talking to many people for 78 days.

The 47-year-old copy editor for the Cleveland Plain Dealer talked to a handful of seamen who stopped to look when Manry sailed his 13½-foot Tinkerbelle across the Atlantic Ocean. The trip took 78 days.

Since then, Manry has seen thousands of people in England, New York and—last but not least—in Cleveland and suburban Willowick, where he lives.

The moustached, tanned Manry will see more people today at the Ohio State Fair in Columbus, which he will attend as a personal guest of Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Thousands of well-wishers lined the streets Wednesday along a parade route from Cleveland Hopkins International Airport to Public Square, where Mayor Ralph S. Locher presented Manry the keys to the city.

He was guest at a civic luncheon, then got a hearty welcome from his neighbors in Willowick.

The television antenna on the Manry home was decorated with red sails (the Tinkerbelle had a red sail) and American flags. A huge "Welcome Home Manrys" sign was in the front yard.

Boatswain Mate Tells About Hauling Kennedy Out Of Sea

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Boatswain Mate I.C. Sam E. Harris, 26, described today hauling Sen. Robert F. Kennedy aboard a small Coast Guard cutter in 20-foot seas and 40-mile-an-hour winds off the Massachusetts coast.

Harris had received word at the Castle Hill Coast Guard station that the New York Democratic senator's daughter, Kathleen, 14, was injured—perhaps critically—when her horse fell on her Sunday during a Cape Cod horse show.

The Coast Guard said all efforts to reach Kennedy, seven of his children and friends aboard a yacht, Neris, in Rhode Island Sound failed because the yacht radio had been turned off.

Harris said he and his crew aboard a 30-foot craft finally reached them several miles off shore but the waves were so high he was unable to pull along side.

Kennedy, 39, then decided he would attempt to swim to the cutter despite the waves, occasionally reaching heights of 30 feet. That he was forced to dive from the yacht and make the swim was learned Wednesday night by the Washington Post, and confirmed today by Harris.

He said Kennedy took off his shirt, put on an orange floater vest, and swam for 32 seconds toward the cutter, which was then able to close in on him and pull him aboard.

Club Meeting, Reunion Head Lisbon Events

LISBON — Seventeen members of the Tel-Star Club held a dinner meeting at Heck's Restaurant in Columbiana Tuesday evening.

It opened with prayer led by Mrs. Carrie Conrad.

Mrs. Ruth Wallace, president, conducted the business session when Mrs. Margaret Leggett was enrolled as a new member.

A wedding gift was presented Mrs. Hazel Gary and a birthday remembrance honored Mrs. Sarah Gartland, who also received a special prize.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Hattie Smith.

The next meeting, Sept. 28 at 7 p.m., will be at the home of Mrs. Gartland of Hillcrest Rd., Wellsville.

Family Reunion Held

The annual Hildebrand family reunion was held Sunday at Silver Park in Alliance, with 50 attending from Du Bois and Sugar Grove, Pa.; Massillon, Boardman, Novelty, Youngstown, New Milford, Valley City and Lisbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hildebrand of Massillon, president and secretary for the reunion, conducted the afternoon business meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Seward Hildebrand of Lisbon were elected president and secretary for the 1966 reunion to be held at the park on Sunday Aug. 28.

Four Workers Killed When Elevator Falls

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Four workmen died as an outside elevator fell 20 floors at a downtown construction project Wednesday. A fifth suffered critical injuries.

The accident was at a 33-story high rise apartment building. All of the victims were residents of Houston.

They had delivered plumbing fixtures to the 22nd floor of the building and were descending to ground level when the elevator cable snapped.

Girl Killed, 3 Injured As Train Strikes Car

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A 15-year-old Akron girl was killed and three other persons, including her father, were injured when a freight train struck their auto and spun it into two other cars Wednesday night.

Dead is Joyce Murphy, daughter of Joseph P. Murphy, 43, the driver. Murphy was listed in serious condition and his 18-year-old daughter Jeanette, in fair condition at City Hospital. A fourth passenger in the car, 13-year-old Elesa Schley of Tallmadge, was reported in critical condition at Children's Hospital.

Two Cars Sideswipe Along Glendale Rd.

No one was injured or cited in a sideswiping collision Wednesday afternoon on Glendale Rd., the Hancock County sheriff's office reported.

The mishap on the narrow road involved a northbound car operated by Theodore T. Morgan, 57, of Newell and a southbound auto driven by John Bevington, 37, of Monaca St.

Deputies estimated $250 damage to Bevington's auto and $100 to Morgan's.

More Arrests Made In Plymouth

Spread Of Race Violence Feared In North Carolina

By The Associated Press

A national civil rights leader says demonstrations may spread from violence-stricken Plymouth into other sections of North Carolina, a Southern state with a record of good race relations.

Massed police made more arrests Wednesday in Plymouth as they sought to relieve racial tensions which city authorities blamed on the Ku Klux Klan and out-of-town thrill seekers.

Officers have arrested six persons since two white men were wounded in a street clash between whites and Negroes Tuesday night. The tensions grew out of Negro voter registration demonstrations which began more than two weeks ago in the fishing and paper mill town of 5,000 in eastern North Carolina.

Violence was touched off Tuesday night for the second time in a week when a group of Negroes walked past a crowd of whites on the main street. A few minutes earlier, Negro leaders, fearing trouble, had called off a protest march.

In Durham, Floyd McKissick, national chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality, said, "when Plymouth stops, it's going to be another town — you pick it. There are dozens of Plymouths in North Carolina."

Elsewhere on the racial scene, there were these developments:

An aide to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. announced in Atlanta that King will go to Chicago and Los Angeles this fall in an effort to interest civil rights, ghetto and gang leaders in those cities in his nonviolent movement. King called the effort a "pilot project on problems facing Negroes in Northern ghettos."

In Natchez, Miss., city officials called off a scheduled Wednesday night meeting with representatives of the local Negro community and reset it for today.

One spokesman, who asked that his name be withheld, said the officials thought it best not to hold this type of meeting at night. Negro leaders were to meet with city officials to hear them answer the 12 desegregation demands drawn last Saturday at a Negro mass meeting. A Negro leader said there may be a street demonstration if the results of today's meeting are not acceptable to Negroes.

After a summer of violent racial turmoil, public schools in the troubled southeast Louisiana mill town of Bogalusa integrated quietly and peacefully.

Mailman Asks Albuquerque To Put Bite On Dog Owners

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Mailman Eddie Rael wants the City Commission to put the bite on dog owners so their pets will stop putting the bite on letter carriers.

Rael was making his rounds last June when a large dog rushed out of a house and bit him on the leg. Rael had to stay off his feet for eight days.

Rael told the Albuquerque branch of the National Association of Letter Carriers there ought to be a law. He found out there is, but city figures show it's not enforced too closely.

Last year, Rael also discovered, 40 mailmen were bitten in this city of 310,000 population — about double the number from the previous year.

Rael was appointed chairman of the dog-bite committee for local letter carriers. The committee's aim is to have the city enforce animal control ordinances requiring dogs to be kept under restraint at all times.

"We're in jeopardy even if we do sign a complaint (against dog owners)," Rael said in an interview. "We have to frequent the place where we're bitten every day.

"I grew up with dogs but we had to be responsible for them."

Rael and the letter carriers took their case to the Albuquerque City Commission Tuesday night but had no opportunity to present their case.

"We'll go back next week," Rael said. "It may be we'll have to get national headquarters of the Letter Carriers Association to help us. This is a tough enough job; rain and hail and sleet and snow and all, without dog bites.

"Funny thing. But the day I went back on duty, I had to deliver a postage due letter and collect the postage. You know where? The same house I got bitten at."

Rael since has changed routes.

The first U. S. college to establish co-education was Oberlin College, Ohio, in 1833. It also was the first college to confer degrees on women, in 1841.

Shipping Crews Return, Ending Maritime Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Crews return today to ships that had been strikebound for 78 days, signaling the end of one of America's longest and costliest maritime walkouts.

Deck and radio officers, who had removed their picket lines Monday, voted Wednesday to ratify four-year contracts hammered out in long Washington sessions.

The 13,000-ton freighter American Crusader, owned by the United States Line, cast off from her Hudson River pier Wednesday night. More of the approximately 100 idled ships in Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports were to follow today.

Incomplete results showed members of the International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots, AFL-CIO, voting heavily for the new contract.

Officials of the other striking AFL-CIO union, the American Radio Association, said their members also voted overwhelmingly to end the strike.

$48 Million Slated For Ohio Beneficiaries

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Social Security Administration says Ohioans will receive $48 million as their share of the $885 million it is paying out to beneficiaries this month in retroactive benefits.

The increase voted by Congress effective Jan. 1, 1965, is 7 per cent, or a minimum of $4 a month.

State Department And CIA Asked About 'Bribery' Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional committee today called on the State Department and Central Intelligence Agency to explain why a formal denial of a $3-million bribery incident that took place in Singapore in 1960 backfired to the embarrassment of the U.S. government.

Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on the Far East, said closed hearings will be held after the Labor Day recess to obtain an explanation from responsible officials on bribery allegations brought by Singapore Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew.

Lee threatened to name an American presidential intermediary of high rank who he said offered him the bribe in 1960 if he would not reveal the arrest of an American CIA agent trapped trying to buy information from Singapore secret agents.

State Department officials were taken aback Tuesday when Lee released a letter from Secretary of State Dean Rusk which apologized for improper activities by American agents and promised disciplinary action.

Zablocki said it was "most unfortunate" that the State Department had issued a formal denial of the bribery charge on Tuesday and then had itself reversed on Wednesday.

"It is not too difficult to look back to what action Prime Minister Lee was talking about," Zablocki said. He refused to elaborate.

State Department officials insisted that only Rusk and the Central Intelligence Agency knew of the letter to Lee. Zablocki indicated that Congress had been filled in on the incident when it occurred toward the close of the Eisenhower administration.

Power Firm Project Wins Recognition

The Monongahela Power Co.'s program of improved appearances throughout its service area has been cited in a special "Beautility" report by Electrical World, the electric industry's weekly magazine.

"Monongahela Power's use of new materials, standardized design, higher voltages and simplified structures all are combined with an aesthetic eye to make the nuts and bolts of electric service compatible with the area's growing awareness of natural beauty," the article said.

It also pointed out that "the enthusiastic community adoption of the company's street tree planting program has been a distinct bonus to the municipalities of the region."

The "Beautility" report of Electrical World is contained in a special 20-page supplement to the Aug. 23 issue of the magazine. Monongahela is one of some 30 utilities throughout the nation specifically mentioned as contributing to the improvement of appearances.

Monongahela's president, Donald M. Kammert, pointed out that a continuing program has been under way for some time to improve the appearances of the company's distribution system, particularly in the urban and suburban areas of its service territory.

The type of program receiving attention is under way or is being planned in sections of Weirton and Follansbee among other communities.

In the game of bridge, it is possible to be dealt 635,013,559,600 different hands of 13 cards each.

High Court Refuses Rehearing In Divorce

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court refused Wednesday to rehear a Washington Court House man's appeal of a divorce granted his wife, thus ending his long fight to nullify the action.

The action let stand the divorce granted Dec. 4, 1963, to Mrs. Lola B. Hoppes from Wendell N. Hoppes on grounds of extreme cruelty resulting from his "intensive espousing of the doctrines of the Jehovah's Witnesses."

Rules On Records

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Common Please Court Judge Winston C. Allen ruled Wednesday that police relief and pension board records should be opened to public inspection, even though they contain medical statements.

MORE LIVING, LEARNING, EARNING POWER FOR OHIOANS

615,000 KILOWATT ADDITION TO OHIO POWER'S MUSKINGUM RIVER PLANT

Construction has begun on a 615,000 kilowatt steam-electric generating unit at our big Muskingum River plant south of Zanesville. To be completed in 1968, this new addition will boost Muskingum's capacity to 1,495,000 kilowatts, making it one of the largest investor-owned steam generating plants in the United States. The plant construction and allied projects, including new major transmission lines and expansion of our coal mining facilities, will result in a total investment of $108 million.

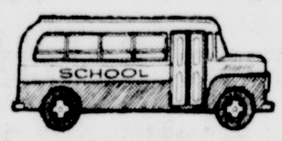
AREA GROWTH STIMULATES NEED — Ohio's increasing industrial expansion and the growing popularity of the total electric concept among our residential, commercial and institutional customers clearly forecast the need for this large block of electric power by 1968. Included in the project is a new 345,000-volt transmission line 194 miles long and costing $11 million which will help carry this additional power throughout Ohio Power's territory.

FIRST IN OHIO — The new "Unit 5" will utilize a giant hyperbolic, natural-draft cooling tower standing 370 feet high to cool 220,000 gallons of water per minute. This unique tower is the first such structure in Ohio and the largest in the United States.

NEW "UNIT NO. 5" IS ATTRACTIVE FROM ALL SIDES!

MORE POWER FOR MORE JOBS

Availability of abundant, low-cost electric power is a major plant location requirement for most modern industries. Our new Unit 5 will continue to make communities we serve attractive areas for industrial expansion and economic growth.



ADDITIONAL TAX SUPPORT

Unit 5 is completely investor financed in the sound tradition of business/civic responsibility. Unlike "public" power projects, the new facility will not impose a new tax burden. Quite the reverse. It will, instead, generate additional tax dollars to help all area citizens support the increasing needs for schools, highways and other essential government services.

MORE LOW-COST POWER

Unit 5, though a major improvement, is only one part of a continuing program aimed at one mutually profitable goal: to serve our customers with abundant, dependable electric power at the lowest possible cost. Your ever-increasing preference for modern, total electric homes and our increased power production and distribution efficiencies have resulted in four rate reductions in the past four years.

BIG BET ON YOUR FUTURE

Unit 5 will stand as a physical symbol of $108 million worth of carefully business managed investment in the future economy of Ohio. When plenty of low-cost electric power is added to rich natural resources, improved industrial sites, new transportation facilities and educational/recreational enticement — well, $108 million is a heap of confidence and we aren't about to be wrong.

More Hillbilly Comedy

Viewers are hardly going to know whether they are looking at "Petticoat Junction," or a new comedy series called "Green Acres." "Petticoat Junction," a spinoff from "Beverly Hillbillies, will be back on CBS with fresh episodes Tuesday night starting Sept. 14. "Green Acres," another spinoff from "Hillbillies," will be seen Wednesday nights starting Sept. 15.

Richard Doan

In this new show, Eddie Albert and Eva Gabor will play a city couple moved to a hick village — Hooterville, down the track from Petticoat Junction.

THE IDEA at first was to have the casts of "Petticoat" and "Acres" wander occasionally into each other's shows.

"We decided to go all the way," CBS-TV program boss Mike Dann, fresh back from Hollywood, announced. "The plots of the two shows will be integrated.

"In the first 13 episides of 'Green Acres,' there will be 11 in which the 'Petticoat Junction' cast will appear, and the 'Green Acres' cast will show up in 10 of the first 13 'Petticoat Junction' shows."

HE CHARACTERIZED it as an experiment, adding: "We've never before attempted to do a multiweekly comedy. It could, if successful, lead to a third segment each week."

"Petticoat" and "Acres" are being filmed on adjacent sets in Hollywood, with Paul Henning, who created "Hillbillies" and "Petticoat," and Jay Sommers, who dreamed up "Acres" (originally called "Country Cousins"), supervising both series.

"Petticoat" features Bea Benaderet and Edgar Buchanan, with Linda Kaye, Gunilla Hutton and Lori Sanders.

U.S.-SOVIET relations are getting finer on the TV front.

CBS' "Twentieth Century" on Oct. 4 will begin shooting its first documentary in Russia, a study of life in the skyscraper-housed Moscow University.

Isaac Kleinerman, producer of the CBS series, returned to New York last week with a contract negotiated with the Soviet's Novosti Press Agency agreeing the program may be filmed without Kremlin censorship.

"In one six-hour session," Kleinerman reported, "we hashed out the contract, writing it up on a typewriter in English, and then they broke out the smoked salmon and vodka and we celebrated. I can't say enough for how cooperative they were.

"WE ARE UNDER no obligation to do anything but send them a finished print two weeks before air time and to consider, if we wish, any suggestions they make after seeing it."

The program will be shown sometime after the first of the year. Kleinerman said Walter Cronkite, who narrates "Twentieth Century," might visit Moscow in connection with the report on the university.

Among other things the program will show how two dozen American graduate students, enrolling under an exchange program, are integrated into student life this fall at Moscow U.

THE 30-MINUTE TV Western is headed thisaway again.

Once, back in the '50s, the biggest thing on the home screen, the half - hour horse operas like "Lawman," "Bat Masterson," "Wanted Dead or Alive," and "Have Gun, Will Travel," gradually gave way to longer oaters, some of them (like the 90-minute "Virginian" and the hour-long "Bonanza") only quasi-Westerns.

Last season there was not a single 30-minute sagebrush saga left on the networks' evening schedules, until the midseason entry of "Branded" on NBC. It clicked, to many people's surprise, and turned the tide.

NEXT MONTH ABC will introduce a brace of oaters, "The Legend of Jesse James" and "A Man Called Shenandoah," plus a broad spoof of the Old West, "F Troop." CBS will bring on "The Loner."

Plot-wise, the new entries often favor lone wolves.

"Shenandoah" will have Bob Horton in search of his identity. Lloyd Bridges, in "The Loner," will be hunting a new life outside the dull East.

These are variations, of course, on the "Branded" theme, which has Chuck Connors labeled a coward and forced constantly to prove he isn't.

More Arrests Made In Plymouth

Spread Of Race Violence Feared In North Carolina

By The Associated Press

A national civil rights leader says demonstrations may spread from violence-stricken Plymouth into other sections of North Carolina, a Southern state with a record of good race relations.

Massed police made more arrests Wednesday in Plymouth as they sought to relieve racial tensions which city authorities blamed on the Ku Klux Klan and out-of-town thrill seekers.

Officers have arrested six persons since two white men were wounded in a street clash between whites and Negroes Tuesday night. The tensions grew out of Negro voter registration demonstrations which began more than two weeks ago in the fishing and paper mill town of 5,000 in eastern North Carolina.

Violence was touched off Tuesday night for the second time in a week when a group of Negroes walked past a crowd of whites on the main street. A few minutes earlier, Negro leaders, fearing trouble, had called off a protest march.

In Durham, Floyd McKissick, national chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality, said, "when Plymouth stops, it's going to be another town — you pick it. There are dozens of Plymouths in North Carolina."

Elsewhere on the racial scene, there were these developments:

An aide to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. announced in Atlanta that King will go to Chicago and Los Angeles this fall in an effort to interest civil rights, ghetto and gang leaders in those cities in his nonviolent movement. King called the effort a "pilot project on problems facing Negroes in Northern ghettos."

In Natchez, Miss., city officials called off a scheduled Wednesday night meeting with representatives of the local Negro community and reset it for today.

One spokesman, who asked that his name be withheld, said the officials thought it best not to hold this type of meeting at night. Negro leaders were to meet with city officials to hear them answer the 12 desegregation demands drawn last Saturday at a Negro mass meeting. A Negro leader said there may be a street demonstration if the results of today's meeting are not acceptable to Negroes.

After a summer of violent racial turmoil, public schools in the troubled southeast Louisiana mill town of Bogalusa integrated quietly and peacefully.

Mailman Asks Albuquerque To Put Bite On Dog Owners

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Mailman Eddie Rael wants the City Commission to put the bite on dog owners so their pets will stop putting the bite on letter carriers.

Rael was making his rounds last June when a large dog rushed out of a house and bit him on the leg. Rael had to stay off his feet for eight days.

Rael told the Albuquerque branch of the National Association of Letter Carriers there ought to be a law. He found out there is, but city figures show it's not enforced too closely.

Last year, Rael also discovered, 40 mailmen were bitten in this city of 310,000 population — about double the number from the previous year.

Rael was appointed chairman of the dog-bite committee for local letter carriers. The committee's aim is to have the city enforce animal control ordinances requiring dogs to be kept under restraint at all times.

"We're in jeopardy even if we do sign a complaint (against dog owners)," Rael said in an interview. "We have to frequent the place where we're bitten every day.

"I grew up with dogs but we had to be responsible for them."

Rael and the letter carriers took their case to the Albuquerque City Commission Tuesday night but had no opportunity to present their case.

"We'll go back next week," Rael said. "It may be we'll have to get national headquarters of the Letter Carriers Association to help us. This is a tough enough job; rain and hail and sleet and snow and all, without dog bites.

"Funny thing. But the day I went back on duty, I had to deliver a postage due letter and collect the postage. You know where? The same house I got bitten at."

Rael since has changed routes.

The first U. S. college to establish co-education was Oberlin College, Ohio, in 1833. It also was the first college to confer degrees on women, in 1841.

Pirates Continue Charge, Knock Dodgers From First

Bucs Sweep Doubleheader

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Like Humpty Dumpty, the Los Angeles Dodgers have had a great fall, and now they must wonder whether Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale can put them back together again.

Koufax and Drysdale, the winningest pair of pitchers on any team in the majors, were on the bottom of the fall Wednesday night as the charging Pittsburgh Pirates dropped them in a doubleheader 3-2 in 11 innings and 2-1.

The double defeat tumbled the Dodgers out of the National League lead because at the same time Cincinnati swept a pair from Milwaukee 7-6 and 2-0. That put the Reds on top, one percentage point ahead of the Dodgers.

The San Francisco Giants, who were rained out at Philadelphia, are one-half game back, the Braves are in fourth, two behind, and the fifth-place Pirates — with 10 victories in their last 11 games — trail by only 2½ games.

The Review Sports
THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1965 PAGE 20

In other NL games, St. Louis trounced Chicago 9-0 and New York defeated Houston 4-1 before bowing 8-5.

En route to his latest loss, Koufax broke his 1963 National League season strikeout record of 306 by fanning 10 Pirates and bringing his total to 313, just 35 away from Bob Feller's all-time mark.

The Pirates won the game in the 11th on a walk to Willie Stargell and Jim Pagliaroni's double. In the nightcap, Bill Virdon, who tied the contest with a sixth-inning homer, singled in the eighth, raced to third on Roberto Clemente's single and scored as Maury Wills fumbled Manny Mota's grounder.

The Reds won the opener with two runs in the ninth when rookie Tommy Helms tripled home Marty Keough and scored as Tom Harper singled. Deron Johnson drove in three Cincinnati runs with two homers while Mack Jones and Hank Aaron knocked in a pair for the Braves.

Jim Maloney, now 17-6, pitched a five-hitter and struck out 12 in the nightcap. Tony Perez supported Maloney with a second-inning homer.

Tracy Stallard posted the Cardinals' second straight shutout over the Cubs with a three-hitter. Curt Flood knocked in two runs while Bob Skinner homered.

Joe Christopher's two-run triple in the eighth helped New York's Al Jackson to his seventh victory against 17 defeats in the opener. The Astros came back for the second-game victory as Rusty Staub hit a three-run homer and Jim Gentile drove in three runs with two homers.

Oliva Resumes Defense Of Title

Twins' Star Gaining In Hitting Race

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

When baseball starts handing out its postseason award, it's just possible that Minnesota's Tony Oliva will wind up with his second silver bat and first purple heart.

Oliva, who has been playing all season long with a bone chip in the middle finger of his right hand, came back from a week's layoff Wednesday night and resumed defense of his American League batting title with two doubles and a single in the Twins' 5-2 victory over Detroit.

The 24-year-old left-handed swinger still trails Boston's Carl Yastrzemski, who is hitting .323, and Brooks Robinson of Baltimore, swinging at a .319 clip, in the three-way struggle for the title and the silver bat that goes with it.

But Oliva's 3-for-4 performance quickly shot him back into contention with a .315 mark as he attempts to become the first batting champion to repeat since Boston's Ted Williams accomplished the feat in 1957 and 1958.

While Oliva resumed his chase for the batting title, the front-running Twins moved eight games ahead of second-place Chicago in the AL pennant race. The White Sox were rained out at Baltimore.

Elsewhere, Kansas City edged Cleveland 4-3, Washington outlasted Boston 8-7 and the Los Angeles Angels nipped the New York Yankees 7-6 in 12 innings.

Oliva, who is second in the league in runs scored with 96, third in doubles with 33 and fourth in runs batted in with 83, doubled home the first run and then scored on a passed ball in a three-run first inning outburst against the Tigers.

Home runs by Bill Bryan and Wayne Causey got the job done for the A's. The Indians took a 2-0 lead against John O'Donoghue in the second but Bryan hit a three-run shot in the A's half and Causey hit what turned out to be the clincher with the bases empty in the sixth inning off Luis Tiant.

The Senators pulled out front to stay, 8-6, in the seventh inning after the Red Sox had tied the score in their half with a three-run rally built on Jim Gosger's double, four walks, two wild pitches and a sacrifice fly. Ken McMullen's double and Willie Kirkland's single broke the tie and Don Lock singled in the final run.

The Yankees contributed to their own downfall by committing seven errors and having two men picked off. The winning run in the 12th was set up when Pedro Ramos issued two-out walks to Bob Rodgers and Paul Schaal. Jose Cardenal then singled Rodgers home with the winning run for the Angels.

Boxing Figure Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph Lynch, 66, who twice won the bantamweight crown of professional boxing, was found dead in Sheepshead Bay Wednesday. Police listed cause of death as accidental drowning.

Season Ticket Holders Can Pick Up Books

Season ticket applicants may secure season books for East Liverpool High's home football games today, Friday and Tuesday between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the athletic office in the high school.

After Tuesday, the athletic office only will be open from noon to 4:30 p.m. Harold Ginder, ticket manager, announced.

Season books will be on sale tonight at Patterson Field during the "open house" which will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Reserved seat tickets for the opening game with Beaver Local on Sept. 11 are on sale at Reese's Jewelers.

Noble Victory's Stablemate

Egyptian Candor Claims Victory In Hambletonian

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — The Hambletonian Trophy, most coveted in harness racing and a winning check of $59,900 was in the Dancer family Thursday but it wasn't put there by the head of the household, Stanley.

In five previous attempts to win the top stake for 2-year-old trotters, the 38-year-old Stanley Dancer had failed. But this time everyone thought he was a shoo-in with Noble Victory, unbeaten in 20 starts with record earnings for his division of $280,566.

Noble Victory didn't make it. But Egyptian Candor, his stablemate, did. He is owned by Stanley's wife, Rachel, trained by Stanley, but driven by close-friend, Del Cameron.

The sleek, brown son of Stars Pride is named after Candor, the first horse the Dancer's ever owned and the one who launched Stanley on a fabulous career of driver and trainer, capped in 1964 when he became the first reinsman ever to drive winners of more than $1 million in a single season.

It took four heats to decide the winner Wednesday and only three times previously in the Hambletonian's 40-year history had it taken that many for a decision.

Short Stop, a $8,000 purchase by the Pennwin Stable of Winston-Salem, N.C., and driven by Ned Bower, won the first heat by a head over Nimble Boy in 2:05 1-5. Egyptian Candor took a nose victory over Nimble Boy and Ralph Baldwin in the second mile in 2:04 3-5.

Ambro Flight, entering the Hambletonian with a winning string of 22 starts, captured the third heat by a head over Egyptian Candor in 2:03 4-5.

The only filly in the starting field of 11, Ambro Flight, is owned by the Armstrong brothers of Brampton, Ont., and driven by Joe O'Brien.

Roseboro In Suit Against Marichal

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Catcher John Roseboro of the Los Angeles Dodgers has filed a $110,000 damage suit against the San Francisco Giants and their star pitcher, Juan Marichal, who clubbed Roseboro with a baseball bat Aug. 22

Roseboro's attorney, Leo Branton Jr., said in Los Angeles that a complaint has been filed in Superior Court against Marichal and the Giants seeking $10,000 in general damages and $100,000 in exemplary and punitive damages.

He said the suit avers that Marichal "did without provocation commit assault and battery against the plaintiff with a deadly weapon, that Roseboro was severely injured and was caused pain and suffering."

Roseboro, in Pittsburgh for the Dodgers' series against the Pirates, said in a statement Wednesday night he brought suit for "the unprovoked attack made upon me at Candlestick Park . . ." Marichal opened a two-inch gash on Roseboro's head in the explosive brawl. Roseboro said, "My decision to take this action is due not only to the brutal attack upon my person, but, just as important, is due to the fact that some severe action should be taken against a man who not only set a bad example for millions of baseball fans throughout the world, but apparently from recent statements has attempted to defend and justify his outrageous conduct."

Marichal, in Philadelphia where his first scheduled start since the incident was washed out, declined comment except to say, "I wish I had that much, half that much, quarter that much."

President Warren Giles of the National League suspended Marichal for eight playing days, fined him $1,750 and ordered him to stay out of Los Angeles for the Giants' last trip there Monday and Tuesday.

Cincy U. Coach Lauds Squad's Hustle, Spirit

CINCINNATI (AP) — "There was tremendous hustle and spirit, and we got a lot accomplished for first day," Coach Chuck Studley said Wednesday after the first day's workout by the University of Cincinnati football team, which hopes to retain its Missouri Valley Conference title.

He said there will be some problems because of the dismissal of sophomore fullback Clem Turner and junior end Marvin Godfrey, dropped from the squad after police charged them with tending to cause the delinquency of two minor girls.

Playoffs Will Open On Friday

By The Associated Press

With the end of the International League season, Columbus, Atlanta, Toronto, and Syracuse are poised for the first round of the playoffs beginning Friday.

Columbus, which won the pennant by 2½ games over Atlanta and 3½ over Toronto, meets Syracuse on its home field Friday while Toronto and Atlanta play at Atlanta. The best-of-7 playoffs shift to Toronto and Syracuse after three games.

In Wednesday's final regular season games, Columbus won the first game 4-1 before losing the nightcap of a doubleheader to Atlanta 4-2, Syracuse outlasted Toledo 6-3 in 13 innings, and Rochester provided Buffalo with its 96th loss of the season 4-1.

In the first game, Columbus bunched a homer by Jose Martinez, triples by George Springgs and Purn Goldy, and a double by Martinez into the third and fourth inning to account for all their runs.

Morrall Set To Start In Lions Game

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns will take a good look at the New York Giants Saturday when the Giants play the Detroit Lions in the first game of the fourth annual Pro Football Doubleheader.

The National Football League champion Browns play the Green Bay Packers in the second game, but don't face the Western Division club during the regular season. They do, however, play the Giants twice and Coach Allie Sherman has quarterback Earl Morrall ready for action.

Morrall was acquired from the Lions in a trade Monday.

The Packers, meanwhile have been working extra hard for their game against the Browns. Coach Vince Lombardi ordered a 15-minute scrimmage Wednesday in Green Bay, the drill apparently triggered by the Packers' failure to score a touchdown in last Saturdays 21-12 loss to the Dallas Cowboys.

Sweepstakes Set In N. Hampshire

SALEM, N.H. (AP) — The New Hampshire Sweepstakes Classic, its value doubled over 1964, will be raced for the second time at Rockingham Park Saturday with five rich payoffs awaiting the outcome of the 1¼ mile race.

Four of the payoffs will be for $100,000 each and the fifth for $183,118 if the names of the 11 expected starters are dropped into the entry box today.

The $100,000 payoffs will go the holders of the sweepstakes tickets on the first horse across the finish line. The big one is what the owner of the winning horse will take home as a reward for sending his thoroughbred to America's richest 3-year-old race at this picturesque track in the foothills of the White Mountains.

Kelley, Latshutak Are Buck Cocaptains

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University's football team has selected linebacker Ike Kelley and end Greg Lashutka as cocaptains of the 1965 squad.

The two were selected by their teammates Wednesday after rain forced the team into French Fieldhouse for its initial practice sessions. Fifty - eight candidates turned out.

'PICK' ROLLEY
Returns To Alma Mater.

'Pick' Rolley Named Tiger Jayvee Coach

Ray (Pick) Rolley is returning to Wellsville High School as an assistant basketball coach. Supt. Lowell Myers said Rolley will be recommended for the position at the next Board of Education meeting Sept. 13.

Rolley is one of Wellsville High's all - time scorers and gained all-Ohio and all-Eastern Ohio honors while performing for the Tigers.

The 26-year-old coach is replacing Charles (Chick) McMillan who was named head mentor at Northwest High School in Stark County.

Rolley was head coach at Westgate Junior High School last season guiding the Wildcats to a Junior High tournament championship. He had been an assistant at Westgate for two years.

After graduating from Wellsville in 1957, Rolley went on to play college basketball at Adrian (Mich.) College and was named captain in his senior season.

He is married and the Rolley's have two children.

Rolley will teach mathematics at Wellsville.

State Department And CIA Asked About 'Bribery' Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional committee today called on the State Department and Central Intelligence Agency to explain why a formal denial of a $3-million bribery incident that took place in Singapore in 1960 backfired to the embarrassment of the U.S. government.

Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on the Far East, said closed hearings will be held after the Labor Day recess to obtain an explanation from responsible officials on bribery allegations brought by Singapore Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew.

Lee threatened to name an American presidential intermediary of high rank who he said offered him the bribe in 1960 if he would not reveal the arrest of an American CIA agent trapped trying to buy information from Singapore secret agents.

State Department officials were taken aback Tuesday when Lee released a letter from Secretary of State Dean Rusk which apologized for improper activities by American agents and promised disciplinary action.

Zablocki said it was "most unfortunate" that the State Department had issued a formal denial of the bribery charge on Tuesday and then had itself reversed on Wednesday.

"It is not too difficult to look back to what action Prime Minister Lee was talking about," Zablocki said. He refused to elaborate.

State Department officials insisted that only Rusk and the Central Intelligence Agency knew of the letter to Lee. Zablocki indicated that Congress had been filled in on the incident when it occurred toward the close of the Eisenhower administration.

Power Firm Project Wins Recognition

The Monongahela Power Co.'s program of improved appearances throughout its service area has been cited in a special "Beautility" report by Electrical World, the electric industry's weekly magazine.

"Monongahela Power's use of new materials, standardized design, higher voltages and simplified structures all are combined with an aesthetic eye to make the nuts and bolts of electric service compatible with the area's growing awareness of natural beauty," the article said.

It also pointed out that "the enthusiastic community adoption of the company's street tree planting program has been a distinct bonus to the municipalities of the region."

The "Beautility" report of Electrical World is contained in a special 20-page supplement to the Aug. 23 issue of the magazine. Monongahela is one of some 30 utilities throughout the nation specifically mentioned as contributing to the improvement of appearances.

Monongahela's president, Donald M. Kammert, pointed out that a continuing program has been under way for some time to improve the appearances of the company's distribution system, particularly in the urban and suburban areas of its service territory.

The type of program receiving attention is under way or is being planned in sections of Weirton and Follansbee among other communities.

High Court Refuses Rehearing In Divorce

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court refused Wednesday to rehear a Washington Court House man's appeal of a divorce granted his wife, thus ending his long fight to nullify the action.

The action let stand the divorce granted Dec. 4, 1963, to Mrs. Lola B. Hoppes from Wendell N. Hoppes on grounds of extreme cruelty resulting from his "intensive espousing of the doctrines of the Jehovah's Witnesses."

Rules On Records

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Common Please Court Judge Winston C. Allen ruled Wednesday that police relief and pension board records should be opened to public inspection, even though they contain medical statements.

Paul Caught 52 Passes In '64

Without Warfield, Ryan Looking For New Targets At Cleveland

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland's hopes of repeating as National Football League champions suffered a body blow in the College All-Star game when Paul Warfield, the Browns' leaping split end, was put out of action for 10 weeks with a broken collar bone.

Warfield's loss was a severe handicap to the Browns because the former Ohio State athlete caught 52 passes last year and gave the club an outside threat on the opposite side of the line from flanker Gary Collins. No longer could the opposition key on Collins as the chief air threat and Jim Brown as the entire ground game.

Little Walter Roberts, the 5-10, 163-pound "flea" from San Jose State, has been doing an exceptional job filling in for Warfield in the exhibition games. Coach Blanton Collier has been using both Roberts and 6-2 Clifton McNeil at split end and also has used McNeil behind Collins at flanker.

But Warfield or no Warfield, the heart of the Cleveland ball club still is Jim Brown. The 29-year-old fullback, who has led the league in rushing in seven of his eight years in pro ball, is ready for another big season.

Ernie Green came on strong last year as a running mate for J.B. and Leroy Kelly has been running strong behind Green.

Warfield, of course, is the key receiver for Frank Ryan, the much-maligned quarterback who came into his own last season with 25 touchdown passes.

Ryan's chief targets are Warfield and Collins with an occasional flip to tight end Johnny Brewer. Brown, of course, is a prime target on the screen pass. Roberts, McNeil and Tom Hutchinson back up the regulars.

If anything happens to Ryan, Collier has Jim Ninowski, a seasoned veteran who probably could be No. 1 on several NFL clubs.

The offensive line that does such a good job of keeping defenders off Ryan's back is composed of Dick Schafrath and Monte Clarke at the tackles, John Wooten and Gene Hickerson at guards and John Morrow at center.

Collier hopes to get some rookie help for the older members of his defensive line from rookies Jim Garcia of Purdue and Walter Johnson of Los Angeles State. Paul Wiggin, 30, and Bill Glass, 30, at the ends and Dick Modzelewski, 34, at one tackle have a little age. Jim Kanicki, the other tackle, is only 23.

Vince Costello, middle linebacker, is 32, and Galen Fiss, the right side man, is 34 but Jim Houston on the left is only 27. Dale Lindsey, rookie from Western Kentucky, has impressed.

Mike Howell, brother of Lane Howell of Philadelphia, has been battling the veteran Bernie Parrish for the left corner job in the deep defense. Howell is a former quarterback from Grambling. Walt Beach will man the other corner and Ross Fichtner and Larry Benz will be the safety men.

Nixon Arrives In Viet To Appraise Situation

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon arrived in Saigon today for what he called a "first hand appraisal of the situation in South Viet Nam."

Nixon reiterated that he supports President Johnson's policy in Viet Nam. There is no choice but to "punish aggression," he said.

The first patent issued in the United States was to John Ruggles in 1836 for his invention of a device to increase the power of railroad locomotives and to prevent their wheels from sliding.

Waterford Employe Seeks To Have Suspension Lifted

CHARLESTON (AP) — A Waterford Park race track employe suspended after taking part in a strike has launched a West Virginia Supreme Court proceeding to have the suspension lifted.

William R. Thoburn, who was employed as an outrider at the horse track near Newell, filed the proceeding against the Waterford Park Board of Stewards and the State Racing Commission. His petition related:

As a member of Teamsters Local 412, he honored a picket line set up when the union called a strike against the track July 19 and has continued to honor it.

On July 27, the Waterford stewards, acting on behalf of the Racing Commission, suspended Thoburn and nine other men. The ground given was alleged violation of a commission rule covering conditions of employment. Thoburn's petition said the action had the effect of suspending the men from all tracks in the state.

The petition said that the action was taken without notice or a chance for Thoburn to be heard and that the commission so far has failed to grant a hearing on a protest which he filed July 30.

Alleging that the Board of Stewards exceeded its authority, Thoburn asked the Supreme Court to require the stewards and the commission to show cause why they should not be prohibited from continuing the suspension and why it should not be vacated.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING — Jim Maloney, Reds, completed 7-6, 2-0 doubleheader sweep by blanking Milwaukee on five hits as Cincinnati took over the National League lead by one percentage point over Los Angeles.

BATTING — Tony Oliva, Twins, returned to line-up after a week's absence and stroked two doubles and a single as Minnesota downed Detroit 5-2 and increased its American League lead to eight games.

Broken Toes Shelve OU's Star Fullback

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Two broken toes have sidelined Wash Lyons, Ohio University's hard-running fullback. A team spokesman said the football star probably will miss the season opener with West Texas State Sept. 18.

Lyons, who led the Mid-American Conference in rushing last season as a sophomore, broke the toes in an industrial accident July 19 in Ashtabula, his home town.

Youngstown Concern Dropping Lake Sales

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A Youngstown firm has agreed to discontinue sales in Lake County after authorities dropped complaints of false advertising by the firm, Blind Associates, Inc.

County Prosecutor Fred V. Skok said Wednesday solicitors had falsely advertised products in a telephone sales campaign as being made by and for the benefit of blind persons.

Palmer Picked To Win Oklahoma City Open

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Two-time winner Arnold Palmer was the man to beat today as a 145-man field teed off for the seventh annual $65,000 Oklahoma City Open Golf Tournament.

The defending champion, Palmer last year toured the 7,098-yard, par 72 Quail Creek course in a spectacular 277, a record 11 strokes under par. He also won here in 1959.

Palmer and Howie Johnson tied for pro honors with 68s in Wednesday's pro-amateur event.

Death Trap

Milkweed is one of the handsomest of wild flowers, but it is a death trap to visiting insects.

In summer, the red, orange and purplish fires of its flowers are spread across most of the United States east of the Rockies. Nearly every Easterner is familiar with milkweed's fragrance, the milky juice that oozes from broken stems and the wondrous pods filled with silken threads.

The nectar - laden blossoms provide a feast for insects. But a heavy duty is exacted. Small flies, wasps, bees and ants often lose their lives to the ruthless host.

The milkweed flower is intricately designed to ensure cross-pollination of the species. To get at the nectar, an insect must become entangled in sticky, heavy masses of pollen. To escape, the insect must be strong enough to pull free and carry a sizable load of pollen to the stigma of the next flower visited.

Though the common milkweed kills some insects, the so-called butterfly milkweed, a different species, feeds and shelters a migrant butterfly, the monarch. Monarchs can be found wherever this milkweed grows.

Senate Warns AAU, NCAA To Settle Fuss

WASHINGTON (AP) — The wrangling bosses of U.S. amateur track and field affairs have been told by the Senate Commerce Committee to arrange peace terms within a week or Congress will be asked to settle the dispute for them.

To a man the committee members hope Congress can sit on the sidelines and watch peace descend, but none predicts this will happen.

At war over jurisdictional matters are the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) and the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

Its Regime Reaching For An Ace Up Sleeve

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

In this important anniversary week for North Viet Nam, its regime acts like a gambler reaching for the ace up his sleeve—the potential for trouble among influential Buddhists and intellectuals in South Viet Nam.

The North's propaganda hammers at this restlessness in an obvious attempt to activate and enlarge a political warfront in the South's cities, thus "attacking the enemy's rear" in support of Communist forces.

The success of the effort would depend upon the extent to which Communist agents have infiltrated and influenced the South's restive elements.

Exactly 20 years ago, Sept. 2, 1945, Ho Chi Minh appeared in Hanoi's Ba Dinh Square and proclaimed a "Democratic Republic of Viet Nam." The event heralded two decades of warfare in Indochina.

In many Western eyes at the time, "Uncle Ho" was a nationalist patriot and reformer, a fighter against the Japanese wartime occupation and against the returning French colonial power. Today, North Vietnamese propaganda describes Ho's strategy of that time as "clever association of the experiences of the Russian October revolution and those of the Chinese revolution."

North Viet Nam's Communists call the events leading to the Sept. 2 proclamation "the August revolution." A little more than a week ago they directed propaganda appeals to their collaborators and sympathizers in the South to adopt the same tactics.

It may be just coincidence, but the past week brought a rash of demonstrations in the South similar to the one in Hue over the weekend involving 3,000 Buddhists and another at Da Nang, where the U.S Marines have their most important base. There are also evidences of resurgent student restlessness in Saigon.

Hanoi's propaganda urges Communists and their sympathizers to exploit all possibilities, "political, military, economic and cultural."

Like Mao Tze-tung's Communist revolution in China, the Vietnamese one began in rural areas. Hanoi's spokesmen say the Viet Cong now control four-fifths of the countryside and 10 million people. Thus, they find it is time to bring the war to the cities in whatever forms possible.

Desertions From South Viet Forces Drop, Pentagon Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rate of desertions from South Viet Nam's armed forces has dropped by more than half from a high point early this year, Pentagon sources disclosed today.

This is considered a hopeful sign, possibly indicating an upswing in South Vietnamese morale and a rising confidence in the non-Communist cause.

The Pentagon refused to discuss the desertion rate. But knowledgeable sources said it is now down below 5,000 a month.

About 10,000 men a month were pulling out of the South Vietnamese armed forces for about three months early this year.

Although the desertion rate has been cut by more than half, it still represents a heavy drain on a force already stretched so thin that the U.S. troop commitment in Viet Nam has had to be increased heavily.

The desertion problem makes much tougher the job of building the South Vietnamese armed forces by another 100,000 men. The present strength stands at about 545,000.

U.S. authorities are hopeful that higher pay and reforms aimed at improving the lot of soldiers and their families will lower the desertion rate further.

Also, the national police are being strengthened, in part, to cope with the desertions from the armed forces.

U.S. officials said most desertions have been from part-time regional and home guard elements, rather than from the regular army.

The Virgin Islands were discovered by Christopher Columbus during his second voyage to the New World in 1493. He named them Las Virginies, in honor of St. Ursula and her 11,000 martyr companions who, according to the legend, perished on the banks of the Rhine.

More Hillbilly Comedy

Viewers are hardly going to know whether they are looking at "Petticoat Junction," or a new comedy series called "Green Acres." "Petticoat Junction," a spinoff from "Beverly Hillbillies, will be back on CBS with fresh episodes Tuesday night starting Sept. 14. "Green Acres," another spinoff from "Hillbillies," will be seen Wednesday nights starting Sept. 15.

Richard Doan

In this new show, Eddie Albert and Eva Gabor will play a city couple moved to a hick village — Hooterville, down the track from Petticoat Junction.

THE IDEA at first was to have the casts of "Petticoat" and "Acres" wander occasionally into each other's shows.

"We decided to go all the way," CBS-TV program boss Mike Dann, fresh back from Hollywood, announced. "The plots of the two shows will be integrated.

"In the first 13 episides of 'Green Acres,' there will be 11 in which the 'Petticoat Junction' cast will appear, and the 'Green Acres' cast will show up in 10 of the first 13 'Petticoat Junction' shows."

HE CHARACTERIZED it as an experiment, adding: "We've never before attempted to do a multiweekly comedy. It could, if successful, lead to a third segment each week."

"Petticoat" and "Acres" are being filmed on adjacent sets in Hollywood, with Paul Henning, who created "Hillbillies" and "Petticoat," and Jay Sommers, who dreamed up "Acres" (originally called "Country Cousins"), supervising both series.

"Petticoat" features Bea Benaderet and Edgar Buchanan, with Linda Kaye, Gunilla Hutton and Lori Sanders.

U.S.-SOVIET relations are getting finer on the TV front.

CBS' "Twentieth Century" on Oct. 4 will begin shooting its first documentary in Russia, a study of life in the skyscraper-housed Moscow University.

Isaac Kleinerman, producer of the CBS series, returned to New York last week with a contract negotiated with the Soviet's Novosti Press Agency agreeing the program may be filmed without Kremlin censorship.

"In one six-hour session," Kleinerman reported, "we hashed out the contract, writing it up on a typewriter in English, and then they broke out the smoked salmon and vodka and we celebrated. I can't say enough for how cooperative they were.

"WE ARE UNDER no obligation to do anything but send them a finished print two weeks before air time and to consider, if we wish, any suggestions they make after seeing it."

The program will be shown sometime after the first of the year. Kleinerman said Walter Cronkite, who narrates "Twentieth Century," might visit Moscow in connection with the report on the university.

Among other things the program will show how two dozen American graduate students, enrolling under an exchange program, are integrated into student life this fall at Moscow U.

THE 30-MINUTE TV Western is headed thisaway again.

Once, back in the '50s, the biggest thing on the home screen, the half-hour horse operas like "Lawman," "Bat Masterson," "Wanted Dead or Alive," and "Have Gun, Will Travel," gradually gave way to longer oaters, some of them (like the 90-minute "Virginian" and the hour-long "Bonanza") only quasi-Westerns.

Last season there was not a single 30-minute sagebrush saga left on the networks' evening schedules, until the midseason entry of "Branded" on NBC. It clicked, to many people's surprise, and turned the tide.

NEXT MONTH ABC will introduce a brace of oaters, "The Legend of Jesse James" and "A Man Called Shenandoah," plus a broad spoof of the Old West, "F Troop." CBS will bring on "The Loner."

Plot-wise, the new entries often favor lone wolves.

"Shenandoah" will have Bob Horton in search of his identity. Lloyd Bridges, in "The Loner," will be hunting a new life outside the dull East.

These are variations, of course, on the "Branded" theme, which has Chuck Connors labeled a coward and forced constantly to prove he isn't.

Will Promote Building Program

Citizens' Group Formed To Aid Wellsville Schools

A Citizens Committee For Better Schools has been formed at Wellsville to promote a building program and proposed bond issue which will be submitted to voters at a special election Sept. 21.

Dr. Janis Lauva, vice president of the Board of Education, agreed to serve as chairman of the committee during a public organization meeting Wednesday night in the visual education room of the Daw School. Sixty - five attended.

Bill Miller will serve as co-chairman and head the publicity committee.

AFTER BEING welcomed by Supt. Lowell Myers, those present were given various financial facts and figures. Dr. Lauva reviewed the action of the board in applying to the Ohio Board of Education for aid in the building program.

It calls for the state to provide $333,938 and the school district $860,000. The district will vote on its share of the cost at the special election.

Dr. Lauva pointed out that the junior high would be moved to the MacDonald building, Garfield and McKinley schools would be eliminated and a new 600-pupil elementary building constructed in the downtown area, with a 180-pupil addition and other improvements at Fairview School, along with the renovation of the high school.

A 45-minute question - and - answer period followed. The most concern was expressed by part of the representation from MacDonald PTA. The parents questioned transporting part of the children of that district by bus to the Fairview School.

It was pointed out that this was called for in the state proposal. In the eyes of the state, it was explained, this is the logical place to build because it is felt the growth of the city will be in Hillcrest and Russell Heights areas.

Asked where the downtown school will be located, officials informed the group that any site named must be approved by the state.

IT WAS announced the Board of Education and City Council has met in caucus session to discuss the possibility of "trading" the city for Harmon Park Field between 16th and 17th St. for land where the present Garfield School is located. Council indicated that a satisfactory arrangement can be made.

The board said this site would be centrally located and every youngster could walk to school.

Raymond Rolley, board clerk, presented figures on the cost of the property owners of the community. On a home that sells for $10,000 in Wellsville, the property is listed on the tax duplicate at Lisbon for $3,600. Most property is on the duplicate for 40 per cent of its actual value and in Wellsville this is reduced another 10 per cent.

The total mills paid in Wellsville for all purposes is 36.2. Presently, the home owner on a $10,000 home is paying $130.32 per year. With the new proposal, the first year the owner would pay an additional $21.60. This would decrease each year as the bonds were retired. On the average, it would be $17.14 yearly or $1.43 per month.

Wellsville spends $382.20 per pupil each year. Comparisons offered were Stanton Local $769.01; East Liverpool, $399.60; Southern Local, $387.57; Beaver Local, $326.71; Lisbon, $397.19; Toronto, $460.08, and Salem, $471.45.

On bond indebtedness, Wellsville has $300,000. Other school districts listed were Salem, $1,812,000; East Liverpool, $4,665,000; Lisbon, $638,437; Southern Local, $423,000; Beaver Local, $819,000.

WELLSVILLE ranks next to the bottom in tax valuation per pupil. In comparing district millages, the Wellsville school district has 25.5 and will be voting on 3 mills for operating expenses and the bond issue; Stanton Local has 12.85; Salem 27.20 and voting on an additional 2.80; Toronto 21.35; East Liverpool, 25.90, which will be increased next year to retire bonds, plus voting on 3.5 more; Lisbon 26 now but rising to an even 30 with a new issue passed; Southern Local 23.60, and voting on 3 more.

Groups and organizations represented were Knights of Columbus Council 507, VFW Post 9285, VFW Post 5647, the Auxiliary of VFW Post 9285, Fairview, Garfield, McKinley MacDonald and Daw PTAs, American Legion Post 70 and its Auxiliary, Wellsville Women's Civic Club, Masonic Lodge 180, the United Brick and Clayworkers Local of the H. K. Porter Co., Band Parents, Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis Club, Greater Wellsville Association, Hammond Park Commission, the Wesco Manufacturing Co., Jaycees, Jaycee-ettes, Rebekah Lodge, Republican Club, Lady Elks, and the Auxiliary of Eagles Lodge 772.

Dr. Lauva urged residents to eliminate any bias feelings that might exist and look to the good for all children. He pointed to the bad condition of Garfield and McKinley Schools and said the building program would assure all first - class schools in the city. He said whenever changes are made they will affect some people adversely, but that the overall good must be considered.

Luster Retires At Crucible After Serving For 16 Years

Noah P. Luster of Ohio View has retired, effective yesterday, at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., where he was staff assistant of special projects in the Cold Strip Department of the Flat Rolled Products Division.

He was employed 16 years at the Midland Works, starting in 1949 as turn foreman in the Cold Strip - Rolling Department. He was promoted to general foreman in 1955 and to staff assistant early in August this year.

He has been employed in the steel industry 40 years and was a former night superintendent of cold rolling for the McLouth Steel Co. of Detroit.

Luster, first president of the Crucible Management Club, resigned from the club's Board of Directors last month due to retirement. He was chairman of the steering committee which organized the club in 1961 and served as club president and chairman of the Board of Directors from 1962 to 1965. He was instrumental in organizing the Club's bowling and golf leagues.

He is a member and past president of the Industry Volunteer Fire Department and is a member of the Industry Borough fire-police detail.

A candidate for Industry Borough Council in November, he is a member of St. Christine's Church in Industry.

Man Who Searched Jungles In Viet For Brother Returns

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Dawson, who searched the jungles of South Viet Nam in vain for 10 months to find his brother dead or alive, returned home to a dry-eyed reunion, saying he just wants "to go back to work to support my family."

Dawson, 28, was met at the airport Wednesday night by his wife, Jeanne, 27. They had only a moment's privacy before facing newsmen. They obliged cameramen with a long kiss.

Dawson, skipper of an oil survey ship before he left for Asia late last year, said he spent $3,000 in the search, but failed to find his brother, Army Lt. Daniel Dawson, 27, a spotter plane pilot who disappeared over enemy territory last Nov. 6.

During his search, Dawson was held for four months in a Viet Cong prison camp, was stricken with malaria, then finally released after the Communists told him his brother was dead.

"I finally convinced them that my one wish was to have my brother's remains with me when I left. It was hell, but it was worthwhile. My brother would have done the same thing for me, and I would do it again," Dawson said.

His wife agreed: "I feel it was worthwhile," but added: "I'm glad that he is home."

On his failure to return with his brother's remains, Dawson said: "I don't consider that this is a finished story. When the war is over, I've got to go back, and they (the guerrillas) will take me to my brother's grave.

"In the meantime, I've got to go back to work to support my family."

Ports Bill Offered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., has introduced a bill that would close American ports to any foreign vessel that carried a cargo to North Viet Nam.

According to motor accident statistics, the front seat to the right of the driver is the "most dangerous" position in a car—more than 80 per cent of all accident injuries being sustained by the person occupying that seat.

Pirates Continue Charge, Knock Dodgers From First

Bucs Sweep Doubleheader

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Like Humpty Dumpty, the Los Angeles Dodgers have had a great fall, and now they must wonder whether Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale can put them back together again.

Koufax and Drysdale, the winningest pair of pitchers on any team in the majors, were on the bottom of the fall Wednesday night as the charging Pittsburgh Pirates dropped them in a doubleheader 3-2 in 11 innings and 2-1.

The double defeat tumbled the Dodgers out of the National League lead because at the same time Cincinnati swept a pair from Milwaukee 7-6 and 2-0. That put the Reds on top, one percentage point ahead of the Dodgers.

The San Francisco Giants, who were rained out at Philadelphia, are one-half game back, the Braves are in fourth, two behind, and the fifth-place Pirates — with 10 victories in their last 11 games — trail by only 2½ games.

The Review Sports
THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1965 PAGE 20

In other NL games, St. Louis trounced Chicago 9-0 and New York defeated Houston 4-1 before bowing 8-5.

En route to his latest loss, Koufax broke his 1963 National League season strikeout record of 306 by fanning 10 Pirates and bringing his total to 313, just 35 away from Bob Feller's all-time mark.

The Pirates won the game in the 11th on a walk to Willie Stargell and Jim Pagliaroni's double. In the nightcap, Bill Virdon, who tied the contest with a sixth-inning homer, singled in the eighth, raced to third on Roberto Clemente's single and scored as Maury Wills fumbled Manny Mota's grounder.

The Reds won the opener with two runs in the ninth when rookie Tommy Helms tripled home Marty Keough and scored as Tom Harper singled. Deron Johnson drove in three Cincinnati runs with two homers while Mack Jones and Hank Aaron knocked in a pair for the Braves.

Jim Maloney, now 17-6, pitched a five-hitter and struck out 12 in the nightcap. Tony Perez supported Maloney with a second-inning homer.

Tracy Stallard posted the Cardinals' second straight shutout over the Cubs with a three-hitter. Curt Flood knocked in two runs while Bob Skinner homered.

Joe Christopher's two-run triple in the eighth helped New York's Al Jackson to his seventh victory against 17 defeats in the opener. The Astros came back for the second-game victory as Rusty Staub hit a three-run homer and Jim Gentile drove in three runs with two homers.

Oliva Resumes Defense Of Title

Twins' Star Gaining In Hitting Race

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

When baseball starts handing out its postseason award, it's just possible that Minnesota's Tony Oliva will wind up with his second silver bat and first purple heart.

Oliva, who has been playing all season long with a bone chip in the middle finger of his right hand, came back from a week's layoff Wednesday night and resumed defense of his American League batting title with two doubles and a single in the Twins' 5-2 victory over Detroit.

The 24-year-old left-handed swinger still trails Boston's Carl Yastrzemski, who is hitting .323, and Brooks Robinson of Baltimore, swinging at a .319 clip, in the three-way struggle for the title and the silver bat that goes with it.

But Oliva's 3-for-4 performance quickly shot him back into contention with a .315 mark as he attempts to become the first batting champion to repeat since Boston's Ted Williams accomplished the feat in 1957 and 1958.

While Oliva resumed his chase for the batting title, the front-running Twins moved eight games ahead of second-place Chicago in the AL pennant race. The White Sox were rained out at Baltimore.

Elsewhere, Kansas City edged Cleveland 4-3, Washington outlasted Boston 8-7 and the Los Angeles Angels nipped the New York Yankees 7-6 in 12 innings.

Oliva, who is second in the league in runs scored with 96, third in doubles with 33 and fourth in runs batted in with 83, doubled home the first run and then scored on a passed ball in a three-run first inning outburst against the Tigers.

Home runs by Bill Bryan and Wayne Causey got the job done for the A's. The Indians took a 2-0 lead against John O'Donoghue in the second but Bryan hit a three-run shot in the A's half and Causey hit what turned out to be the clincher with the bases empty in the sixth inning off Luis Tiant.

The Senators pulled out front to stay, 8-6, in the seventh inning after the Red Sox had tied the score in their half with a three-run rally built on Jim Gosger's double, four walks, two wild pitches and a sacrifice fly. Ken McMullen's double and Willie Kirkland's single broke the tie and Don Lock singled in the final run.

The Yankees contributed to their own downfall by committing seven errors and having two men picked off. The winning run in the 12th was set up when Pedro Ramos issued two-out walks to Bob Rodgers and Paul Schaal. Jose Cardenal then singled Rodgers home with the winning run for the Angels.

Boxing Figure Dies

Noble Victory's Stablemate

Egyptian Candor Claims Victory In Hambletonian

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — The Hambletonian Trophy, most coveted in harness racing and a winning check of $59,900 was in the Dancer family Thursday but it wasn't put there by the head of the household, Stanley.

In five previous attempts to win the top stake for 2-year-old trotters, the 38-year-old Stanley Dancer had failed. But this time everyone thought he was a shoo-in with Noble Victory, unbeaten in 20 starts with record earnings for his division of $280,566.

Noble Victory didn't make it. But Egyptian Candor, his stablemate, did. He is owned by Stanley's wife, Rachel, trained by Stanley, but driven by close friend, Del Cameron.

The sleek, brown son of Stars Pride is named after Candor, the first horse the Dancer's ever owned and the one who launched Stanley on a fabulous career of driver and trainer, capped in 1964 when he became the first reinsman ever to drive winners of more than $1 million in a single season.

It took four heats to decide the winner Wednesday and only three times previously in the Hambletonian's 40-year history had it taken that many for a decision.

Short Stop, a $6,000 purchase by the Pennwin Stable of Winston-Salem, N.C., and driven by Ned Bower, won the first heat by a head over Nimble Boy in 2:05 1-5. Egyptian Candor took a nose victory over Nimble Boy and Ralph Baldwin in the second mile in 2:04 3-5.

Ambro Flight, entering the Hambletonian with a winning string of 22 starts, captured the third heat by a head over Egyptian Candor in 2:03 4-5.

The only filly in the starting field of 11, Ambro Flight, is owned by the Armstrong brothers of Brampton, Ont., and driven by Joe O'Brien.

Roseboro In Suit Against Marichal

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Catcher John Roseboro of the Los Angeles Dodgers has filed a $110,000 damage suit against the San Francisco Giants and their star pitcher, Juan Marichal, who clubbed Roseboro with a baseball bat Aug. 22.

Roseboro's attorney, Leo Branton Jr., said in Los Angeles that a complaint has been filed in Superior Court against Marichal and the Giants seeking $10,000 in general damages and $100,000 in exemplary and punitive damages.

He said the suit avers that Marichal "did without provocation commit assault and battery against the plaintiff with a deadly weapon, that Roseboro was severely injured and was caused pain and suffering."

Roseboro, in Pittsburgh for the Dodgers' series against the Pirates, said in a statement Wednesday night he brought suit for "the unprovoked attack made upon me at Candlestick Park . . ." Marichal opened a two-inch gash on Roseboro's head in the explosive brawl. Roseboro said, "My decision to take this action is due not only to the brutal attack upon my person, but, just as important, is due to the fact that some severe action should be taken against a man who not only set a bad example for millions of baseball fans throughout the world, but apparently from recent statements has attempted to defend and justify his outrageous conduct."

Marichal, in Philadelphia where his first scheduled start since the incident was washed out, declined comment except to say, "I wish I had that much, half that much, quarter that much."

President Warren Giles of the National League suspended Marichal for eight playing days, fined him $1,750 and ordered him to stay out of Los Angeles for the Giants' last trip there Monday and Tuesday.

Cincy U. Coach Lauds Squad's Hustle, Spirit

CINCINNATI (AP) — "There was tremendous hustle and spirit, and we got a lot accomplished for first day," Coach Chuck Studley said Wednesday after the first day's workout by the University of Cincinnati football team, which hopes to retain its Missouri Valley Conference title.

He said there will be some problems because of the dismissal of sophomore fullback Clem Turner and junior end Marvin Godfrey, dropped from the squad after police charged them with tending to cause the delinquency of two minor girls.

Playoffs Will Open On Friday

By The Associated Press

With the end of the International League season, Columbus, Atlanta, Toronto, and Syracuse are poised for the first round of the playoffs beginning Friday.

Columbus, which won the pennant by 2½ games over Atlanta and 3½ over Toronto, meets Syracuse on its home field Friday while Toronto and Atlanta play at Atlanta. The best-of-7 playoffs shift to Toronto and Syracuse after three games.

In Wednesday's final regular season games, Columbus won the first game 4-1 before losing the nightcap of a doubleheader to Atlanta 4-2, Syracuse outlasted Toledo 6-3 in 13 innings, and Rochester provided Buffalo with its 96th loss of the season 4-1.

In the first game, Columbus bunched a homer by Jose Martinez, triples by George Springgs and Purn Goldy, and a double by Martinez into the third and fourth inning to account for all their runs.

Morrall Set To Start In Lions Game

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns will take a good look at the New York Giants Saturday when the Giants play the Detroit Lions in the first game of the fourth annual Pro Football Doubleheader.

The National Football League champion Browns play the Green Bay Packers in the second game, but don't face the Western Division club during the regular season. They do, however, play the Giants twice and Coach Allie Sherman has quarterback Earl Morrall ready for action.

Morrall was acquired from the Lions in a trade Monday.

The Packers, meanwhile have been working extra hard for their game against the Browns. Coach Vince Lombardi ordered a 15-minute scrimmage Wednesday in Green Bay, the drill apparently triggered by the Packers' failure to score a touchdown in last Saturdays 21-12 loss to the Dallas Cowboys.

Sweepstakes Set In N. Hampshire

SALEM, N.H. (AP) — The New Hampshire Sweepstakes Classic, its value doubled over 1964, will be raced for the second time at Rockingham Park Saturday with five rich payoffs awaiting the outcome of the 1¼ mile race.

Four of the payoffs will be for $100,000 each and the fifth for $183,118 if the names of the 11 expected starters are dropped into the entry box today.

The $100,000 payoffs will go the holders of the sweepstakes tickets on the first horse across the finish line. The big one is what the owner of the winning horse will take home as a reward for sending his thoroughbred to America's richest 3-year-old race at this picturesque track in the foothills of the White Mountains.

Kelley, Latshutak Are Buck Cocaptains

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University's football team has selected linebacker Ike Kelley and end Greg Lashutka as cocaptains of the 1965 squad.

The two were selected by their teammates Wednesday after rain forced the team into French Fieldhouse for its initial practice sessions. Fifty - eight candidates turned out.

'PICK' ROLLEY
Returns To Alma Mater.

'Pick' Rolley Named Tiger Jayvee Coach

Ray (Pick) Rolley is returning to Wellsville High School as an assistant basketball coach. Supt. Lowell Myers said Rolley will be recommended for the position at the next Board of Education meeting Sept. 13.

Rolley is one of Wellsville High's all - time scorers and gained all-Ohio and all-Eastern Ohio honors while performing for the Tigers.

The 26-year-old coach is replacing Charles (Chick) McMillan who was named head mentor at Northwest High School in Stark County.

Rolley was head coach at Westgate Junior High School last season guiding the Wildcats to a Junior High tournament championship. He had been an assistant at Westgate for two years.

After graduating from Wellsville in 1957, Rolley went on to play college basketball at Adrian (Mich.) College and was named captain in his senior season.

He is married and the Rolley's have two children.

Rolley will teach mathematics at Wellsville.

NOW THERE IS A TOTALLY NEW WAY TO PURCHASE YOUR FAMILY'S FOOD

PUT A SUPERMARKET IN YOUR HOME

Enjoy quantity prices on guaranteed quality foods—delivered to your door!

Town and Country Food Service lets you shop tomorrow's way today! Few would have dreamed, a few short years ago, that good retailing techniques could advance beyond the modern supermarket, with its speedy self - service and mass volume prices.

Yet Town and Country has made such an advance — by bringing the supermarket to your home. And economists predict that this is the wave of the future.

What Town and Country service means to you. Imagine having a freezer full of guaranteed quality meats, fruits, and vegetables always at your fingertips! Imagine treating your family to U.S. Choice steaks, chops, roasts, more often; serving favorite fruits and vegetables out of season; planning exciting meals each day . . . without setting foot outside your door!

That's the unique promise of the Town and Country Distributor Food Service in your community. Town and Country supplies food in bulk, at quantity savings, along with a deluxe family-size commercial grade freezer? We'll stock it for you — and you pay even less. You order only the foods you want, delivered three of four times a year in Lo-Temp trucks from strategically located warehouses.

Now you do months of marketing in minutes! No more wearying waits in long check-out lines. No more fighting weather, towing children, struggling with heavy bundles. Town and Country puts more hours in your day for family, friends, community work — and the hundreds of things you'd rather do than market.

Now you feed your family guaranteed quality foods. All meats are government inspected U.S. Choice (the very cuts you'd choose yourself) trimmed of waste, properly aged to the peak of tenderness, then flash-frozen to seal in natural juices. All fruits and vegetables are whisked to the freezer plant within two hours of picking to insure garden freshness. And Town and Country guarantees every morsel!

Now you are always meals ahead! Humdrum menus are out. With a vast variety of foods to choose from, you'll never again worry about "what to have for dinner" — even when unexpected guests drop in.

Paul Caught 52 Passes In '64

Without Warfield, Ryan Looking For New Targets At Cleveland

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland's hopes of repeating as National Football League champions suffered a body blow in the College All-Star game when Paul Warfield, the Browns' leaping split end, was put out of action for 10 weeks with a broken collar bone.

Warfield's loss was a severe handicap to the Browns because the former Ohio State athlete caught 52 passes last year and gave the club an outside threat on the opposite side of the line from flanker Gary Collins. No longer could the opposition key on Collins as the chief air threat and Jim Brown as the entire ground game.

Little Walter Roberts, the 5-10, 163-pound "flea" from San Jose State, has been doing an exceptional job filling in for Warfield in the exhibition games. Coach Blanton Collier has been using both Roberts and 6-2 Clifton McNeil at split end and also has used McNeil behind Collins at flanker.

But Warfield or no Warfield, the heart of the Cleveland ball club still is Jim Brown. The 29-year-old fullback, who has led the league in rushing in seven of his eight years in pro ball, is ready for another big season.

Ernie Green came on strong last year as a running mate for J.B. and Leroy Kelly has been running strong behind Green.

Warfield, of course, is the key receiver for Frank Ryan, the much-maligned quarterback who came into his own last season with 25 touchdown passes.

Ryan's chief targets are Warfield and Collins with an occasional flip to tight end Johnny Brewer. Brown, of course, is a prime target on the screen pass. Roberts, McNeil and Tom Hutchinson back up the regulars.

If anything happens to Ryan, Collier has Jim Ninowski, a seasoned veteran who probably could be No. 1 on several NFL clubs.

The offensive line that does such a good job of keeping defenders off Ryan's back is composed of Dick Schafrath and Monte Clarke at the tackles, John Wooten and Gene Hickerson at guards and John Morrow at center.

Collier hopes to get some rookie help for the older members of his defensive line from rookies Jim Garcia of Purdue and Walter Johnson of Los Angeles State. Paul Wiggin, 30, and Bill Glass, 30, at the ends and Dick Modzelewski, 34, at one tackle have a little age. Jim Kanicki, the other tackle, is only 23.

Vince Costello, middle linebacker, is 32, and Galen Fiss, the right side man, is 34 but Jim Houston on the left is only 27. Dale Lindsey, rookie from Western Kentucky, has impressed.

Mike Howell, brother of Lane Howell of Philadelphia, has been battling the veteran Bernie Parrish for the left corner job in the deep defense. Howell is a former quarterback from Grambling. Walt Beach will man the other corner and Ross Fichtner and Larry Benz will be the safety men.

Of course, 41-year-old Lou Groza, starting his 19th year as a pro, will kick points and field goals adding to his record scoring total in every game. Collins will punt.

Nixon Arrives In Viet To Appraise Situation

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon arrived in Saigon today for what he called a "first hand appraisal of the situation in South Viet Nam."

Nixon reiterated that he supports President Johnson's policy in Viet Nam. There is no choice but to "punish aggression," he said.

The first patent issued in the United States was to John Ruggles in 1836 for his invention of a device to increase the power of railroad locomotives and to prevent their wheels from sliding.

Waterford Employe Seeks To Have Suspension Lifted

CHARLESTON (AP) — A Waterford Park race track employe suspended after taking part in a strike has launched a West Virginia Supreme Court proceeding to have the suspension lifted.

William R. Thoburn, who was employed as an outrider at the horse track near Newell, filed the proceeding against the Waterford Park Board of Stewards and the State Racing Commission. His petition related:

As a member of Teamsters Local 412, he honored a picket line set up when the union called a strike against the track July 19 and has continued to honor it.

On July 27, the Waterford stewards, acting on behalf of the Racing Commission, suspended Thoburn and nine other men. The ground given was alleged violation of a commission rule covering conditions of employment. Thoburn's petition said the action had the effect of suspending the men from all tracks in the state.

The petition said that the action was taken without notice or a chance for Thoburn to be heard and that the commission so far has failed to grant a hearing on a protest which he filed July 30.

Alleging that the Board of Stewards exceeded its authority, Thoburn asked the Supreme Court to require the stewards and the commission to show cause why they should not be prohibited from continuing the suspension and why it should not be vacated.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING — Jim Maloney, Reds, completed 7-6, 2-0 doubleheader sweep by blanking Milwaukee on five hits as Cincinnati took over the National League lead by one percentage point over Los Angeles.

BATTING — Tony Oliva, Twins, returned to line-up after a week's absence and stroked two doubles and a single as Minnesota downed Detroit 5-2 and increased its American League lead to eight games.

Broken Toes Shelve OU's Star Fullback

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Two broken toes have sidelined Wash Lyons, Ohio University's hard-running fullback. A team spokesman said the football star probably will miss the season opener with West Texas State Sept. 18.

Lyons, who led the Mid-American Conference in rushing last season as a sophomore, broke the toes in an industrial accident July 19 in Ashtabula, his home town.

Youngstown Concern Dropping Lake Sales

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)— A Youngstown firm has agreed to discontinue sales in Lake County after authorities dropped complaints of false advertising by the firm, Blind Associates, Inc.

County Prosecutor Fred V. Skok said Wednesday solicitors had falsely advertised products in a telephone sales campaign as being made by and for the benefit of blind persons.

Palmer Picked To Win Oklahoma City Open

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Two-time winner Arnold Palmer was the man to beat today as a 145-man field teed off for the seventh annual $65,000 Oklahoma City Open Golf Tournament.

The defending champion, Palmer last year toured the 7,098-yard, par 72 Quail Creek course in a spectacular 277, a record 11 strokes under par. He also won here in 1959.

Palmer and Howie Johnson tied for pro honors with 68s in Wednesday's pro-amateur event.

Death Trap

Milkweed is one of the handsomest of wild flowers, but it is a death trap to visiting insects.

In summer, the red, orange and purplish fires of its flowers are spread across most of the United States east of the Rockies. Nearly every Easterner is familiar with milkweed's fragrance, the milky juice that oozes from broken stems and the wondrous pods filled with silken threads.

The nectar - laden blossoms provide a feast for insects. But a heavy duty is exacted. Small flies, wasps, bees and ants often lose their lives to the ruthless host.

The milkweed flower is intricately designed to ensure cross-pollination of the species. To get at the nectar, an insect must become entangled in sticky, heavy masses of pollen. To escape, the insect must be strong enough to pull free and carry a sizable load of pollen to the stigma of the next flower visited.

Though the common milkweed kills some insects, the so-called butterfly milkweed, a different species, feeds and shelters a migrant butterfly, the monarch. Monarchs can be found wherever this milkweed grows.

Soccer Exhibition Set At Columbiana

Columbiana Jaycees are sponsoring a soccer exhibition at Firestone Stadium, Saturday at 8 p.m.

Cleveland West Side Hungarian Club will meet the Akron German - American Club. The two teams met in the Aug. 8 exhibition here, sponsored by the Columbiana Jaycees and Cleveland won the first contest 9-4.

All tickets sold for the first game, and not used, will be honored Saturday night. There is no advance sale for this game. Tickets of $1.25 for adults and $.75 for students will be sold at the gate.

Ervin Nowicki, Jaycee chairman will play for Akron as will Ohio State University varsity soccer player Perry Kyser of New Springfield.

Senate Warns AAU, NCAA To Settle Fuss

WASHINGTON (AP) — The wrangling bosses of U.S. amateur track and field affairs have been told by the Senate Commerce Committee to arrange peace terms within a week or Congress will be asked to settle the dispute for them.

To a man the committee members hope Congress can sit on the sidelines and watch peace descend, but none predicts this will happen.

At war over jurisdictional matters are the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) and the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

Beagle Club Slates Field Trial Sunday

The East Liverpool Beagle Club will sponsor an open sanction trial Sunday at the clubhouse in Glenmoor, Wayne Harpold, president, announced.

Ten tropheys will be given away during the competition, with meals being served by the auxiliary.

Harpold said all entrants must be registered by 8 Sunday morning.

North Viet Like Gambler

Its Regime Reaching For An Ace Up Sleeve

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

In this important anniversary week for North Viet Nam, its regime acts like a gambler reaching for the ace up his sleeve—the potential for trouble among influential Buddhists and intellectuals in South Viet Nam.

The North's propaganda hammers at this restlessness in an obvious attempt to activate and enlarge a political warfront in the South's cities, thus "attacking the enemy's rear" in support of Communist forces.

The success of the effort would depend upon the extent to which Communist agents have infiltrated and influenced the South's restive elements.

Exactly 20 years ago, Sept. 2, 1945, Ho Chi Minh appeared in Hanoi's Ba Dinh Square and proclaimed a "Democratic Republic of Viet Nam." The event heralded two decades of warfare in Indochina.

In many Western eyes at the time, "Uncle Ho" was a nationalist patriot and reformer, a fighter against the Japanese wartime occupation and against the returning French colonial power. Today, North Vietnamese propaganda describes Ho's strategy of that time as "clever association of the experiences of the Russian October revolution and those of the Chinese revolution."

North Viet Nam's Communists call the events leading to the Sept. 2 proclamation "the August revolution." A little more than a week ago they directed propaganda appeals to their collaborators and sympathizers in the South to adopt the same tactics.

It may be just coincidence, but the past week brought a rash of demonstrations in the South similar to the one in Hue over the weekend involving 3,000 Buddhists and another at Da Nang, where the U.S Marines have their most important base. There are also evidences of resurgent student restlessness in Saigon.

Hanoi's propaganda urges Communists and their sympathizers to exploit all possibilities, "political, military, economic and cultural."

Like Mao Tze-tung's Communist revolution in China, the Vietnamese one began in rural areas. Hanoi's spokesmen say the Viet Cong now control four-fifths of the countryside and 10 million people. Thus, they find it is time to bring the war to the cities in whatever forms possible.

Desertions From South Viet Forces Drop, Pentagon Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rate of desertions from South Viet Nam's armed forces has dropped by more than half from a high point early this year, Pentagon sources disclosed today.

This is considered a hopeful sign, possibly indicating an upswing in South Vietnamese morale and a rising confidence in the non-Communist cause.

The Pentagon refused to discuss the desertion rate. But knowledgeable sources said it is now down below 5,000 a month.

About 10,000 men a month were pulling out of the South Vietnamese armed forces for about three months early this year.

Although the desertion rate has been cut by more than half, it still represents a heavy drain on a force already stretched so thin that the U.S. troop commitment in Viet Nam has had to be increased heavily.

The desertion problem makes much tougher the job of building the South Vietnamese armed forces by another 100,000 men. The present strength stands at about 545,000.

U.S. authorities are hopeful that higher pay and reforms aimed at improving the lot of soldiers and their families will lower the desertion rate further.

Also, the national police are being strengthened, in part, to cope with the desertions from the armed forces.

U.S. officials said most desertions have been from part-time regional and home guard elements, rather than from the regular army.

The Virgin Islands were discovered by Christopher Columbus during his second voyage to the New World in 1493. He named them Las Virginies, in honor of St. Ursula and her 11,000 martyr companions who, according to the legend, perished on the banks of the Rhine.

MAPPING PLANS for the campaign are Dr. Janis Lauva, left, chairman, and Bill Miller, co-chairman and head of the publicity committee, of the new Citizens Committee For Better School organized at Wellsville Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Will Promote Building Program

Citizens' Group Formed To Aid Wellsville Schools

A Citizens Committee For Better Schools has been formed at Wellsville to promote a building program and proposed bond issue which will be submitted to voters at a special election Sept. 21.

Dr. Janis Lauva, vice president of the Board of Education, agreed to serve as chairman of the committee during a public organization meeting Wednesday night in the visual education room of the Daw School. Sixty - five attended.

Bill Miller will serve as co-chairman and head the publicity committee.

AFTER BEING welcomed by Supt. Lowell Myers, those present were given various financial facts and figures. Dr. Lauva reviewed the action of the board in applying to the Ohio Board of Education for aid in the building program.

It calls for the state to provide $333,938 and the school district $860,000. The district will vote on its share of the cost at the special election.

Dr. Lauva pointed out that the junior high would be moved to the MacDonald building, Garfield and McKinley schools would be eliminated and a new 600-pupil elementary building constructed in the downtown area, with a 180-pupil addition and other improvements at Fairview School, along with the renovation of the high school.

A 45-minute question - and - answer period followed. The most concern was expressed by part of the representation from MacDonald PTA. The parents questioned transporting part of the children of that district by bus to the Fairview School.

It was pointed out that this was called for in the state proposal. In the eyes of the state, it was explained, this is the logical place to build because it is felt the growth of the city will be in Hillcrest and Russell Heights areas.

Asked where the downtown school will be located, officials informed the group that any site named must be approved by the state.

IT WAS announced the Board of Education and City Council has met in caucus session to discuss the possibility of "trading" the city for Harmon Park Field between 16th and 17th St. for land where the present Garfield School is located. Council indicated that a satisfactory arrangement can be made.

The board said this site would be centrally located and every youngster could walk to school.

Raymond Rolley, board clerk, presented figures on the cost of the property owners of the community. On a home that sells for $10,000 in Wellsville, the property is listed on the tax duplicate at Lisbon for $3,600. Most property is on the duplicate for 40 per cent of its actual value and in Wellsville this is reduced another 10 per cent.

The total mills paid in Wellsville for all purposes is 36.2. Presently, the home owner on a $10,000 home is paying $130.32 per year. With the new proposal, the first year the owner would pay an additional $21.60. This would decrease each year as the bonds were retired. On the average, it would be $17.14 yearly or $1.43 per month.

Wellsville spends $382.20 per pupil each year. Comparisons offered were Stanton Local $769.01; East Liverpool, $399.60; Southern Local, $387.57; Beaver Local, $326.71; Lisbon, $397.19; Toronto, $460.08, and Salem, $471.45.

On bond indebtedness, Wellsville has $300,000. Other school districts listed were Salem, $1,812,000; East Liverpool, $4,665,000; Lisbon, $638,437; Southern Local, $423,000; Beaver Local, $819,000.

WELLSVILLE ranks next to the bottom in tax valuation per pupil. In comparing district millages, the Wellsville school district has 25.5 and will be voting on 3 mills for operating expenses and the bond issue; Stanton Local has 12.85; Salem 27.20 and voting on an additional 2.80; Toronto 21.35; East Liverpool, 25.90, which will be increased next year to retire bonds, plus voting on 3.5 more; Lisbon 26 now but rising to an even 30 with a new issue passed; Southern Local 23.60, and voting on 3 more.

Groups and organizations represented were Knights of Columbus Council 507, VFW Post 9285, VFW Post 5647, the Auxiliary of VFW Post 9285, Fairview, Garfield, McKinley MacDonald and Daw PTAs, American Legion Post 70 and its Auxiliary, Wellsville Women's Civic Club, Masonic Lodge 180, the United Brick and Clayworkers Local of the H. K. Porter Co., Band Parents, Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis Club, Greater Wellsville Association, Hammond Park Commission, the Wesco Manufacturing Co., Jaycees, Jaycee-ettes, Rebekah Lodge, Republican Club, Lady Elks, and the Auxiliary of Eagles Lodge 772.

Dr. Lauva urged residents to eliminate any bias feelings that might exist and look to the good for all children. He pointed to the bad condition of Garfield and McKinley Schools and said the building program would assure all first - class schools in the city. He said whenever changes are made they will affect some people adversely, but that the overall good must be considered.

Luster Retires At Crucible After Serving For 16 Years

Noah P. Luster of Ohio View has retired, effective yesterday, at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., where he was staff assistant of special projects in the Cold Strip Department of the Flat Rolled Products Division.

He was employed 16 years at the Midland Works, starting in 1949 as turn foreman in the Cold Strip - Rolling Department. He was promoted to general foreman in 1955 and to staff assistant early in August this year.

He has been employed in the steel industry 40 years and was a former night superintendent of cold rolling for the McLouth Steel Co. of Detroit.

Luster, first president of the Crucible Management Club, resigned from the club's Board of Directors last month due to retirement. He was chairman of the steering committee which organized the club in 1961 and served as club president and chairman of the Board of Directors from 1962 to 1965. He was instrumental in organizing the Club's bowling and golf leagues.

He is a member and past president of the Industry Volunteer Fire Department and is a member of the Industry Borough fire-police detail.

A candidate for Industry Borough Council in November, he is a member of St. Christine's Church in Industry.

Man Who Searched Jungles In Viet For Brother Returns

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Dawson, who searched the jungles of South Viet Nam in vain for 10 months to find his brother dead or alive, returned home to a dry-eyed reunion, saying he just wants "to go back to work to support my family."

Dawson, 28, was met at the airport Wednesday night by his wife, Jeanne, 27. They had only a moment's privacy before facing newsmen. They obliged cameramen with a long kiss.

Dawson, skipper of an oil survey ship before he left for Asia late last year, said he spent $3,000 in the search, but failed to find his brother, Army Lt. Daniel Dawson, 27, a spotter plane pilot who disappeared over enemy territory last Nov. 6.

During his search, Dawson was held for four months in a Viet Cong prison camp, was stricken with malaria, then finally released after the Communists told him his brother was dead.

"I finally convinced them that my one wish was to have my brother's remains with me when I left. It was hell, but it was worthwhile. My brother would have done the same thing for me, and I would do it again," Dawson said.

His wife agreed: "I feel it was worthwhile," but added: "I'm glad that he is home."

On his failure to return with his brother's remains, Dawson said: "I don't consider that this is a finished story. When the war is over, I've got to go back, and they (the guerrillas) will take me to my brother's grave.

"In the meantime, I've got to go back to work to support my family."

Ports Bill Offered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., has introduced a bill that would close American ports to any foreign vessel that carried a cargo to North Viet Nam.

According to motor accident statistics, the front seat to the right of the driver is the "most dangerous" position in a car—more than 80 per cent of all accident injuries being sustained by the person occupying that seat.

Rev. Code, Sec. 345.03; 3501.11(G); 5705.191, 5705.25

NOTICE is hereby given that in pursuance of a Resolution of the Board of Township Trustees of Liverpool Township, Columbiana County, Ohio, passed on the 13th day of August, 1965, there will be submitted to a vote of the people of said Liverpool Township at a GENERAL ELECTION to be held in Liverpool Township, Columbiana County, Ohio, at the regular places of voting therein, on Tuesday, the 2nd day of November, 1965, the question of levying a tax, in excess of the ten mill limitation, for the benefit of Liverpool Township for the purpose of providing an adequate amount for police protection in said township.

Said tax being an additional tax of One and one-half (1½) mills to run for Five (5) Years at a rate not exceeding One and one-half (1½) mills for each one dollar of valuation, which amounts to Fifteen Cents ($0.15) for each one hundred dollars of valuation, for each of the tax years 1965, 1966, 1967, 1968 and 1969, including a levy upon the tax duplicate of the current year.

The Polls for said Election will be open at 6:30 o'clock A. M. and remain open until 6:30 o'clock P. M. Eastern Standard Time of said day.

By order of the Board of Elections of Columbiana County, Ohio.
C. L. Stacey, Chairman
Frank R. O'Hanlon, Clerk

NOW THERE IS A TOTALLY NEW WAY
TO PURCHASE YOUR FAMILY'S FOOD
PUT A SUPERMARKET IN YOUR HOME
Enjoy quantity prices on guaranteed quality foods—delivered to your door!

Town and Country Food Service lets you shop tomorrow's way today! Few would have dreamed, a few short years ago, that good retailing techniques could advance beyond the modern supermarket, with its speedy self - service and mass volume prices.

Yet Town and Country has made such an advance — by bringing the supermarket to your home. And economists predict that this is the wave of the future.

What Town and Country service means to you. Imagine having a freezer full of guaranteed quality meats, fruits, and vegetables always at your fingertips! Imagine treating your family to U.S. Choice steaks, chops, roasts, more often; serving favorite fruits and vegetables out of season; planning exciting meals each day . . . without setting foot outside your door!

That's the unique promise of the Town and Country Distributor Food Service in your community. Town and Country supplies food in bulk, at quantity savings, along with a deluxe family-size commercial grade freezer? We'll stock it for you — and you pay even less. You order only the foods you want, delivered three of four times a year in Lo-Temp trucks from strategically located warehouses.

Now you do months of marketing in minutes! No more wearying waits in long check-out lines. No more fighting weather, towing children, struggling with heavy bundles. Town and Country puts more hours in your day for family, friends, community work — and the hundreds of things you'd rather do than market.

Now you feed your family guaranteed quality foods. All meats are government inspected U.S. Choice (the very cuts you'd choose yourself) trimmed of waste, properly aged to the peak of tenderness, then flash-frozen to seal in natural juices. All fruits and vegetables are whisked to the freezer plant within two hours of picking to insure garden freshness. And Town and Country guarantees every morsel!

Now you are always meals ahead! Humdrum menus are out. With a vast variety of foods to choose from, you'll never again worry about "what to have for dinner" — even when unexpected guests drop in.

Junior Editors Quiz on FLOWERS

QUESTION: What makes a flower smell?

ANSWER: First, what is the purpose back of a flower's fragrance? The smell of a flower and its color are guideposts leading certain insects toward them in order to obtain food in the shape of pollen and nectar. While gathering this food, the insects help to pollinate the flowers, a process necessary in order for seeds to develop and grow into new plants. Not all flowers are fragrant, because many flowers are pollinated in other ways, such as by the wind, and so do not need to attract insect visitors.

The fragrance in flowers is due to the presence of essential oils, complex substances contained in tiny sacs. These are thought to be formed in the green parts of the plant, then transferred. These oils are volatile—the fragrance can drift off into the air. They are found in many flower petals, but also occur in the leaves of lavender and rosemary, both stems and leaves of geranium and cinnamon, the bark of cinnamon and cassia, the wood of cedar and the fruits of orange and lemon. Extracting the fragrant oil from flowers is very complicated. But through distillation and other processes, essential oils are taken from flowers to be used in the making of perfume.

FOR YOU TO DO: Smell a lemon as if it were a flower. You will be surprised at the delicate, flower-like scent.

Junior Editors Quiz on FLOWERS

QUESTION: What makes a flower smell?

ANSWER: First, what is the purpose back of a flower's fragrance? The smell of a flower and its color are guideposts leading certain insects toward them in order to obtain food in the shape of pollen and nectar. While gathering this food, the insects help to pollinate the flowers, a process necessary in order for seeds to develop and grow into new plants. Not all flowers are fragrant, because many flowers are pollinated in other ways, such as by the wind, and so do not need to attract insect visitors.

The fragrance in flowers is due to the presence of essential oils, complex substances contained in tiny sacs. These are thought to be formed in the green parts of the plant, then transferred. These oils are volatile—the fragrance can drift off into the air. They are found in many flower petals, but also occur in the leaves of lavender and rosemary, both stems and leaves of geranium and cinnamon, the bark of cinnamon and cassia, the wood of cedar and the fruits of orange and lemon. Extracting the fragrant oil from flowers is very complicated. But through distillation and other processes, essential oils are taken from flowers to be used in the making of perfume.

FOR YOU TO DO: Smell a lemon as if it were a flower. You will be surprised at the delicate, flower-like scent.
